Senate OKs $4.7 Billion In Education

Scholarship Funds For Needy Students Slated Under Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4.7-billion higher education bill with funds for federal scholarships for needy college students has cleared the Senate by a 79-3 vote.

Sponsors of the far-reaching measure were astonished at the vote. Only three Southern Democrats, Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis of Mississippi and A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, were recorded against the bill.

It won the votes of 54 Democrats and 25 Republicans, while 15 of the absent senators were announced in favor.

The vote sent the legislation to conference with the House which passed it in different form last week. Managers say they are confident of an agreement with little difficulty.

The final version may exceed the first-year totals in both Senate and House bills. The House, sponsors say, probably will go along with Senate provisions to set up a National Teacher Corps and a program of grants to colleges to buy audio-visual equipment, while the Senate probably will accept bigger increases voted by the House for federal grants for college classroom construction.

Senate passage settles a long controversy over establishment of a federal scholarship program.

Different versions of the program are in both bills, so the final product is certain to contain some form of scholarships.

Senators interested in education legislation have won passage of this kind of aid for many years only to see the House kill it.

The Senate scholarship plan, which closely follows President Johnson's recommendation, would provide payments expected to average $500 each to about 140,000 needy students in the first year.

Police Hunt Trio After Holdup Of Bank In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Police in Eastern Ohio worked today to pick up the trail of three men who threatened 18 persons with pistols, rifled four tellers' cages at a branch of the Union Savings & Trust Co. and fled with $68,621.

The men, unmasked, entered by the front and rear doors of the bank about five minutes before closing time. They ordered seven bank employes and six customers to lie face down on the floor while they forced two tellers to turn over the cash in their cages.

Two other customers and a bank messenger who came in while the holdup was in progress were herded into a vault and the door slammed, but it did not lock.

Bank officials set the amount of money stolen after an audit. The same branch back was robbed of $32,000 by three men two years ago, and those robbers were caught and sent to prison.

Police said they found no one who saw the men flee, presumably by automobile.

Since Draft Boost Order

Armed Forces' Enlistments Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voluntary enlistments in the armed services have jumped since President Johnson ordered a sharp boost in the draft, it was learned today.

Figures for August — the first full month since the President's action — indicate a gain for all the forces.

Marines reported a 20 per cent increase, the Army a 19 per cent rise. Both the Navy and the Air Force said they expected to go well beyond their goals for the month when final reports are in.

The draft always has served as a prod for young men to sign up with the service of their choice.

Voluntary enlistments had lagged, particularly in the Army and Navy, until Johnson announced on July 28 that Selective Service goals would be doubled to about 35,000 a month as part of the military buildup growing out of the war in Viet Nam.

In data made available to the AP, the Army reported that 10,821 youths enrolled voluntarily in August — an increase of 1,743 over July. This brought the Army to 96.3 per cent of its enlistment objective for August.

The Navy said that "recruiting appears to be on the upswing throughout the nation."

It said "a definite increase in Navy enlistments has been noted since the President's speech regarding draft calls, the larger commitment of armed forces to Viet Nam, and the recently signed military pay bill."

The Navy predicted that its goal of 11,694 recruits for August will be topped by more than 1,000 men.

For the first time in nine years, the Navy will draw on the draft next month. It is scheduled to get 4,500 men by that route.

If the enlistment trend continues, the Navy may be able again to rely entirely on volunteers before long.

In reporting their increase in enlistments, the Marines said it was "not necessarily because of the announced draft increase." The corps did not cite any other reason, beyond saying the rise "reflects increased requirements."

The corps provided no actual numbers, limiting itself to listing a 20 per cent gain.

The Air Force said it expects to top its August enlistment quota of 15,499 men and voiced confidence it will fill its 13,799-man quota for September.

In July, which was virtually at an end by the time Johnson announced the draft rise, the Air Force enrolled nearly 2,000 more young men than the 9,500 it had planned for that month.

Negotiators Seen 5 To 6 Cents Apart

Johnson's Pressing For Break Today In Emergency Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel negotiators pushed nearer a settlement today after the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union reduced its wage demands for the first time since President Johnson brought the talks to the White House.

Johnson pressed for a major breakthrough in the emergency negotiations today and a source inside the closely guarded talks said "there's a good chance" he will get it.

But union and industry negotiators, facing a strike deadline at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, were reported still 5 to 6 cents apart — a matter of millions of dollars a year in labor costs to the industry.

The union chipped off about 1½ cents from its demands, bringing the total down to slightly more than 48 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits spread over three years, said the source inside the talks.

The industry earlier had boosted its offer by nearly 2½ cents to a package of about 43 cents, informed sources said.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 per hour in wages and fringe benefits.

Johnson, frustrated in his hope to fly to his Texas ranch Thursday night with at least a tentative agreement in hand, remained here awaiting a progress report from a session beginning at 8 a.m.

"I asked them to come back with a report no later than 11 a.m.," Johnson told newsmen after a 15-hour continuous session broke up at 1 a.m. today.

Earlier, Johnson urged the negotiators to reach a settlement before Labor Day and told them that even a short strike could be more harmful to the nation's economy than a long recession.

90-Day Term Given Man As Drunk Driver

West End Resident Gets Stiff Penalty Following Crash

A 38-year-old West End man was given a 90-day County Jail term — one of the stiffest penalties ever handed down in Municipal Court in such a case —when he pleaded guilty today before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of driving while intoxicated as the aftermath of an auto mishap Thursday on Walnut St.

James H. Corbett, 840 Fairview St., also was fined $200 and costs and given a two-year suspension of his operator's permit.

Defendants in similar cases usually get a City Jail term ranging from five to 10 days and a license suspension of up to six months.

Corbett was arrested at 9:07 a. m. yesterday after he turned

Reunited With Families

Space Twins Get 'Wild' Welcome

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Four, small rambunctious boys turned a staid homecoming for the Gemini 5 astronauts into a wild, exuberant welcome for their famous father Thursday.

The unabashed joy of the roof-climbing Conrad boys seeing their daddy for the first time in about a month infected the others waiting to greet L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr.

Peter, 10, the oldest, was the first to jump into Conrad's arms. Andrew, 6, and Thomas, 8, who were barefooted because they had got their shoes wet wading through rain puddles, came hurtling through the air into their father's arms next.

Chris, 4, the youngest, tugged at his father's elbow until there was room for him, too.

Cooper's two teen-age daughters, Camala, 16, and Ranita, 15, acted with more lady-like restraint. But their pretty faces beamed at their famous father as they gave him hearty kisses and daughterly hugs.

With his arms full of squeeling boys, Conrad still managed to give his pretty wife, Jane, a big kiss. This set the boys to laughing and pointing at the bright, red lipstick smear. Conrad rubbed the lipstick off to the delight of his sons and photographers.

Newsmen were told to stand back for a few minutes while the astronauts greeted their families in privacy. But with the Conrad boys' rush, the astronauts were soon surrounded by newsmen and well-wishers.

After telling about 200 persons who had braved the showers to see the astronauts at nearby Ellington Field how glad they were to be home, the astronauts got into separate station wagons for the ride to the space center about eight miles away.

The families had dinner in dormitories at Gemini Control. The wives and children went home about two hours later.

Cooper and Conrad stayed behind and started debriefings which will last another six days.

Huge Throng To See Parade In Wellsville

Thousands are expected to line Wellsville streets tonight for the parade being sponsored by the Wellsville fire department and the Jaycees.

The event, which officials say could be the largest in the city's history, is scheduled to move promptly at 7, according to Frank Fusco, chairman.

Included in the line of march will be floats and some 30 girls, riding in convertibles, who are competing for the title of Miss Wellsville Jaycee of 1966.

Bands scheduled to participate are from Wellsville, Beaver Local, Stanton Local and Southern Local High Schools and the Salem American Legion.

Viet's Troops Locate Stocks Of Cong Arms

1,000 Uniforms Found In Wooded Area Near Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese troops found heavy stocks of Viet Cong ammunition and about 1,000 uniforms in a wooded area near Saigon churned up Thursday by a saturation bombing of B52 jets, a U.S. spokesman said today.

A reinforced company scouted the area, 20 miles north-northwest of Saigon, without running into either live opposition or finding guerrilla dead from the bombing. It was evident, however, that this 17th strike of the eight-engine Strategic Air Command craft was on target.

Guerrilla ground fire downed a troop-carrying U.S. Army helicopter on its way to the bombed area. The spokesman said there were no survivors. The number aboard was withheld for security reasons but such craft can carry from 10 to 12 men.

In the Da Nang area, about 1,400 Marines began landing Thursday night as their group commander declared: "We brought all we need to stay and fight."

The Marines, coming off four Navy vessels with their equipment, landed at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang, the big U.S. Air base 380 miles north of Saigon.

A week ago, service rolls showed 29,800 Marines in Viet Nam. The new arrivals, bringing the figure to 31,200, are part of the continuing buildup of Marine forces in the Da Nang area.

Exercises Set For Pughtown Water System

The Pughtown Ruritan Club will sponsor a ground-breaking ceremony Saturday at 4 p.m. in conjunction with the installation of a water system for Pughtown and the surrounding area.

The exercises will take place near the Fairview Grange Hall in Pughtown. In case of inclement weather, they will be held in the hall.

The water system will cost approximately $350,000 and will service some 300 homes at the time of installation, with 200 additional customers possibly joining the system in the near future.

Officials of the Tomlinson Public Service District who have supervised the project pointed out that "it is self-supporting by the water users of the district and no grants have been received from the federal or local governments.

"Six years of community effort have gone into the program and those efforts are finally bearing fruit—with water scheduled to be flowing into the homes by Christmas."

The public is invited to attend the ceremony.

Fiancee's Letter Erased Bitterness

Ambridge Marine Tells Why He Wrote President

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — What prompted a Marine corporal in Viet Nam to write a letter thanking President Johnson for giving him the chance to serve his country?

"I had a pretty good friend, a master sergeant who was killed by the Viet Cong," Marine Cpl. Dennis L. Stefanacci, 21, of Ambridge, Pa., said today.

"At the time it happened I felt I would do anything to make the score even. I wrote my fiancee and expressed my feelings," he told a reporter.

His fiancee, Beverly Westwood, 19, of Pittsburgh, Pa., replied: "I was surprised to see how bitter you are. But, hon, killing VC's (Viet Cong) isn't going to bring your friend back."

"I started to think back," said Stefanacci. "I realized then more than before how much I really loved my country and my God."

Then he wrote the President, thanking him "for giving me the opportunity to serve my country."

Johnson, touched by the letter, suggested Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., the House whip, read it in the House of Representatives. Boggs did Tuesday.

"I can't believe anything happened," said Stefanacci as he got the news of the President's reaction. "It wasn't that good a letter."

Usual Hours To Be Marked For Weekend

While the highways will be jumping, it will be quiet here and in area communities Monday as the Labor Day holiday is observed.

The traditional closings will be in order for most financial institutions, business establishments and municipal and county offices.

The Columbiana County Courthouse at Lisbon will close at the conclusion of business this afternoon and not reopen until Tuesday morning. Similar holiday schedules will prevail at the Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland and the Beaver County Courthouse in Beaver.

The City Hall here also will be closed from Friday afternoon until Tuesday morning.

The County Election Board office on W. 6th St. will suspend operations both Saturday and Monday.

Postal Officials Warn Of Mail Fraud 'Season'

Postal officials are bracing for the rush season on mail fraud.

East Liverpool Postmaster Samuel W. Brown joined with area authorities today in cautioning residents that the onset of autumn usually brings a surge of complaints of swindlers using the mail.

Henry R. Montague, head of postal inspectors, said his department is carrying on an extensive investigation of questionable correspondence schools. He emphasized that there are many legitimate institutions offering scientific or technical training by mail, but noted that the business is plagued by others operating outside and postal laws.

SINCE THE start of the stepped-up investigation by the postal service, more than 130 schools have been checked. "Some have proven to be phonies taking millions of dollars away from hard-working, sincere people who are trying to improve themselves," Montague said. A check of the figures for the last fiscal year shows there were 21 cases before various U.S. attorneys for consideration for prosecution; 12 indictments returned by Federal grand juries against 34 persons; nine cases prosecuted, and 14 persons convicted for operating phony correspondence schools.

Postal inspectors offer four checks to determine if a correspondence school is legitimate or not:

By writing your state Department of Education.

By referring to the National Home Study Council in Washington, D.C.

By writing, calling or visiting a Veterans Administration office.

POSTAL officials are quick to point out that the vast majority of correspondence schools are reputable and provide a valuable service. "It is only the relatively few that are dishonest," Brown said.

But there are many kinds of mail frauds. For example, there are the "song sharks" and the "vanity publishers," as postal inspectors classify two types. The so-called "song sharks" offer writers of music or lyrics help in improving and selling their work. While they usually charge what the traffic will bear, their fees are usually several hundred dollars — for about $5 worth of work.

An investigation by postal inspectors disclosed that there are only two basic ways for an amateur to break into the field and sell his music or lyrics:

Promotion at the local level, by a radio station, for example. If a song goes over in one area, there is a better chance it will be successful nationally.

Approach known publishers personally and ask them to consider your work.

"Vanity publishers" word their advertisements with inuendoes and a combination of truthful statements and misconceptions.

There are many types of mail fraud, just as there are many types of swindlers, but their main aim is the same: fleece unsuspecting persons of their hard earned money.

Postal Officials Warn Of Mail Fraud 'Season'

Postal officials are bracing for the rush season on mail fraud.

East Liverpool Postmaster Samuel W. Brown joined with area authorities today in cautioning residents that the onset of autumn usually brings a surge of complaints of swindlers using the mail.

Henry R. Montague, head of postal inspectors, said his department is carrying on an extensive investigation of questionable correspondence schools. He emphasized that there are many legitimate institutions offering scientific or technical training by mail, but noted that the business is plagued by others operating outside and postal laws.

Committeemen Chosen In Beaver ASC Voting

Thirty committeemen and alternates from the six established "communities" of Beaver County were designated to fill posts on the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees following a public tabulation of mail ballots Thursday by the incumbent county committee, Glenn Campbell, chairman, announced today.

FARMERS elected to the communities, are:

Community 1, Greene, Hanover and Frankfort Townships —Charles A. Shane and Lawrence Searight of Hookstown and John McCoy of Aliquippa, committeemen, and Glenn McDowell of Aliquippa and Joseph Halstead of Hookstown, alternates.

Community 2, Center, Hopewell, Independence, Raccoon, Potter and Shippingport Townships — Guy Moore and Robert Wilson of Hookstown and Clyde McElhaney of Aliquippa, committeemen, and Ruben L. Kelsey and Clarence Hineman of Aliquippa, alternates.

Community 3, Brighton, Industry and Ohio Townships — Lloyd McGaffick of Industry, Sam Burdick of Smiths Ferry and Hugh McLaughlin of Beaver, committeemen, and John Berovich of Industry and Frank Justice of Smiths Ferry, alternates.

Community 4, Big Beaver, South Beaver, Chippewa, Darlington and Patterson Townships — Samuel McRoberts and Ralph Anderson of Enon Valley and D. Purdy McKean of Darlington, committeemen, and Dale Weigle and E. B. Owens of Darlington, alternates.

Community 5, Economy, New Sewickley and Rochester Townships — Leslie Leonberg and Elder Vogel of Rochester and Robert Yeck of Freedom, committeemen, and Robert Musgrave of Freedom and Dale Mase of Rochester, alternates.

Community 6 — Daugherty, Franklin, Marion and North Sewickley Townships — Thomas West and Ray Perkins of Fombell and Oliver Goehring of New Brighton, committeemen, and Lawrence Zeigler and Lee Steffler of Fombell, alternates.

The three committeemen automatically become delegates to the county convention Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. at the ASCS Office in Beaver, where the county committee will be elected. The alternate committeemen are alternates to the convention.

LAST YEAR, some 515 farmers took part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committees, while disbursing a total of $100,750 toward the operation of the programs.

Moreover, 2,835 acres of farmland in Beaver County were improved under the Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing arrangement, whereby about half of the $22,000 needed to finance the improvement came from the participating farmers and the balance from ACP.

Programs which will be administered by the ASC county and community committees include the agricultural conservation program, acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the national wool program, farm storage facility loans and others as assigned by the secretary of agricultural.

Board To Get Ballot Forms

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown is scheduled to certify today to the County Election Board the official form of ballot for three statewide issues on which Ohioans will vote at the Nov. 2 general election.

The form of ballot specifies the exact appearance of the ticket so that it will be standard throughout Ohio, although printing orders will be placed by Election Boards in each of the 88 counties.

Brown's certification was delayed while he awaited the adjournment of the state legislature session earlier in the week. It had been expected the legislature might call for a vote on statewide issues in addition to the three already certified, but no action was taken.

All three questions will be printed on a single combination ballot. The questions, in the order they will appear on the ballot, would: Raise the state sales tax from 3 per cent to 4 per cent; provide for the creation of urban service authorities in cities, townships and counties, and allow the same person to serve as judge of more than one court in counties with less than 40,000 population.

Meanwhile, the board is continuing a campaign to register unqualified East Liverpool electors before the deadline Sept. 22.

The board's office hours will be extended on the last three days to give voters every opportunity to qualify. The hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 20, and Tuesday, Sept. 21, and from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Sept. 22.

Branch registration offices will operate on Sept. 22 only in North Side, Pleasant Heights and East End. Deputy registrars will be on duty from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 5 to 10 p.m.

Crash Hurts City Woman, Daughter, 19

A city woman and her daughter were injured when their car was struck from behind by another auto on Route 7, north of Middleton, Thursday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mrs. Clara Lowers, 54, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. and her daughter, Linda Lowers, 19, were treated at City Hospital following the mishap at 10:15 about 1½ miles south of Route 14.

The Lowers car was rammed from behind by a 1964 coach operated by Virginia Hough, 44, of Lisbon R.D. 3.

The crash demolished the Lowers car and caused moderate damage to the other auto. Officers cited the Lisbon area woman for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Lowers suffered an injury to the right knee, and her daughter received a bruised head and possible neck injury. The other woman suffered a cut of the chin and a nose injury.

Ralph Baxter, 17, of Lisbon R.D. 3 escaped injury when his 1960 roadster veered off Route 7 about two miles north of Route 30 at 7:45 p.m. and struck some small trees.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Malaysian Justice Minister Dato Ismail said today he had no fears of Singapore going Communist and making relations with Malaysia unworkable.

New Mascot Presented Midland Fire-Fighters

Members of the Midland volunteer fire department have a new mascot — a 3-month-old pup.

He was a surprise gift from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. during an appreciation dinner Wednesday night.

Vincent D'Itri of Midland, left, fire chief, is shown with Joseph Scalise of Beaver, division superintendent of employe relations, who made the presentation of the pedigree Dalmation, who appears quite calm about the whole thing.

John P. Strand of Beaver, assistant works manager speaking on behalf of the company, expressed appreciation to the firemen for their willingness and cooperation in answering fire calls and assisting the plant's fire brigade.

A plaque also was presented the firemen by Scalise. It reads: "Midland Volunteer Fire Department, in recognition of meritorious service in the field of fire-fighting, Crucible Steel Co. of America, Midland Works, Sept. 1, 1965." Most of the firemen are employes at the Midland Works.

Among those attending for the company were Capt. William H. MacBurney of East Liverpool, chief of plant and fire protection, and A. L. Breakiron of Ohioville Borough, superintendent of community relations.

Firemen from both Midland fire companies and their wives attended the dinner held at the Crucible Management Club in Industry. Sixty were present. Music for dancing was provided by the Leo Curto Trio.

left off E. 5th St. onto Walnut St. and collided with a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Paul Schleiter, 48, of 727 Minerva St., causing $800 to $900 damage to the parked vehicle.

Judge Chertoff commented that he was shocked to find the defendant was drunk "at 9 o'clock in the morning and on his way to work."

"School starts next Wednesday and if it is not safe on our city's streets at 9 o'clock in the morning how are those youngsters going to walk to school?" the judge said in a lecture to Corbett.

"When a man gets drunk at 9 in the morning and then says he is on his way to work, it is too much for me to understand," the judge added.

Corbett told the court he was en route to his job as a truck driver for a furniture store. Patrolman William A. Devon, who investigated the crash, told the judge Corbett was "very intoxicated."

"We are approaching the Labor Day weekend, in which 500 to 600 Americans will be killed on the highways," the judge told Corbett. "Fellows like you will cause at least 50 per cent of those deaths. This has to stop. I'm going to do something I've never done before to keep you off the streets." Then he pronounced sentence.

Another East Liverpool man was arrested shortly before noon yesterday, also on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, but his hearing was delayed because he later was hospitalized.

The patrolman said his attention was called to Caplinger by an unidentified motorist who said he had seen a car driving erratically in East End.

At 5:45 p. m. yesterday, Caplinger advised police that he was ill. He said he is a diabetic, that his blood sugar was high and that he needed medication, police reported. He was taken to City Hospital in a cruiser.

Ohio AFL-CIO Unit Still Against Tax Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO Executive Committee announced following a meeting here Thursday that the labor organization still opposes any increases in state sales taxes.

The announcement referred to the Ohio Council for Education's initiated referendum vote this November on a sales tax hike from three to four per cent to provide more funds for education.

firemen homecoming and carnival, will include a matinee at 1 p. m. and a water battle at 7 between the Jaycees and the firemen.

The Jaycees will kick off their Labor Day celebration Sunday with a band concert from 7 to 9 p. m. at the post office lot at the corner of 11th and Center Sts. The Jaycee hall will be open before and after the concert.

A family picnic will follow Sunday — beginning at noon at Hammond Park. A baby contest for children 1-3 and 3-6, plus games, will be featured.

Monday night Miss Wellsville Jaycee will be crowned, with competition getting under way at 8 at the Wellsville High School Auditorium. Miss Marlene Jones, last year's Miss Wellsville Jaycee, will crown the new queen around 10. Miss Ohio Jaycee of 1964 will assist.

Negotiations Continue In Salem Bliss Strike

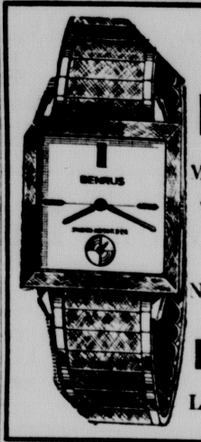

SALEM — Negotiations continued today between officials of the E. W. Bliss Co. and representatives of the United Steel Workers whose 450 members walked off their jobs Tuesday after talks failed to produce a new contract agreement.

The principal obstacle to agreement is a local working condition clause sought by the union. At Canton, 800 workers at the Bliss plant agreed to an extension of the contract to Sept. 11 to allow continued negotiations.

Floods In Italy Kill 36, 26 Are Missing

ROME (AP)—Torrential rains pelting Italy for three days caused floods from the Alps to Sicily today, raising the known death toll to 36. Another 26 persons are missing.

Hardly a city or village in all this country of 50 million persons was spared the violent storms which showed no sign of letting up.

Vincent D'Itri of Midland, left, fire chief, is shown with Joseph Scalise of Beaver, division superintendent of employe relations, who made the presentation of the pedigree Dalmation, who appears quite calm about the whole thing.

John P. Strand of Beaver, assistant works manager speaking on behalf of the company, expressed appreciation to the firemen for their willingness and cooperation in answering fire calls and assisting the plant's fire brigade.

A plaque also was presented the firemen by Scalise. It reads: "Midland Volunteer Fire Department, in recognition of meritorious service in the field of fire-fighting, Crucible Steel Co. of America, Midland Works, Sept. 1, 1965." Most of the firemen are employes at the Midland Works.

Among those attending for the company were Capt. William H. MacBurney of East Liverpool, chief of plant and fire protection, and A. L. Breakiron of Ohioville Borough, superintendent of community relations.

Firemen from both Midland fire companies and their wives attended the dinner held at the Crucible Management Club in Industry. Sixty were present. Music for dancing was provided by the Leo Curto Trio.

left off E. 5th St. onto Walnut St. and collided with a parked 1964 station wagon owned by Paul Schleiter, 48, of 727 Minerva St., causing $800 to $900 damage to the parked vehicle.

Judge Chertoff commented that he was shocked to find the defendant was drunk "at 9 o'clock in the morning and on his way to work."

"School starts next Wednesday and if it is not safe on our city's streets at 9 o'clock in the morning how are those youngsters going to walk to school?" the judge said in a lecture to Corbett.

"When a man gets drunk at 9 in the morning and then says he is on his way to work, it is too much for me to understand," the judge added.

Corbett told the court he was en route to his job as a truck driver for a furniture store. Patrolman William A. Devon, who investigated the crash, told the judge Corbett was "very intoxicated."

"We are approaching the Labor Day weekend, in which 500 to 600 Americans will be killed on the highways," the judge told Corbett. "Fellows like you will cause at least 50 per cent of those deaths. This has to stop. I'm going to do something I've never done before to keep you off the streets." Then he pronounced sentence.

Another East Liverpool man was arrested shortly before noon yesterday, also on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, but his hearing was delayed because he later was hospitalized.

The patrolman said his attention was called to Caplinger by an unidentified motorist who said he had seen a car driving erratically in East End.

At 5:45 p. m. yesterday, Caplinger advised police that he was ill. He said he is a diabetic, that his blood sugar was high and that he needed medication, police reported. He was taken to City Hospital in a cruiser.

Ohio AFL-CIO Unit Still Against Tax Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO Executive Committee announced following a meeting here Thursday that the labor organization still opposes any increases in state sales taxes.

The announcement referred to the Ohio Council for Education's initiated referendum vote this November on a sales tax hike from three to four per cent to provide more funds for education.

firemen homecoming and carnival, will include a matinee at 1 p. m. and a water battle at 7 between the Jaycees and the firemen.

The Jaycees will kick off their Labor Day celebration Sunday with a band concert from 7 to 9 p. m. at the post office lot at the corner of 11th and Center Sts. The Jaycee hall will be open before and after the concert.

A family picnic will follow Sunday — beginning at noon at Hammond Park. A baby contest for children 1-3 and 3-6, plus games, will be featured.

Monday night Miss Wellsville Jaycee will be crowned, with competition getting under way at 8 at the Wellsville High School Auditorium. Miss Marlene Jones, last year's Miss Wellsville Jaycee, will crown the new queen around 10. Miss Ohio Jaycee of 1964 will assist.

Negotiations Continue In Salem Bliss Strike

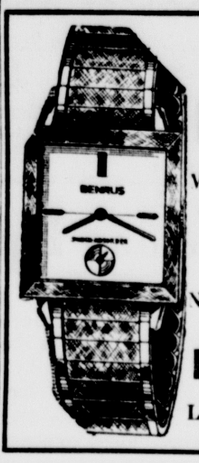

SALEM — Negotiations continued today between officials of the E. W. Bliss Co. and representatives of the United Steel Workers whose 450 members walked off their jobs Tuesday after talks failed to produce a new contract agreement.

The principal obstacle to agreement is a local working condition clause sought by the union. At Canton, 800 workers at the Bliss plant agreed to an extension of the contract to Sept. 11 to allow continued negotiations.

Floods In Italy Kill 36, 26 Are Missing

ROME (AP)—Torrential rains pelting Italy for three days caused floods from the Alps to Sicily today, raising the known death toll to 36. Another 26 persons are missing.

Hardly a city or village in all this country of 50 million persons was spared the violent storms which showed no sign of letting up.

Competition Among Equals

If the purpose of the Interstate Commerce Commission is to keep competition vigorous, its members will have to show lively interest in the latest railroad merger proposal.

A combination of the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western would create an exact counterpart in size of the giant system that would come into existence through merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central.

It would pit two goliaths against each other, instead of letting the C. & O. and N. & W. compete separately against the Pennsy-N.Y.C. system, on the assumption this merger will be allowed by the I.C.C.

It would have the further effect, if the I.C.C. permitted the newly proposed merger, of shoring up the tottering financial structure of five other major Eastern railroads.

This would come about, under the terms of the proposal, through special legislative sanction to permit the C. & O. and N. & W. to take advantage of the financial losses of the five non-earning roads in reporting their own earnings.

The proposal, which will not be made formally until later this year, is a surprise — a wholly unexpected trial balloon lofted for the apparent purpose of testing opinion.

A proposal of such magnitude could not have been made in anything but the utmost seriousness. Looming largest among the railroad leaders involved in the proposal is Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland, one of the great organizaing geniuses of the century.

Men like Cyrus Eaton do not think of economic competition as a matter of survival among contenders of unequal size. They think of it as a striving of equals for a competitive edge.

This would be the merit of the proposed merger, if the I.C.C. finally permits the Pennsy-N.Y.C. merger. It would bring into existence another goliath of equal magnitude to strive on equal terms.

In that sense, it might be thought of as the C. & O. - N. & W. response to the proposed merger already under I.C.C. scrutiny.

What is fair and properly competitive for the Pennsylvania and New York Central hardly could be called unfair and improperly uncompetitive for the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western.

Pennant Fever

Regardless of your loyalties in a baseball sense, the surge of the Pittsburgh Pirates has added a zest locally and throughout the district to the National League pennant race which has been missing since the hectic days of 1960 when the Bucs reigned as world champions.

The air is charged with excitement and there's a tenseness which normally is absent

Partisanship has mounted to the point where friendly discussions quite often no longer remain friendly; where claims and counter-claims are tossed about with the abandon of foul balls ricocheting in the stands; where life and death seem almost to hinge on the story told by the scoreboard.

Whether the Bucs beat 'em or not as they did in '60, they've added another colorful chapter to the district sport scene. There's nothing more contagious than a severe case of pennant fever.

Tying Up Some Loose Ends

There could have been a department of urban affairs in the federal government during the Kennedy administration, if race prejudice hadn't blocked John F. Kennedy's move to create one in 1962.

Southerners in Congress were afraid President Kennedy would appoint Robert C. Weaver to be the secretary of the new department. Mr. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, is a Negro.

This agency will be incorporated in the department of Housing and Urban Development newly authorized by Congress.

At the outset, the new department will bring under one roof this agency and all other agencies concerned with housing and urban development. This is what opponents of the idea wanted to stop, if they could. They didn't want the loose ends to be tied up.

The new department can be politically controlled more easily than its presently scattered component parts can be controlled.

Critics believe it will grow more rapidly than its component agencies would have grown. They suspect the motive for the collectivization of functions is partisan advantage for the Democratic party, whose voting strength lies mainly in urban areas.

Aside from these misgivings, there is a compelling reason to deal with urban affairs more systematically than has been the practice in the past.

Certainly if a department of agriculture is needed a department of urban affairs and housing is needed, too.

If there is justification for a department of commerce and a department of labor, there is justification for a cabinet officer to look after the problems of the urban areas in which most Americans live.

Congress, which knows best how much of its time and the people's money go into solutions for these problems, did not hesitate to set up a new department of housing and urban affairs.

It would not have hesitated three years ago if it had not been tripped up by the race prejudice of its Southerners.

Mild Winter?

An Indian weather prophet in British Columbia by the name of Charlie promises that "it's gonna' be a mild winter."

Still Waiting

Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, whose visits to the United States used to be front-page news, is visiting here again without benefit of significant publicity.

She is not sure of an invitation to the White House.

She is not sure she will be invited to speak before any important gathering of distinguished people.

The Wellesley College-educated wife of the head of Nationalist China is approaching her 70th year; she is 67. Chiang Kai-shek, himself, is 70.

It is interesting—and saddening—to remember what hope once was placed in this aging couple by the American people and their government.

Now, years later and billions of dollars poorer, the United States is forced to acknowledge what once was in hot political dispute.

Chiang Kai-shek, one-time protege of Russian Communists, is not going to redeem mainland China from Chinese Communists. For better or worse, they are there to stay. For better or worse, Chiang's followers are in Formosa to stay. For better or worse, the real China is on the mainland, not on Formosa.

It is all too clear now that Chiang's leadership of a resurgent China that would rise above the corruption of his World War II regime never existed. That was a dream made in America, fostered in America and foisted on America by wishful thinkers in high places who never were able to establish in fact what they insisted was believable in their own fancy.

It no longer believes they have power to perform miracles.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I have looked at the excellent pictures of the earth taken by Astronauts Conrad and Cooper. It is my opinion that the place is uninhibited. I can see no evidence of cogent life.

When people ask about my vacation, I tell them about a stroll in the Canadian Rockies. Though not equipped for climbing, I reached the snow line and stuck a finger into a patch of still unmelted snow while I was standing knee-deep in fragrant flowers and hot sunshine was parboiling my bald head.

I can remember when Negro athletes were not supposed to be adapted to games of rough contact, like football. Whatever happened to that idea?

I have an objection to the television test of safe driving that people are talking about. It places no value on the automatic reactions that constitute safe driving. These reactions save our lives. Good drivers do not need to think about the right thing in a pinch. They do it automatically.

In California, autoists stop when a pedestrian steps off the curb. My traveling companion precipitated a traffic jam by inadvertently stepping into the street to get a running start at an intersection. California drivers observe this law, which is strictly enforced.

Waitresses at Paradise Inn in Glacier National Park are college students. They write little personal notes on the backs of checks, with the idea of winning generous tips. Some of these little apple polishers could give pointers to major account men in ad agencies.

That disastrous ice slide in Switzerland was a reminder of a devastated area pointed out in Glacier National Park where a glacier broke loose and swept everything before it, leaving nothing but bare rocks over an area half a mile wide and many miles long.

Moon Beam!

Abel Used To Hard Wage Stand

By Victor Riesel

A star was born for the headlines aboard an Air Force Jetstar the other day.

He won't be a one-story man. He will stay in the news, because he is Iorwith Wilbur (Abe) Abel, the Steelworkers' new chief who is one of the toughest men with whom Lyndon Baines Johnson ever bargained.

Victor Riesel

The new star, for whom the President dispatched a special place may appear deaconish and look like he lacks luster. But as president of the United Steelworkers' Union he's here to stay as the most militant of labor men, even in a milieu which includes Walter Reuther.

Only a handful of us throughout the land expected Abel to stand up against the President's pressure and references to the fighting in Viet Nam. The leader of the men of steel has been up against such pressure before, though few in the nation are aware of it. That was during another war, a bigger war, in the years of a President much in the image of Mr. Johnson.

THAT MOMENT positively is worth recording for the young people who were then closer to baby formulas than basic geometry and for the older folks who have lost it in the rush of grim history.

It came Christmas Eve, 1943, at the hardest hours of a big war. Steel Union chief Philip Abel from the ranks, was jousting with Franklin D. Roosevelt and the steel industry, just as "Abe" did this last month. The steel struggle was over wages. The industry stood pat. Mr. Roosevelt, beloved by labor, did not believe the men would walk out.

But they did. The late Phil Murray, who also had a clergyman's mien, gave the signal. On Dec. 25, 1943, more than 140,000 Steelworkers walked off their jobs in the gut of the industrial and defense areas. Hundreds of plants went quiet on a line from Chicago to Pittsburgh —across 10 states in all.

Franklin Roosevelt, the industry and the nation were up against one of the two men who have ever defied a President in modern times—the other being the miners' John Lewis.

FOR THREE DAYS the country waited. Then FDR telegraphed Murray. Go back, said the President, and we'll guarantee that all wage gains will be retroactive. On Dec. 28, the men trooped back to the mills.

At Phil Murray's side was a 35-year-old ex-steel mill hand. A few months earlier Murray had made him director of the union's District 27, the Canton, Ohio area. That was "Abe". He too, called out many of his men.

So today at 57, Abel is new to the big headlines and to most of the public. But not to those of us who've Boswelled the labor wars.

On Aug. 29 "Abe" believed he had a position to maintain. He was set to hold the line, just as his beloved mentor had during a big war. True, the land now is in a little war. But Abel's position called for the yielding by the industry of still another nickel an hour for each of the 450,000 men of the mills.

THAT'S WHAT stood between the union and the industry Big 10. To the uninitiated, this may seem trivial. But a nickel an hour is big stakes on the steel front. Based on the "more average" year, 1964, the nickel meant an additional $55 million the first year, of the proposed contract, $110 million the second and $165 million the third—or about $350 million more than the steelmakers believed they could pay without some price increases.

President Johnson had done his homework. He knew that only he, in the august office of the presidency, could crack that deadlock—if anyone could.

So he flew in the antagonists. Over the years men who similarly have been summoned to the White House have told me they get an awesome feeling of irresistable force. As they enter, they prepare to yield and hope they can salvage some of their position.

BUT IT WAS not so with "Abe." He has watched his own leaders go this route before. The difference, this time, was his name in the headlines. Not John L.'s, not Phil Murray's. Except to a few, their names now are forgotten. "Abe" knows it's a passing show, and each decade brings a new star. He is a traditionalist. And his tradition calls for playing it as tough for his men as he can. And he has.

When all the furor is over, and contracts are polished, Iorwith Wilbur Abel will continue to play it that way—on the political as well as the industrial front.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1609, Henry Hudson's Half Moon rounded Sandy Hook on a voyage from England which had begun in April. Seeking a northwest passage to Asia, Hudson sailed up their river which bears his name to the vicinity of what now is Troy, N.Y.

On this date:

In 1783, the Treaty of Paris was signed, ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1894, Labor Day was observed throughout the nation for the first time after being designated a legal holiday by Congress.

Also in 1894, the first medal play golf championship was started at Newport, R.I.

In 1919, the permanent rank of general was given John J. Pershing.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany following the Nazi invasion of Poland.

Ten years ago — Albania and Poland announced reductions in their armed forces, following a similar decision by Russia.

One year ago — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy resigned his Cabinet post to campaign for U.S. senator from New York.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"I carry on this way at every party . . . as soon as it gets out that I'm a doctor!"

Reciprocity

By David Lawrence

How Would The Russians React?

Reciprocity is supposed to be the formula which the United States and the Soviet Union have in mind in the proposed treaty which permits Russia to open up a number of consular offices in this country and allows America to establish an equal number of consular offices throughout the Soviet Union.

David Lawrence

If this treaty should be ratified by the U.S. Senate — and there's considerable opposition to it—the question arises as to what privileges the American consulates are to enjoy. Will the United States, for example, be able to distribute anti-Communist literature and to make it available to the Soviet newspapers through the consular offices?

Just a few days ago, the Soviet Embassy in Washington handed out to the press of this country a document typed on its official stationery giving the full text of an open letter to U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson under the title, "We Accuse!"

THE LETTER said in part: "There are moments when one cannot keep silent. Shocked to the depth of the soul by the monstrous massacre of the population of the Negro ghetto in Los Angeles, we are addressing these words to express our indignation, sorrow and pain. . . .

"We say this because we feel and see that the carnage in Los Angeles is no isolated event. The disgraceful trail of violence against the Negro population is growing longer from year to year. And the main thing is: There is no end in sight. How long will this go on? What Great Society is this where people are brought to despair and then in full daylight, before the eyes of the whole world, shot by automatic rifles and machine guns? . . .

"The events in Los Angeles cannot but be associated in the minds of the people with the barbarous actions of the American soldiers in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. In the rumble of the blocks tumbling down in Los Angeles we hear the echo of the walls of the ancient town of Santo Domingo crumbling under the pressure of tanks. The flames flairing up over the Negro ghetto reminded us of the burning towns and villages of Viet Nam. . . .

"Mankind has the right to say at the top of its voice to you, Mr. President: 'Look at Los Angeles. Here you have the "freedom" that the United States wants to impose upon other peoples through bayonets and bombs. . . .'

"We, at one with all Soviet people, resolutely demand an end to the outrages. This is the wholehearted demand of all peoples. Mankind's mind, honor and conscience cannot be reconciled with the disgraceful actions of the racists and aggressors."

THE LETTER is signed by the president of the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R., by various officers of the same organization and related scientific groups, and by prominent members of other professions, including writers, composers and artists. Several are Nobel Prize winners.

Would the American consulates in the Soviet Union be permitted to issue to the Soviet press, and would the Soviet newspapers print any part of an "open letter" to the Soviet premier narrating the atrocities that have been committed during the last few years against innocent persons who have attempted to move from East Germany to West Germany over the Berlin Wall?

Would the Soviet government allow, even in the satellite countries, the issuance of any document criticizing the Soviet government comparable either in tone or in substance to what has just been distributed to the American press under the auspices of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics?

There are plenty of people in the United States who would like to express themselves and address not only the Soviet government but the Soviet people. Would the Moscow government let this material ever see the light of day? Could it even be sent to the newspapers of the Soviet Union? Would American consular officials attempting to do this be promptly arrested and told to leave the country?

SO THERE'S every reason why the proposed consular treaty should be examined carefully, and perhaps reservations or amendments made to it guaranteeing that the United States shall have equal rights in Russia on a par with the privileges granted the Soviet officials both in the consulates and in the embassy in this country.

There is no lack of subjects on which academic and professional people in America would like to write open letters to the Russian people. Racial discrimination, for instance, is practiced and certain religions are persecuted inside Russia. Tourists are frequently arrested and accused of espionage. Nobody can travel without being kept under surveillance, either by a tourist officer or some other agent of the government.

Unless the principle of complete reciprocity can be guaranteed, the consular treaty is doomed to rejection by the Senate.

Free Enterprise

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Free enterprise — up to a point. The general welfare comes first. This country has moved a long way from the myth of a truly free enterprise system.

The latest example is President Johnson's intervention in the steel dispute which, if it became a prolonged strike, would damage the economy and therefore most Americans.

Even in their earliest days Americans loved the free competition slogan while they made a joke of it.

Through most of American history presidents rejected the idea of government responsibility for the general welfare even while the government was giving new railroads land and subsidies.

One president vetoed a bill to help the insane poor, saying it would make the poor only more hopeless and dependent. Another vetoed a bill to help drought-stricken farmers, saying: "Though the people should support the government, the government should not support the people."

The latter happened in 1887, the very year in which Congress took one of its most far-reaching steps by creating the Interstate Commerce Commission to put controls on what railroads could charge.

In this same period millions of Americans who never heard of Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, were his disciples and his victims by absorbing his belief in the devil take the hindmost.

In this view the poor were poor because they were inferior and the rich rich because they were superior.

But while the country still followed this rugged individualism idea, the Germans had set up unemployment pay (almost 60 years ahead of this country) and the British social security (more than 20 years ahead of this country).

But the disaster of depression made Americans face what they had been tardy to acknowledge, although throughout history individual groups had been seeking special benefits: That the government not only had a responsibility for the general welfare but should assert it. Then, for the first time, in 1946 Congress said so in the employment act of that year. The great change came with the New Deal.

Welfare programs, established then, have been expanded enormously. And government really butted in on the free enterprise relations between management and labor with the Wagner Act of 1935 and the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

The former compelled employers to deal with employes' unions and the latter, in the case of big industries, empowered the government to get an injunction to delay a strike at least 80 days.

Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and now Johnson all intervened to prevent big, damaging strikes.

So, while Americans still pay lip service to the idea of truly free enterprise, they ignore it when it might damage the general welfare.

There could have been a department of urban affairs in the federal government during the Kennedy administration, if race prejudice hadn't blocked John F. Kennedy's move to create one in 1962.

Southerners in Congress were afraid President Kennedy would appoint Robert C. Weaver to be the secretary of the new department. Mr. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, is a Negro.

This agency will be incorporated in the department of Housing and Urban Development newly authorized by Congress.

At the outset, the new department will bring under one roof this agency and all other agencies concerned with housing and urban development. This is what opponents of the idea wanted to stop, if they could. They didn't want the loose ends to be tied up.

The new department can be politically controlled more easily than its presently scattered component parts can be controlled.

Critics believe it will grow more rapidly than its component agencies would have grown. They suspect the motive for the collectivization of functions is partisan advantage for the Democratic party, whose voting strength lies mainly in urban areas.

Aside from these misgivings, there is a compelling reason to deal with urban affairs more systematically than has been the practice in the past.

Certainly if a department of agriculture is needed a department of urban affairs and housing is needed, too.

If there is justification for a department of commerce and a department of labor, there is justification for a cabinet officer to look after the problems of the urban areas in which most Americans live.

Congress, which knows best how much of its time and the people's money go into solutions for these problems, did not hesitate to set up a new department of housing and urban affairs.

It would not have hesitated three years ago if it had not been tripped up by the race prejudice of its Southerners.

Mild Winter?

An Indian weather prophet in British Columbia by the name of Charlie promises that "it's gonna' be a mild winter."

Still Waiting

Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, whose visits to the United States used to be front-page news, is visiting here again without benefit of significant publicity.

She is not sure of an invitation to the White House.

She is not sure she will be invited to speak before any important gathering of distinguished people.

The Wellesley College-educated wife of the head of Nationalist China is approaching her 70th year; she is 67. Chiang Kai-shek, himself, is 70.

It is interesting—and saddening—to remember what hope once was placed in this aging couple by the American people and their government.

Now, years later and billions of dollars poorer, the United States is forced to acknowledge what once was in hot political dispute.

Chiang Kai-shek, one-time protege of Russian Communists, is not going to redeem mainland China from Chinese Communists. For better or worse, they are there to stay. For better or worse, Chiang's followers are in Formosa to stay. For better or worse, the real China is on the mainland, not on Formosa.

It is all too clear now that Chiang's leadership of a resurgent China that would rise above the corruption of his World War II regime never existed. That was a dream made in America, fostered in America and foisted on America by wishful thinkers in high places who never were able to establish in fact what they insisted was believable in their own fancy.

America still wishes Mme. Chiang and her husband well.

It no longer believes they have power to perform miracles.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I have looked at the excellent pictures of the earth taken by Astronauts Conrad and Cooper. It is my opinion that the place is uninhibited. I can see no evidence of cogent life.

When people ask about my vacation, I tell them about a stroll in the Canadian Rockies. Though not equipped for climbing, I reached the snow line and stuck a finger into a patch of still unmelted snow while I was standing knee-deep in fragrant flowers and hot sunshine was parboiling my bald head.

I can remember when Negro athletes were not supposed to be adapted to games of rough contact, like football. Whatever happened to that idea?

I have an objection to the television test of safe driving that people are talking about. It places no value on the automatic reactions that constitute safe driving. These reactions save our lives. Good drivers do not need to think about the right thing in a pinch. They do it automatically.

In California, autoists stop when a pedestrian steps off the curb. My traveling companion precipitated a traffic jam by inadvertently stepping into the street to get a running start at an intersection. California drivers observe this law, which is strictly enforced.

Waitresses at Paradise Inn in Glacier National Park are college students. They write little personal notes on the backs of checks, with the idea of winning generous tips. Some of these little apple polishers could give pointers to major account men in ad agencies.

That disastrous ice slide in Switzerland was a reminder of a devastated area pointed out in Glacier National Park where a glacier broke loose and swept everything before it, leaving nothing but bare rocks over an area half a mile wide and many miles long.

Moon Beam!

Abel Used To Hard Wage Stand

By Victor Riesel

A star was born for the headlines aboard an Air Force Jetstar the other day.

He won't be a one-story man. He will stay in the news, because he is Iorwith Wilbur (Abe) Abel, the Steelworkers' new chief who is one of the toughest men with whom Lyndon Baines Johnson ever bargained.

Victor Riesel

The new star, for whom the President dispatched a special place may appear deaconish and look like he lacks luster. But as president of the United Steelworkers' Union he's here to stay as the most militant of labor men, even in a milieu which includes Walter Reuther.

Only a handful of us throughout the land expected Abel to stand up against the President's pressure and references to the fighting in Viet Nam. The leader of the men of steel has been up against such pressure before, though few in the nation are aware of it. That was during another war, a bigger war, in the years of a President much in the image of Mr. Johnson.

THAT MOMENT positively is worth recording for the young people who were then closer to baby formulas than basic geometry and for the older folks who have lost it in the rush of grim history.

It came Christmas Eve, 1943, at the hardest hours of a big war. Steel Union chief Philip Abel from the ranks, was jousting with Franklin D. Roosevelt and the steel industry, just as "Abe" did this last month. The steel struggle was over wages. The industry stood pat. Mr. Roosevelt, beloved by labor, did not believe the men would walk out.

But they did. The late Phil Murray, who also had a clergyman's mien, gave the signal. On Dec. 25, 1943, more than 140,000 Steelworkers walked off their jobs in the gut of the industrial and defense areas. Hundreds of plants went quiet on a line from Chicago to Pittsburgh —across 10 states in all.

Franklin Roosevelt, the industry and the nation were up against one of the two men who have ever defied a President in modern times—the other being the miners' John Lewis.

FOR THREE DAYS the country waited. Then FDR telegraphed Murray. Go back, said the President, and we'll guarantee that all wage gains will be retroactive. On Dec. 28, the men trooped back to the mills.

At Phil Murray's side was a 35-year-old ex-steel mill hand. A few months earlier Murray had made him director of the union's District 27, the Canton, Ohio area. That was "Abe". He too, called out many of his men.

So today at 57, Abel is new to the big headlines and to most of the public. But not to those of us who've Boswelled the labor wars.

On Aug. 29 "Abe" believed he had a position to maintain. He was set to hold the line, just as his beloved mentor had during a big war. True, the land now is in a little war. But Abel's position called for the yielding by the industry of still another nickel an hour for each of the 450,000 men of the mills.

THAT'S WHAT stood between the union and the industry Big 10. To the uninitiated, this may seem trivial. But a nickel an hour is big stakes on the steel front. Based on the "more average" year, 1964, the nickel meant an additional $55 million the first year, of the proposed contract, $110 million the second and $165 million the third—or about $350 million more than the steelmakers believed they could pay without some price increases.

President Johnson had done his homework. He knew that only he, in the august office of the presidency, could crack that deadlock—if anyone could.

So he flew in the antagonists. Over the years men who similarly have been summoned to the White House have told me they get an awesome feeling of irresistable force. As they enter, they prepare to yield and hope they can salvage some of their position.

BUT IT WAS not so with "Abe." He has watched his own leaders go this route before. The difference, this time, was his name in the headlines. Not John L.'s, not Phil Murray's. Except to a few, their names now are forgotten. "Abe" knows it's a passing show, and each decade brings a new star. He is a traditionalist. And his tradition calls for playing it as tough for his men as he can. And he has.

When all the furor is over, and contracts are polished, Iorwith Wilbur Abel will continue to play it that way—on the political as well as the industrial front.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—More than 125 guests attended an outing of patrons of the former C. O. Weaver newsstand on W. 6th St. at the Eagles Camp at West Point.

Mrs. Lucille Potts and daughter Martha, formerly of Lisbon, left to reside in Baltimore, Md.

Miss Margaret Frederick of Peak St., instructor of music at the Central and Lincoln elementary Schools, resigned to accept a similar position in the Summit County Schools at Akron.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Safety - service Director C. Fred Gluth of Wellsville appealed to consumers to conserve water because of the dwindling supply in the Little Yellow Creek reservoir.

TEN YEARS AGO — The city acquired property at 138 W. 6th St., adjoining the municipal building, in a $20,000 transaction. It included a two - story frame building fronting on W. 6th St. and a small structure in the rear.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Sept. 3, the 246th day of 1965. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1609, Henry Hudson's Half Moon rounded Sandy Hook on a voyage from England which had begun in April. Seeking a northwest passage to Asia, Hudson sailed up their river which bears his name to the vicinity of what now is Troy, N.Y.

On this date:

In 1783, the Treaty of Paris was signed, ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1894, Labor Day was observed throughout the nation for the first time after being designated a legal holiday by Congress.

Also in 1894, the first medal play golf championship was started at Newport, R.I.

In 1919, the permanent rank of general was given John J. Pershing.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany following the Nazi invasion of Poland.

Ten years ago — Albania and Poland announced reductions in their armed forces, following a similar decision by Russia.

One year ago — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy resigned his Cabinet post to campaign for U.S. senator from New York.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

Reciprocity

By David Lawrence

How Would The Russians React?

Reciprocity is supposed to be the formula which the United States and the Soviet Union have in mind in the proposed treaty which permits Russia to open up a number of consular offices in this country and allows America to establish an equal number of consular offices throughout the Soviet Union.

David Lawrence

If this treaty should be ratified by the U.S. Senate — and there's considerable opposition to it—the question arises as to what privileges the American consulates are to enjoy. Will the United States, for example, be able to distribute anti-Communist literature and to make it available to the Soviet newspapers through the consular offices?

Just a few days ago, the Soviet Embassy in Washington handed out to the press of this country a document typed on its official stationery giving the full text of an open letter to U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson under the title, "We Accuse!"

THE LETTER said in part: "There are moments when one cannot keep silent. Shocked to the depth of the soul by the monstrous massacre of the population of the Negro ghetto in Los Angeles, we are addressing these words to express our indignation, sorrow and pain. . . .

"We say this because we feel and see that the carnage in Los Angeles is no isolated event. The disgraceful trail of violence against the Negro population is growing longer from year to year. And the main thing is: There is no end in sight. How long will this go on? What Great Society is this where people are brought to despair and then in full daylight, before the eyes of the whole world, shot by automatic rifles and machine guns? . . .

"The events in Los Angeles cannot but be associated in the minds of the people with the barbarous actions of the American soldiers in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. In the rumble of the blocks tumbling down in Los Angeles we hear the echo of the walls of the ancient town of Santo Domingo crumbling under the pressure of tanks. The flames flairing up over the Negro ghetto reminded us of the burning towns and villages of Viet Nam. . . .

"Mankind has the right to say at the top of its voice to you, Mr. President: 'Look at Los Angeles. Here you have the "freedom" that the United States wants to impose upon other peoples through bayonets and bombs. . . .'

"We, at one with all Soviet people, resolutely demand an end to the outrages. This is the wholehearted demand of all peoples. Mankind's mind, honor and conscience cannot be reconciled with the disgraceful actions of the racists and aggressors."

THE LETTER is signed by the president of the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R., by various officers of the same organization and related scientific groups, and by prominent members of other professions, including writers, composers and artists. Several are Nobel Prize winners.

Would the American consulates in the Soviet Union be permitted to issue to the Soviet press, and would the Soviet newspapers print any part of an "open letter" to the Soviet premier narrating the atrocities that have been committed during the last few years against innocent persons who have attempted to move from East Germany to West Germany over the Berlin Wall?

Would the Soviet government allow, even in the satellite countries, the issuance of any document criticizing the Soviet government comparable either in tone or in substance to what has just been distributed to the American press under the auspices of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics?

There are plenty of people in the United States who would like to express themselves and address not only the Soviet government but the Soviet people. Would the Moscow government let this material ever see the light of day? Could it even be sent to the newspapers of the Soviet Union? Would American consular officials attempting to do this be promptly arrested and told to leave the country?

SO THERE'S every reason why the proposed consular treaty should be examined carefully, and perhaps reservations or amendments made to it guaranteeing that the United States shall have equal rights in Russia on a par with the privileges granted the Soviet officials both in the consulates and in the embassy in this country.

There is no lack of subjects on which academic and professional people in America would like to write open letters to the Russian people. Racial discrimination, for instance, is practiced and certain religions are persecuted inside Russia. Tourists are frequently arrested and accused of espionage. Nobody can travel without being kept under surveillance, either by a tourist officer or some other agent of the government.

Unless the principle of complete reciprocity can be guaranteed, the consular treaty is doomed to rejection by the Senate.

Free Enterprise

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Free enterprise — up to a point. The general welfare comes first. This country has moved a long way from the myth of a truly free enterprise system.

The latest example is President Johnson's intervention in the steel dispute which, if it became a prolonged strike, would damage the economy and therefore most Americans.

Even in their earliest days Americans loved the free competition slogan while they made a joke of it.

Through most of American history presidents rejected the idea of government responsibility for the general welfare even while the government was giving new railroads land and subsidies.

One president vetoed a bill to help the insane poor, saying it would make the poor only more hopeless and dependent. Another vetoed a bill to help drought-stricken farmers, saying: "Though the people should support the government, the government should not support the people."

The latter happened in 1887, the very year in which Congress took one of its most far-reaching steps by creating the Interstate Commerce Commission to put controls on what railroads could charge.

In this same period millions of Americans who never heard of Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, were his disciples and his victims by absorbing his belief in the devil take the hindmost.

In this view the poor were poor because they were inferior and the rich rich because they were superior.

But while the country still followed this rugged individualism idea, the Germans had set up unemployment pay (almost 60 years ahead of this country) and the British social security (more than 20 years ahead of this country).

But the disaster of depression made Americans face what they had been tardy to acknowledge, although throughout history individual groups had been seeking special benefits: That the government not only had a responsibility for the general welfare but should assert it. Then, for the first time, in 1946 Congress said so in the employment act of that year. The great change came with the New Deal.

Welfare programs, established then, have been expanded enormously. And government really butted in on the free enterprise relations between management and labor with the Wagner Act of 1935 and the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

The former compelled employers to deal with employes' unions and the latter, in the case of big industries, empowered the government to get an injunction to delay a strike at least 80 days.

Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and now Johnson all intervened to prevent big, damaging strikes.

So, while Americans still pay lip service to the idea of truly free enterprise, they ignore it when it might damage the general welfare.

National Guards Patrol Natchez; Curfew Imposed

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Patrolling National Guardsmen, an early curfew and a ban on liquor imposed calm on this Mississippi River bluff city today—the first lull since a Negro leader was hurt in a booby-trap bombing a week ago.

Guardsmen rode the deserted streets in jeeps. Bayonets flickered under street lights. Few cars were out. Curfew was 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Maj. Gen. Walter Johnson, state adjutant general, took personal command of the 650 Guardsmen who arrived in the city Thursday.

"We'll stay just as long as needed," Gen. Johnson said. Two reinforced battalions and a medical company moved into this city of 25,000 on orders from Gov. Paul Johnson.

The city has been on edge since a dynamite bomb last Friday exploded beneath the hood of George Metcalfe's parked car when he turned on the ignition.

Metcalfe, president of the Adams County chapter of the NAACP, was reported in fair condition. The blast knocked him from his car and broke his arm, leg and injured his face.

Masses Being Held At Church In Lisbon

The first was at 7:30 a.m. and the second will be at 7:30 p.m.

The evening mass will be sung by the girls' choir under the direction of Miss Betty McKenna, with Miss Jo Ann Klug organist.

A Saturday morning high mass at 7:30 also will be offered.

Ray Snyder School Sets Bazaar Oct. 16

The Ray Snyder School in Industry will present its second annual bazaar Oct. 16 in the school halls and cafeteria.

The affair will feature games and prizes, home baked items, refreshments and a variety of booths.

Mrs. George Kelly, chairman, will meet with bazaar committee chairmen at her home in Industry tonight at 8.

Truck-Cycle Mishap Hurts East End Boy

A 17-year-old East End youth was injured in a collision between his small motorbike and a pickup truck Thursday afternoon on the River Rd., police reported.

David B. Kidder, son of William D. Kidder, 1572 Etruria St., was treated at City Hospital after the collision between his motorbike and a 1951 model truck driven by Bill Adams, 16, of 635 River Rd., officers said. He suffered abrasions of both legs and the right thigh.

Kidder told Patrolman Karl W. Samples he slowed for a puddle of water on the highway and the truck hit the cycle, causing it to upset. Adams reported the cyclist attempted to pass, striking the truck.

Both vehicles were headed west. The mishap was timed at 2:29. The crash damaged the handle bars and the front of the cycle, registered in the name of Paul Beck, 540 Elizabeth St. There was no damage to the truck, which is registered to Kenneth Adams, also of 635 River Rd., officers said.

Two autos were damaged slightly in a collision Thursday at 5:05 p.m. in the 700-800 block of Pennsylvania Ave., officers reported.

The mishap involved a 1959 four - door sedan driven by Johnson Stingley, 61, of 717 Dewey Ave. and a 1960 convertible operated by Raymond M. Perorazio, 21, of Homewood Ave. Both were headed east.

Stingley said Perorazio was attempting to pass him, but cut in too sharply because of oncoming cars and hit the left fender of Stingley's car. Perorazio said he was passing Stingley, but added that "something went wrong with my car and it went all over the road," hitting Stingley's car.

Woman Hospitalized After Tavern Arrest

A woman arrested Thursday night in the Diamond Restaurant on an intoxication charge later was treated at City Hospital and then transferred to Woodside Receiving Hospital at Youngstown, police reported.

She was identified as Mrs. Jean Franklin, arrested at 8:02 by Patrolmen William A. Devon, Karl Samples and K. J. Montgomery. Officers said she became "hysterical" while using the telephone at headquarters after her arrest, so she was taken to the local hospital for treatment. En route, she attempted to jump out of a cruiser, police said.

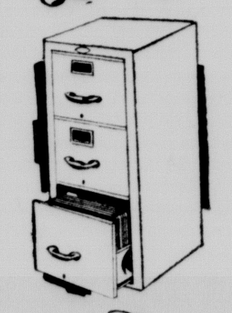

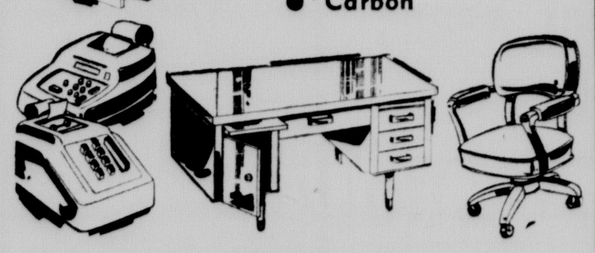

Mrs. Franklin then was transferred to the Youngstown hospital. Police said they were unable to obtain her address "because of her condition."

Wargo's Father Fair At Hospital In Salem

LISBON — The father of County Recorder John P. Wargo is listed in fair condition at Salem City Hospital after suffering two strokes last month.

Joseph W. Wargo of Summitville was admitted Aug. 16 after the first stroke. He then suffered a second stroke Aug. 19 and for a time was critical.

National Guards Patrol Natchez; Curfew Imposed

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Patrolling National Guardsmen, an early curfew and a ban on liquor imposed calm on this Mississippi River bluff city today—the first lull since a Negro leader was hurt in a booby-trap bombing a week ago.

Guardsmen rode the deserted streets in jeeps. Bayonets flickered under street lights. Few cars were out. Curfew was 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Maj. Gen. Walter Johnson, state adjutant general, took personal command of the 650 Guardsmen who arrived in the city Thursday.

"We'll stay just as long as needed," Gen. Johnson said. Two reinforced battalions and a medical company moved into this city of 25,000 on orders from Gov. Paul Johnson.

The city has been on edge since a dynamite bomb last Friday exploded beneath the hood of George Metcalfe's parked car when he turned on the ignition.

Metcalfe, president of the Adams County chapter of the NAACP, was reported in fair condition. The blast knocked him from his car and broke his arm, leg and injured his face.

Masses Being Held At Church In Lisbon

The first was at 7:30 a.m. and the second will be at 7:30 p.m.

The evening mass will be sung by the girls' choir under the direction of Miss Betty McKenna, with Miss Jo Ann Klug organist.

A Saturday morning high mass at 7:30 also will be offered.

Ray Snyder School Sets Bazaar Oct. 16

The Ray Snyder School in Industry will present its second annual bazaar Oct. 16 in the school halls and cafeteria.

The affair will feature games and prizes, home baked items, refreshments and a variety of booths.

Mrs. George Kelly, chairman, will meet with bazaar committee chairmen at her home in Industry tonight at 8.

Truck-Cycle Mishap Hurts East End Boy

A 17-year-old East End youth was injured in a collision between his small motorbike and a pickup truck Thursday afternoon on the River Rd., police reported.

David B. Kidder, son of William D. Kidder, 1572 Etruria St., was treated at City Hospital after the collision between his motorbike and a 1951 model truck driven by Bill Adams, 16, of 635 River Rd., officers said. He suffered abrasions of both legs and the right thigh.

Kidder told Patrolman Karl W. Samples he slowed for a puddle of water on the highway and the truck hit the cycle, causing it to upset. Adams reported the cyclist attempted to pass, striking the truck.

Both vehicles were headed west. The mishap was timed at 2:29. The crash damaged the handle bars and the front of the cycle, registered in the name of Paul Beck, 540 Elizabeth St. There was no damage to the truck, which is registered to Kenneth Adams, also of 635 River Rd., officers said.

Two autos were damaged slightly in a collision Thursday at 5:05 p.m. in the 700-800 block of Pennsylvania Ave., officers reported.

The mishap involved a 1959 four - door sedan driven by Johnson Stingley, 61, of 717 Dewey Ave. and a 1960 convertible operated by Raymond M. Perorazio, 21, of Homewood Ave. Both were headed east.

Stingley said Perorazio was attempting to pass him, but cut in too sharply because of oncoming cars and hit the left fender of Stingley's car. Perorazio said he was passing Stingley, but added that "something went wrong with my car and it went all over the road," hitting Stingley's car.

Woman Hospitalized After Tavern Arrest

A woman arrested Thursday night in the Diamond Restaurant on an intoxication charge later was treated at City Hospital and then transferred to Woodside Receiving Hospital at Youngstown, police reported.

She was identified as Mrs. Jean Franklin, arrested at 8:02 by Patrolmen William A. Devon, Karl Samples and K. J. Montgomery. Officers said she became "hysterical" while using the telephone at headquarters after her arrest, so she was taken to the local hospital for treatment. En route, she attempted to jump out of a cruiser, police said.

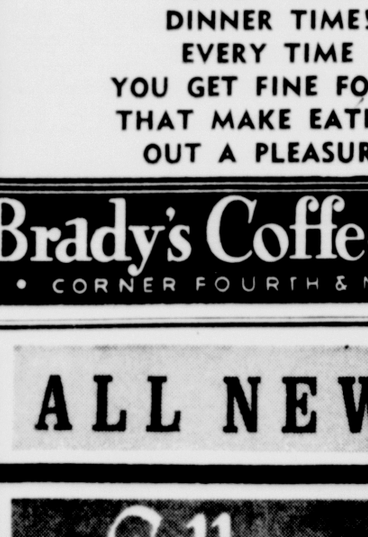

Mrs. Franklin then was transferred to the Youngstown hospital. Police said they were unable to obtain her address "because of her condition."

Wargo's Father Fair At Hospital In Salem

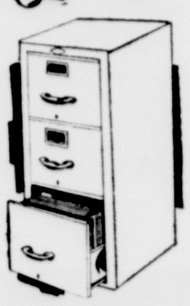

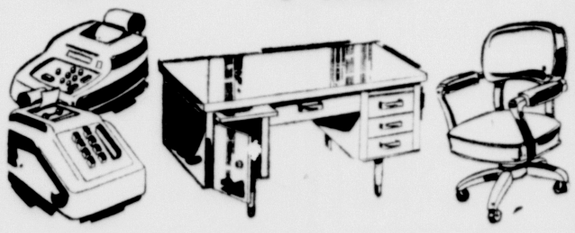

LISBON — The father of County Recorder John P. Wargo is listed in fair condition at Salem City Hospital after suffering two strokes last month.

Joseph W. Wargo of Summitville was admitted Aug. 16 after the first stroke. He then suffered a second stroke Aug. 19 and for a time was critical.

Court Income Drops $1,098

Municipal Court revenue hit $4,921 in August, off $1,098 from the $6,019 in July, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court turned over $4,345 of last month's receipts to the city treasury, a decline of $1,194 from the $5,539 paid the municipality out of July income.

A drop in criminal receipts accounted for the fall in overall income. Criminal cases produced $3,753 last month, down $1,473 from the $5,206 shown in July.

In addition to the criminal receipts and $283 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases, the city's share of the revenue included $309 in costs from civil cases.

The court also disbursed $283 to the state treasury, $198 to the county treasury and $94 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled in August was $8,734, off $1,297 from the $10,031 shown in July. The amounts handled last month included $3,100 in the civil branch and $5,633 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 37 civil cases filed during August, 12 disposed of and 191 left pending; 94 city criminal cases filed, 85 disposed of and 91 left pending, and 77 state criminal cases filed, 63 disposed of and 153 left pending.

The elephant, with an average of 628 days, has the longest period of gestation.

Judge Fines, Jails Driver

A city motorist was fined and jailed for drunken driving by County Judge Herbert Arfman in one of a series of hearings Thursday at East Palestine.

Edgar E. Rice of 942 Dresden Ave. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail on the charge.

Fined for speeding were George Davis of 305 Gardendale Ave. and Richard Davis of M. C. 21, $15 and costs each; Vernon Lee Powell of Lisbon R. D. 1, $10 and costs, and Carl L. Hoppel of R. D. 3, $5 and costs.

Thomas Carnegie of East Liverpool R. D. was fined $5 and costs for illegal use of dealer's plates on a truck.

Arthur Morris of Prospect St., Lisbon, was fined $5 and costs for failure to stop within the assured clear distance and Ralph Eck of 103 Monaca St. was fined $5 and costs for passing without the assured clear distance.

George N. Rizer of Annesley Rd. was fined $5 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

Yorkville Man Killed, 10 Hurt In Collision

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — A Yorkville man was killed and 10 other persons were injured in a two-car crash Thursday night four miles southwest of Mechanicsburg.

Killed was Aloysius Greeshop, driver of one of the cars.

Injured were James McLaughlin of Springfield, driver of the second car, eight members of his family and another passenger, Susan Groeber, 15, of Springfield.

According to latest estimates, the average American drinks a little more than three cups per day.

Holiday

Wellsville and Chester also will be closed.

Postal service will be curtailed here and elsewhere.

Normal holiday schedules will be maintained Monday at the main office here, while Station A in the East End and Calcutta branch at the Potters Lumber Co. will be closed for all business, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

There will be no delivery or window service, but special delivery and perishable items will be delivered. The lobby of the main office will be open for box patrons to obtain their mail. Stamps also will be available at the vending machine in the lobby.

Virtually the same service will be offered in the other post offices.

Postmaster Robert Edwards said the box section in the lobby there will be open from 7 to 9 a. m. Monday.

The Chester City Hall will be open as usual over the holiday weekend with the exception of the Water and Sewer Department, which will be closed all day Monday, Mayor Harry Abrams announced.

Strike Slated To Dock Ships

CLEVELAND (AP)— Nine Great Lakes buik freighters operated by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. are already docked or will be when they reach port because of a strike of 36 licensed engineers.

The engineers are represented by the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association. A spokesman for the union said the strike was called because Cleveland-Cliffs would not agree to make any contract improvements negotiated retroactive to May 1, as other shippers have.

The union is waiting for a steel contract settlement, which normally sets the bargaining pattern for lake sailors, many of whom are represented by the United Steelworkers. The contract with Cleveland-Cliffs expired April 30, but was extended to Sept. 1.

Cleveland-Cliffs has two iron ore carriers tied up at Superior, Wis., one at Toledo and another, the Champlain, docked in Cleveland today. An ore carrier and a grain-hauling freighter are docked at Buffalo. Three other Cleveland - Cliffs vessels are en route to ports.

A company spokesman disputed the union's explanation that retroactivity of a new contract was the issue in the walkout. Instead, the spokesman said, the union is striking because Cleveland-Cliffs would not agree to an immediate representation election for 36 deck officers and stewards who now are not union members.

More New Teachers Set In County School System

LISBON — Fourteen new teachers and one new principal will be starting their duties Tuesday at two school districts in the county.

In the Fairfield - Waterford district, Calvin Graber of New Waterford R.D. 1 has been named principal of Fairfield School to succeed Robert Carter, who is now at 4th St. School in Salem. Graber was a principal at Calcutta School the last two school years and three years earlier was a teacher in the Beaver Local School District.

The four teachers new to the Fairfield - Waterford system are: Mrs. Beverly Lunger of Columbiana, kindergarten; Mrs. Maxine Dillon of North Lima, fourth grade; Stephen Koren of Struthers, junior high school social studies and boys' physical education, and Miss Mary Jane Stansel of Lisbon, guidance counselor at Crestview High School.

With the exception of Miss Stansel, the other teachers all will be at Fairfield school. There are no new teachers at New Waterford.

Miss Bonita Leedy of Fredericktown will serve both Fairfield - Waterford and United districts as a speech - hearing therapist.

Teachers new to the United Local district are: Mrs. Delores Henceforth of Salem R.D. 3, fourth grade; Lewis Negley of Butler, Pa., seventh grade and junior high football; Richard Valentine of Adrian, Mich., junior high mathematics and junior high football.

Other new teachers in the United Local system are: Lester Blanchard of Kensington R. D. 1, high school science, physical education and coaching; Harry Brown of Millersville, N. Y., industrial arts; Mrs. Dianne Deitch of Salem, high school social studies; Joseph Herman of Uhrichsville, Typing I and guidance counselor; Miss Gene McCune of Lisbon, high school English, and Kenneth Ferris of Minerva, instrumental music.

Court Income Drops $1,098

Municipal Court revenue hit $4,921 in August, off $1,098 from the $6,019 in July, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court turned over $4,345 of last month's receipts to the city treasury, a decline of $1,194 from the $5,539 paid the municipality out of July income.

A drop in criminal receipts accounted for the fall in overall income. Criminal cases produced $3,753 last month, down $1,473 from the $5,206 shown in July.

In addition to the criminal receipts and $283 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases, the city's share of the revenue included $309 in costs from civil cases.

The court also disbursed $283 to the state treasury, $198 to the county treasury and $94 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled in August was $8,734, off $1,297 from the $10,031 shown in July. The amounts handled last month included $3,100 in the civil branch and $5,633 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 37 civil cases filed during August, 12 disposed of and 191 left pending; 94 city criminal cases filed, 85 disposed of and 91 left pending, and 77 state criminal cases filed, 63 disposed of and 153 left pending.

The elephant, with an average of 628 days, has the longest period of gestation.

Judge Fines, Jails Driver

A city motorist was fined and jailed for drunken driving by County Judge Herbert Arfman in one of a series of hearings Thursday at East Palestine.

Edgar E. Rice of 942 Dresden Ave. was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail on the charge.

Fined for speeding were George Davis of 305 Gardendale Ave. and Richard Davis of M. C. 21, $15 and costs each; Vernon Lee Powell of Lisbon R. D. 1, $10 and costs, and Carl L. Hoppel of R. D. 3, $5 and costs.

Thomas Carnegie of East Liverpool R. D. was fined $5 and costs for illegal use of dealer's plates on a truck.

Arthur Morris of Prospect St., Lisbon, was fined $5 and costs for failure to stop within the assured clear distance and Ralph Eck of 103 Monaca St. was fined $5 and costs for passing without the assured clear distance.

George N. Rizer of Annesley Rd. was fined $5 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

Yorkville Man Killed, 10 Hurt In Collision

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — A Yorkville man was killed and 10 other persons were injured in a two-car crash Thursday night four miles southwest of Mechanicsburg.

Killed was Aloysius Greeshop, driver of one of the cars.

Injured were James McLaughlin of Springfield, driver of the second car, eight members of his family and another passenger, Susan Groeber, 15, of Springfield.

According to latest estimates, the average American drinks a little more than three cups per day.

Wellsville and Chester also will be closed.

Postal service will be curtailed here and elsewhere.

Normal holiday schedules will be maintained Monday at the main office here, while Station A in the East End and Calcutta branch at the Potters Lumber Co. will be closed for all business, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said.

There will be no delivery or window service, but special delivery and perishable items will be delivered. The lobby of the main office will be open for box patrons to obtain their mail. Stamps also will be available at the vending machine in the lobby.

Virtually the same service will be offered in the other post offices.

Postmaster Robert Edwards said the box section in the lobby there will be open from 7 to 9 a. m. Monday.

The Chester City Hall will be open as usual over the holiday weekend with the exception of the Water and Sewer Department, which will be closed all day Monday, Mayor Harry Abrams announced.

Strike Slated To Dock Ships

CLEVELAND (AP)— Nine Great Lakes buik freighters operated by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. are already docked or will be when they reach port because of a strike of 36 licensed engineers.

The engineers are represented by the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association. A spokesman for the union said the strike was called because Cleveland-Cliffs would not agree to make any contract improvements negotiated retroactive to May 1, as other shippers have.

The union is waiting for a steel contract settlement, which normally sets the bargaining pattern for lake sailors, many of whom are represented by the United Steelworkers. The contract with Cleveland-Cliffs expired April 30, but was extended to Sept. 1.

Cleveland-Cliffs has two iron ore carriers tied up at Superior, Wis., one at Toledo and another, the Champlain, docked in Cleveland today. An ore carrier and a grain-hauling freighter are docked at Buffalo. Three other Cleveland - Cliffs vessels are en route to ports.

A company spokesman disputed the union's explanation that retroactivity of a new contract was the issue in the walkout. Instead, the spokesman said, the union is striking because Cleveland-Cliffs would not agree to an immediate representation election for 36 deck officers and stewards who now are not union members.

More New Teachers Set In County School System

LISBON — Fourteen new teachers and one new principal will be starting their duties Tuesday at two school districts in the county.

In the Fairfield - Waterford district, Calvin Graber of New Waterford R.D. 1 has been named principal of Fairfield School to succeed Robert Carter, who is now at 4th St. School in Salem. Graber was a principal at Calcutta School the last two school years and three years earlier was a teacher in the Beaver Local School District.

The four teachers new to the Fairfield - Waterford system are: Mrs. Beverly Lunger of Columbiana, kindergarten; Mrs. Maxine Dillon of North Lima, fourth grade; Stephen Koren of Struthers, junior high school social studies and boys' physical education, and Miss Mary Jane Stansel of Lisbon, guidance counselor at Crestview High School.

With the exception of Miss Stansel, the other teachers all will be at Fairfield school. There are no new teachers at New Waterford.

Miss Bonita Leedy of Fredericktown will serve both Fairfield - Waterford and United districts as a speech - hearing therapist.

Teachers new to the United Local district are: Mrs. Delores Henceforth of Salem R.D. 3, fourth grade; Lewis Negley of Butler, Pa., seventh grade and junior high football; Richard Valentine of Adrian, Mich., junior high mathematics and junior high football.

Other new teachers in the United Local system are: Lester Blanchard of Kensington R. D. 1, high school science, physical education and coaching; Harry Brown of Millersville, N. Y., industrial arts; Mrs. Dianne Deitch of Salem, high school social studies; Joseph Herman of Uhrichsville, Typing I and guidance counselor; Miss Gene McCune of Lisbon, high school English, and Kenneth Ferris of Minerva, instrumental music.

Murray Due To Assume Council President's Post

Councilman Floyd L. Murray is scheduled to move up to the Council president's chair Tuesday night to succeed Mayor George E. Willshaw, clearing the way for his fellow members to elect another East End Democrat as his successor.

Murray, now president pro tem, is scheduled to move up automatically to the president's chair which Willshaw left on Wednesday to replace Merrill D. Hall as mayor. Willshaw's elevation also was automatic under state law.

Murray's successor will be named by a majority vote of the remaining six councilmen. Since five are Democrats, it's a foregone conclusion the new councilman will be a member of that party. And he also must be a resident of the First Ward.

The standard procedure in such cases is for Council to receive applications for the vacancy, then vote by secret ballot.

The elevation of Murray also will mean election of a new president pro tem, to preside in the president's absence.

It also will mean changes in several of Council's standing committees, as the president does not vote — except in case of a tie — or serve on committees.

Murray is chairman of the street committee and also serves on the finance and ordinance committees. In addition, he is one of Council's two representatives on the Police Pension Board.

Murray will serve Willshaw's unexpired term ending Dec. 31. He already is his party's nominee for a third term as First Ward councilman.

The Council presidency will be filled for a full term at the general election Nov. 2. The nominees are Ernest A. Lowe, Republican, and Arch H. Smith, Democrat.

Willshaw will be a candidate to continue in the mayor's office, winning the GOP nomination after Hall decided not to seek a second term. The Democratic nominee is Robert Owen, former safety - service director and councilman.

The stage was set for all the changes when Hall announced his resignation Aug. 4, effective Aug. 31.

Elkton's PTA Gets Set For First Session

The executive board of the Elkton School Parent-Teacher Association outlined plans this week for the first PTA meeting of the new term Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Committee chariman appointed are Mrs. William Madison, program; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bettis, ways and means; Mrs. James Angelmyer, membership;

Committee chariman appointed are Mrs. William Madison, program; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bettis, ways and means; Mrs. Charles Dickey, playground; Mrs. Rudibaugh, publicity; Mrs. James Angelmyer, membership; Mrs. Bert Dailey, PTA magazine; Mrs. Carol Leslie, hospitality; Mrs. Ralph Apple, devotions; Mrs. John Booth, lunch; Mrs. Watson, school paper.

The executive board will meet at 7 previous to the first meeting of the PTA.

Hearings Are Set In Pennsylvania On CATV Action

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Public Utility Commission will hold hearings here Oct. 13-14 on a proposal by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania to for Community Antenna Television (CATV) companies in the state.

The PUC in June suspended for investigation Bell's plan to set up rates and regulations for use of its telephone equipment to carry CATV system booster signals to home sets.

Filed to become effective June 25, the proposal was delayed up to six months for a "thorough analysis" of Bell's new rates and service conditions, the PUC said.

Two complaints, to be aired at the inquiry hearings, came from the Community Antenna Television Association, Meadville, and Telesystems Corp., Glenside. They contend the proposed rates are excessive and the transmission service, if sanctioned, would create illegal competition with the cable firms.

Hunt Being Resumed For Ice Fall Victims

SAAS FEE, Switzerland (AP) —Rescuers resumed the search today for the victims of the Allalin glacier ice fall, halted by a driving rainstorm Thursday night.

At least 80 construction workers, most of them Italians, were believed still under the mass of ice which fell on the Mattmark power station Monday. Ten bodies, including one woman, have been recovered.

Pennsylvania Man, 45, Killed In Plane Crash

ST. MARYS, Pa. (AP) — A light plane crashed in a cornfield and slammed into a barn Thursday, killing the pilot, Jack R. Bascot, 45, of Emporium.

Bascot, a painting contractor, reportedly was headed for Florence, S. C., to attend the funeral of an uncle. He took off in fog and crashed a few moments later.

Alabama School Unit Adopts Resolution

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Board of Education has urged local school systems to go no further with desegregation than the minimum required by federal laws and courts.

A resolution adopted during a meeting Thursday night claimed that school integration "in excess of minimum requirements of the law and court orders could jeopardize the continued support by the public of public education."

Attending the 2½-hour meeting were Gov. George Wallace, who is chairman of the State Board of Education, Lt. Gov. James Allen and House Speaker Albert Brewer.

and Francis Aloi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aloi of Midland Ave., at noon on Aug. 21.

Fr. John Sabovik, assistant pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of cibotium palms, ferns, standards of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a bouffant sheath of silk organza fashioned with Alencon lace trim at the bodice and hemline, accented with seed pearls and sequins. It also was highlighted with scoop neckline, long tapering sleeves, train attached to the bodice with a large cluster of roses.

Patty Krovisky, maid of honor, was attired in an apricot bell-shaped sheath floor - length gown, fashioned with a round scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves and a train attached to the back of the sheath. Her headpiece was a cluster of baby rosebuds with bouffant veil.

Diane Demoratz, sister of the bride, and Eva Cvetovich were bridesmaids. They were attired identically to the maid of honor.

The attendants carried cascade-style bouquets of miniature white carnations and apricot-colored roses to match their gowns and ivy streamers.

The bride's mother wore a silk ensemble and the bridegroom's mother chose a brocade outfit. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Albert Aloi, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Danny Suffoletta and Michael Vasquez were ushers.

A reception was held at Deramo's Azure Room.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and was employed in the office of Attys. Suffoletta and Masters. Her husband is also a graduate of Midland High School and Geneva College in Beaver Falls. He is a teacher and assistant basketball coach at Ellwood City High School.

Newlyweds Are Residing At Home In Bowling Green

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heidel are residing at Bowling Green following their marriage the evening of Aug. 21 at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The bride was Miss Barbara Littell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Littell, 355 Imperial Dr. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heidel, 1233 Cora St.

The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Helen Boley, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Wanda Schussler, aunt of the bride, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer."

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta designed with elbow-length sleeves. The sheath skirt was accented with scroll beading. A Watteau train highlighted the back of the gown. Her pearl crown held a shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias.

Miss Glenda Littell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of brocade and crepe. The Empire - style bodice was fashioned from cranberry color brocade and attached to a skirt of shell pink crepe, styled in a controlled silhouette. A cranberry brocade Watteau train added back accent. Her matching Dior headpiece held a theater veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses touched with ivy.

William Beaver, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Tim Ksenich of Lorain and William Bigelow.

Grandmothers of the principals attending were Mrs. J. L. Littell, who wore pink, and Mrs. Herman Heidel, who wore blue. Both had white accessories and carnation corsages.

Aides were Miss Susan Vaupel, Miss Vera Durany, Miss Esther Ward, Miss Mary Ellen Walker, Mrs. Beverly Bayley and Mrs. Phyllis Mercer.

Guests were from St. Marys, W. Va., Midland, Lorain, Cleveland and Youngstown.

The newlyweds are 1962 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride was graduated from the City Hospital School of Nursing in 1965 and is on the staff of the Wood County Hospital at Bowling Green. Her husband is a member of the Senior Class at Bowling Green State University.

The rehearsal party was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Beaver of College St.

Linda Rae Evans Marries In West Coast Ceremony

Miss Linda Rae Evans, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Evans of LaCroft Ave. and the late Raymond Evans, became the bride of Thomas Jolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jolly of Glenmoor, the morning of Aug. 21 at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's Church of Fullerton, Calif., with Fr. Thomas McGee, pastor, officiating for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a dress of white French lace designed with a fitted bodice, which featured a square neckline and three-quarter length sleeves and a sheath skirt. A matching Dior bow with theater veil completed her costume. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley tied with satin streamers.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Douglas were attendants. The matron of honor wore a gold color dress with matching headpiece and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow tearoses.

For her honeymoon to Ensenada, Mex., the bride wore a poudre blue sheath with matching accessories.

The bride, a 1960 graduate of East Liverpool High School, was graduated in 1964 from Bowling Green State University with a bachelor of science degree in education. She was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. A former teacher of the sixth grade at LaCroft School, she has accepted a position at the McCumber School in Buena Park.

The bridegroom was graduated from the high school in 1956 and attended Linsley Military School in Wheeling for two years and Kent State University for three years. He served in the Army for two years, being stationed in France, and was discharged in December 1964. He is employed at the Warner Bros. Studios in Hollywood.

and Francis Aloi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aloi of Midland Ave., at noon on Aug. 21.

Fr. John Sabovik, assistant pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of cibotium palms, ferns, standards of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a bouffant sheath of silk organza fashioned with Alencon lace trim at the bodice and hemline, accented with seed pearls and sequins. It also was highlighted with scoop neckline, long tapering sleeves, train attached to the bodice with a large cluster of roses.

Patty Krovisky, maid of honor, was attired in an apricot bell-shaped sheath floor - length gown, fashioned with a round scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves and a train attached to the back of the sheath. Her headpiece was a cluster of baby rosebuds with bouffant veil.

Diane Demoratz, sister of the bride, and Eva Cvetovich were bridesmaids. They were attired identically to the maid of honor.

The attendants carried cascade-style bouquets of miniature white carnations and apricot-colored roses to match their gowns and ivy streamers.

The bride's mother wore a silk ensemble and the bridegroom's mother chose a brocade outfit. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Albert Aloi, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and

Newlyweds Are Residing At Home In Bowling Green

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heidel are residing at Bowling Green following their marriage the evening of Aug. 21 at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

The bride was Miss Barbara Littell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Littell, 355 Imperial Dr. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heidel, 1233 Cora St.

The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Helen Boley, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Wanda Schussler, aunt of the bride, sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer."

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta designed with elbow-length sleeves. The sheath skirt was accented with scroll beading. A Watteau train highlighted the back of the gown. Her pearl crown held a shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias.

Miss Glenda Littell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of brocade and crepe. The Empire - style bodice was fashioned from cranberry color brocade and attached to a skirt of shell pink crepe, styled in a controlled silhouette. A cranberry brocade Watteau train added back accent. Her matching Dior headpiece held a theater veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses touched with ivy.

Grandmothers of the principals attending were Mrs. J. L. Littell, who wore pink, and Mrs. Herman Heidel, who wore blue. Both had white accessories and carnation corsages.

Aides were Miss Susan Vaupel, Miss Vera Durany, Miss Esther Ward, Miss Mary Ellen Walker, Mrs. Beverly Bayley and Mrs. Phyllis Mercer.

The newlyweds are 1962 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride was graduated from the City Hospital School of Nursing in 1965 and is on the staff of the Wood County Hospital at Bowling Green. Her husband is a member of the Senior Class at Bowling Green State University.

The rehearsal party was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Beaver of College St.

Kiwanians Hear Clinic's Head At Lisbon Luncheon

LISBON — The problems and treatment of mental illness were discussed by the director of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic Thursday at a Kiwanis Club luncheon at St. George's parish hall.

Donald Roberts, director of the clinic, emphasized that people tend to reject individuals who show signs of mental illness and, as a consequence, they are not helping their fellow man as much as they could.

Roberts also stressed that those who tend to become disturbed have no insight into their condition and resist treatment because of this lack of insight.

People the clinic can help most, Roberts said, are those who come in recognizing they have a problem.

The clinic director also described the staff of the county unit, which includes six part-time workers and himself as the only full-time employe. He pointed out that the clinic is supported at the county level only.

Women of the church served the luncheon.

Fugitive Is Held In Hancock Jail

WEIRTON — A Pennsylvania man, declared a fugitive from justice in December 1964, has been apprehended by FBI agents in Glenville, W. Va., and returned to Hancock County.

Thomas G. Palmer, 22, of Aliquippa, charged with felonious assault on a warrant filed Dec. 8, 1964, by West Virginia state police of the Weirton Barracks, was indicted by the January 1965 term of the grand jury in connection with the beating of James H. Carson in the Cactus Bar, located in the "Strip" along U.S. Route 30.

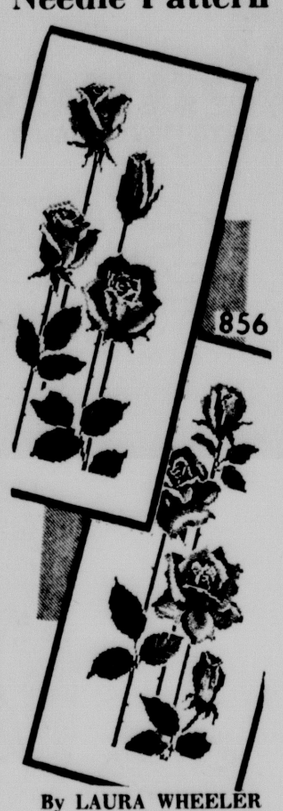

Palmer, presently being held under $10,000 bond in Hancock County jail, fled the area and the FBI was notified of his status as a fugitive from justice.

Various Actions Are Taken At Commissioners' Meeting

LISBON — The purchase of tools, payment of bills for equipment for the County Home and approval of a land plat marked Thursday's meeting of the Columbiana County commissioners.

The tools, to be used on the farm being prepared for teenage youngsters on Route 7, near Rogers, had been requested by Welfare Director Robert Bycroft. Included are a band saw, jig saw, drill press and a bench saw with a motor and stand.

They were purchased from J. F. McKee of New Waterford R.D. 1, formerly of Pittsburgh, at a cost of $345.

Two bills for loose equipment for the County Home also were approved by the commissioners.

The first was from the Denny Supply Co. of Mansfield for $4,024.95. The firm provided 48 upholstered chairs, six upholstered sofas, six coffee tables, an executive desk, an executive chair, a secretary's desk and a secretary's chair.

The other was from the Miller Co. of Piqua for $1,675. Eighteen general used tables were provided by the firm.

A plat in Center Township also was approved. The large piece of land is plat No. 1, lots one through 123 in the northwest quarter of Section 7 of Center Township, with it being designated as Resort Properties, Inc.

The owners of the property are Thomas C. Hardie and Bessie C. Hardie, with C. H. Jordan of Lisbon president of Resort Properties, Inc.

The next meeting of the commissioners will be Thursday. There will be no meeting Monday because of Labor Day.

Case In Hancock Seeks $250,000

NEW CUMBERLAND — Tony Mankowski of Weirton has filed a $250,000 civil action in Hancock County Circuit Court, naming as defendants the Weirton Osteopathic Hospital and Dr. J. A. Matousek.

Mankowski charges in his petition he underwent a tonsillectomy at the hospital in 1945. He alleges he sought medical advice when his throat continued to pain and then underwent a second operation, but then was advised that the pain was "imaginary."

Mankowski alleges that X-rays taken on Sept. 8, 1963, revealed "a foreign metal substance" in his throat and further surgery showed a part of a surgical implement in the healed wound.

Rhodes Eyes Sept. 28 For Special Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to set Sept. 28 as the date for a special primary to nominate candidates for the 7th district congressional seat vacated by the death of U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown.

Rhodes is scheduled to announce his decision Saturday. The Columbus Dispatch reported Thursday it had learned from "a reliable source" that the governor had decided to hold the elections.

A new congressman then would be elected in November during local elections in the eight counties of the district.

3 West Virginia Strikes Continue

By The Associated Press

Strikes at two coal mines and an aluminum company in West Virginia continued to idle more than 1,000 men today.

About 260 employes of Island Creek Coal Co.'s Kelly mine at Amherstdale, Logan County, staged their third wildcat strike since Aug. 18 Thursday and they remained off the jobs today.

In Fairmont, more than 400 employes of Alcan Aluminum Co. were in their third day of an authorized strike following expiration of their work contract.

A meeting is scheduled Sunday between Alcan representatives and officials of the United Steelworkers union in an attempt to obtain a new work agreement.

The third strike involves about 400 men at Hanna Coal Co.'s Ireland mine near Moundsville. The miners walked off their jobs earlier this week in a dispute over job assignments.

However, the workers voted Thursday to return to their jobs, but not until next Tuesday.

5 Charged In Assault Upon Bloomfield Man

Five West Point and Lisbon area men, charged with assault on a Bloomfield resident, pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing Thursday before County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

Jack Shields of Bloomfield filed the charges against Robert Anderson, Andrew Dudick and William Shamp of West Point and Richard Hutchison and Floyd Shamp Jr. of Lisbon.

Judge Arfman set $100 bond each for the five and scheduled a hearing Sept. 23.

Probe Opens After Large Kill Of Fish

CINCINNATI (AP)—A team of state investigators were to tour the Great Miami River Valley around New Baltimore today as the result of a large fish kill reported this week.

There was no authoritiative estimate on the number of fish killed, but witnesses said they found hundreds of small and large fish along the banks Tuesday and many others floated downstream to the Ohio River.

William Klein, chemist-biologist for the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission, said Thursday night he had inspected some of the dead fish and found a gelatinous substance on their gills. He said this might have caused the death.

"But this is not some toxic chemical or cyanide as in the case of some kills. This seems to be something different," Klein said.

Several large fish kills have been reported in the Great Miami in recent years and the Ohio Wildlife Division is now trying to collect a large fine from one manufacturer as the result of a kill of an estimated 7.8 million fish last year near New Miami. The Great Miami flows through a heavily industrialized area.

"The state of Ohio now means business on this polluting of water and killing of fish," Klein said.

Don Lewis Heads Southern Local's Boosters Group

Don Lewis of Salineville was elected president of the Southern Local Boosters Club at a meeting Thursday night at Southern Local High School. He succeeds Dominic Sabbatino.

Others named were Dale Rose of Highlandtown, vice president, and Miss Ruth McNicol of Salineville, secretary - treasurer.

The executive board consists of Homer Stewart of Highlandtown, Harold Merriner of Salineville, Wilton (Whitey) McElroy of Frischkorn Addition, Don McCord of Summitville and Jim Ewing of Gavers.

A special meeting will be held Wednesday night at 8 at the high school to plan for feeding the football team after the first home game Sept. 10.

A work session will be held tonight and over the weekend at the football field. The next meeting will be Oct. 7.

188 Present At Meeting Of Senior Group

A total of 188 attended the East Liverpool Senior Citizens meeting Thursday afternoon at the parish house of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on 4th St.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury led opening prayer.

It was announced that chartered buses will leave the downtown terminal Saturday at 11 a.m. for the Canfield Fair, where the group will participate in a program from 2 to 4 p.m.

W. I. Kimbro of the Social Security office will speak at next Thursday's meeting on new social security benefits. Booklets and other information will be available, with a question-and-answer period to be conducted.

Two members, Edith Nichols and Charles Pritchett, were presented a corsage and a gift of handkerchiefs, respectively. The group sang "God Will Take Care of You" in observance of the birthday of Mrs. Maude Falconer.

"Come to the Fair" and "Marching Through Zion" were sung by the chorus.

Jack Barrett presided during the business session.

Seven visitors were present, including one from St. Petersburg, Fla., two from Los Angeles and the remainder from area towns.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Anna Schneibel and the committee.

Street Dance Moved Indoors By Jaycees

The street dance to be sponsored Saturday night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce has been moved indoors because of the possibility of inclement weather, it has been announced.

The dance will be held in the Youth Harbor on Mulberry St., East End, from 7 to 11 p.m. according to Lawrence Applegate, chairman.

Two bands will play, including the Jades, a local rock and roll group. Refreshments will be sold.

The dance will replace the boat regatta which has been held in the past over the Labor Day weekend.

John Andrews, new state GOP chairman, will speak at a public meeting Oct. 7 at 8 p. m. at the Memorial Building in Salem.

It also was announced the Southern Columbiana County Teen-Age Republicans will conduct a "celebrity auction" Oct. 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the annex. The auction will be open to the public.

Mrs. Neil Morrison was introduced as a new member.

Reports were made by Mrs. Ruth Brian, membership chairman, and Mrs. Grace Leasure, treasurer. Mrs. Harry Walker, chaplain, offered prayer.

A "Meet Your Candidate" night will be observed during a joint meeting with the men's organization on Oct. 6 at the annex.

Kiwanians Hear Clinic's Head At Lisbon Luncheon

LISBON — The problems and treatment of mental illness were discussed by the director of the Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic Thursday at a Kiwanis Club luncheon at St. George's parish hall.

Donald Roberts, director of the clinic, emphasized that people tend to reject individuals who show signs of mental illness and, as a consequence, they are not helping their fellow man as much as they could.

Roberts also stressed that those who tend to become disturbed have no insight into their condition and resist treatment because of this lack of insight.

People the clinic can help most, Roberts said, are those who come in recognizing they have a problem.

The clinic director also described the staff of the county unit, which includes six part-time workers and himself as the only full-time employe. He pointed out that the clinic is supported at the county level only.

Women of the church served the luncheon.

Fugitive Is Held In Hancock Jail

WEIRTON — A Pennsylvania man, declared a fugitive from justice in December 1964, has been apprehended by FBI agents in Glenville, W. Va., and returned to Hancock County.

Thomas G. Palmer, 22, of Aliquippa, charged with felonious assault on a warrant filed Dec. 8, 1964, by West Virginia state police of the Weirton Barracks, was indicted by the January 1965 term of the grand jury in connection with the beating of James H. Carson in the Cactus Bar, located in the "Strip" along U.S. Route 30.

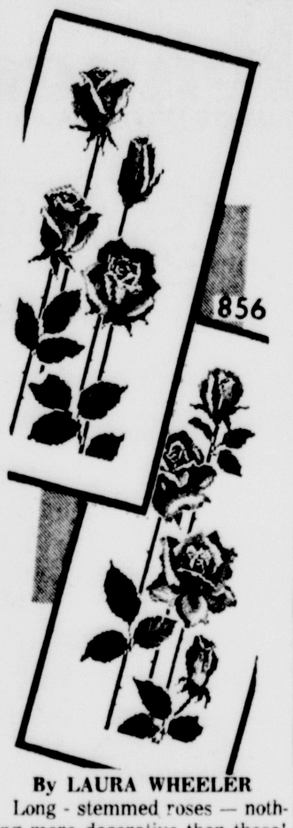

Palmer, presently being held under $10,000 bond in Hancock County jail, fled the area and the FBI was notified of his status as a fugitive from justice.

Young said two buses a day will begin operating Tuesday between here and East Liverpool. Regular bus runs will be continued to Youngstown, he added. Runs to East Palestine had been scheduled only on Saturdays in recent years.

Various Actions Are Taken At Commissioners' Meeting

LISBON — The purchase of tools, payment of bills for equipment for the County Home and approval of a land plat marked Thursday's meeting of the Columbiana County commissioners.

The tools, to be used on the farm being prepared for teenage youngsters on Route 7, near Rogers, had been requested by Welfare Director Robert Bycroft. Included are a band saw, jig saw, drill press and a bench saw with a motor and stand.

They were purchased from J. F. McKee of New Waterford R.D. 1, formerly of Pittsburgh, at a cost of $345.

Two bills for loose equipment for the County Home also were approved by the commissioners.

The first was from the Denny Supply Co. of Mansfield for $4,024.95. The firm provided 48 upholstered chairs, six upholstered sofas, six coffee tables, an executive desk, an executive chair, a secretary's desk and a secretary's chair.

The other was from the Miller Co. of Piqua for $1,675. Eighteen general used tables were provided by the firm.

A plat in Center Township also was approved. The large piece of land is plat No. 1, lots one through 123 in the northwest quarter of Section 7 of Center Township, with it being designated as Resort Properties, Inc.

The owners of the property are Thomas C. Hardie and Bessie C. Hardie, with C. H. Jordan of Lisbon president of Resort Properties, Inc.

The next meeting of the commissioners will be Thursday. There will be no meeting Monday because of Labor Day.

Case In Hancock Seeks $250,000

NEW CUMBERLAND — Tony Mankowski of Weirton has filed a $250,000 civil action in Hancock County Circuit Court, naming as defendants the Weirton Osteopathic Hospital and Dr. J. A. Matousek.

Mankowski charges in his petition he underwent a tonsillectomy at the hospital in 1945. He alleges he sought medical advice when his throat continued to pain and then underwent a second operation, but then was advised that the pain was "imaginary."

Mankowski alleges that X-rays taken on Sept. 8, 1963, revealed "a foreign metal substance" in his throat and further surgery showed a part of a surgical implement in the healed wound.

Rhodes Eyes Sept. 28 For Special Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to set Sept. 28 as the date for a special primary to nominate candidates for the 7th district congressional seat vacated by the death of U.S. Rep. Clarence J. Brown.

Rhodes is scheduled to announce his decision Saturday. The Columbus Dispatch reported Thursday it had learned from "a reliable source" that the governor had decided to hold the elections.

A new congressman then would be elected in November during local elections in the eight counties of the district.

3 West Virginia Strikes Continue

By The Associated Press

Strikes at two coal mines and an aluminum company in West Virginia continued to idle more than 1,000 men today.

About 260 employes of Island Creek Coal Co.'s Kelly mine at Amherstdale, Logan County, staged their third wildcat strike since Aug. 18 Thursday and they remained off the jobs today.

In Fairmont, more than 400 employes of Alcan Aluminum Co. were in their third day of an authorized strike following expiration of their work contract.

A meeting is scheduled Sunday between Alcan representatives and officials of the United Steelworkers union in an attempt to obtain a new work agreement.

The third strike involves about 400 men at Hanna Coal Co.'s Ireland mine near Moundsville. The miners walked off their jobs earlier this week in a dispute over job assignments.

However, the workers voted Thursday to return to their jobs, but not until next Tuesday.

5 Charged In Assault Upon Bloomfield Man

Jack Shields of Bloomfield filed the charges against Robert Anderson, Andrew Dudick and William Shamp of West Point and Richard Hutchison and Floyd Shamp Jr. of Lisbon.

Judge Arfman set $100 bond each for the five and scheduled a hearing Sept. 23.

Probe Opens After Large Kill Of Fish

CINCINNATI (AP)—A team of state investigators were to tour the Great Miami River Valley around New Baltimore today as the result of a large fish kill reported this week.

There was no authoritiative estimate on the number of fish killed, but witnesses said they found hundreds of small and large fish along the banks Tuesday and many others floated downstream to the Ohio River.

William Klein, chemist-biologist for the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission, said Thursday night he had inspected some of the dead fish and found a gelatinous substance on their gills. He said this might have caused the death.

"But this is not some toxic chemical or cyanide as in the case of some kills. This seems to be something different," Klein said.

Several large fish kills have been reported in the Great Miami in recent years and the Ohio Wildlife Division is now trying to collect a large fine from one manufacturer as the result of a kill of an estimated 7.8 million fish last year near New Miami. The Great Miami flows through a heavily industrialized area.

"The state of Ohio now means business on this polluting of water and killing of fish," Klein said.

Panel Discussion Set On Dropouts

The East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club will tackle the first of its programmed civic participation projects of the year on Wednesday evening when it will hear a panel discussion on "School Dropouts — A Civic Problem?".

Karole Kapp, chairman of the club's Civic Participation Committee in charge of the event, pointed out that "our BPW Club members are sincerely concerned with problems of today's young people, especially those which have resulted in a growing number of high school dropouts. These are actually personal problems for those in BPW who are mothers, sisters, teachers, neighbors, or employers of young persons. In our work, we are the first to see the end results of this nationwide trend which is producing an increasing number of idle, unemployable boys and girls. Their lack of employable skills finds them unprepared to take their places now, or our places later. That is why, this year, our BPW Club is emphasizing a three-point 'Plan for Progress' in youth, education and service in our community."

PARTICIPANTS in the program, which will follow the club's 6:30 p.m. dinner at the Travelers Hotel, include five widely - known area speakers, each of whom will approach the school dropout theme from varying aspects.

Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of girls at East Liverpool High School, will discuss underlying causes and trends as revealed in research studies of the National Education Association and the Ford Foundation. Mrs. Connor attended Muskingum College and received her bachelor's degree at Geneva, her master's at the University of Pittsburgh and pursued graduate study in guidance at Northwestern. In the dean's post, she also serves as guidance counselor.

Mrs. Thomas Graham, principal of Taft and Lincoln elementary schools in East Liverpool, is equally qualified to speak on local aspects, having taught "Special Education" classes here for five years prior to her appointment as principal. Mrs. Graham also received her master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh, her bachelor's at Seton Hill College. In her panel presentation, she will approach the problem at an elementary age level, revealing how dropout tendencies are disclosed in these early years.

Dr. Alexander S. Fisher, pediatrician, will discuss physical attributes and parental attitudes and how these influence a child's school attendance or desire for education. Dr. Fisher needs no introduction to BPW members, since he has given his professional services as medical director of the club's "Child Health Clinic" since its inception in 1947.

STILL ANOTHER approach to the topic will be given by James Moss, for eight years a member of the East Liverpool Board of Education and long prominent in area trades and labor activity. Employed at the Hall China Co. as a caster, Moss will present the viewpoint of a father of two sons, both of whom attended local schools.

The fifth panel member, the Rev. James Sanko, pastor of the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church the last five years, will advance his interpretations of the "functions of education" in combatting the dropout trend. It is probable that he, too, will discuss parental attitudes to the problem, since he has two sons and a daughter. From Ford City, Pa., Rev. Sanko was educated at Grove City College and Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Speakers will be introduced by Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, a past president of the BPW Club, who also will serve as moderator during the question - and - answer period which will follow the panel's presentation.

Mrs. Dunlop has served as a member of the Board of Education the last four years, currently as vice president, and is a candidate for re-election in November. Since June, she has been working as the BPW contact chairman for the Job Opportunity Corps and for two prior years was chairman of the study committee on school dropouts.

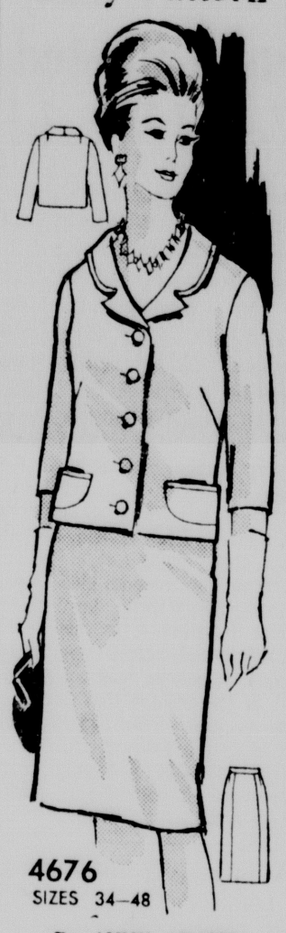

Assisting Miss Kapp with program arrangements are Miss Gloria Naughton, co - chairman, Mrs. Edward C. Edgar, Mrs. Louise Lawton, Mrs. William Pusey and Mrs. John M. Thompson.

A special guest will be Mrs. Katherine James of Uhrichsville, director of District 8 of the Ohio BPW Federation, making her official annual visit and hearing reports from the local club's standing committees during the business meeting which will follow the program event. Mrs. James also will discuss the group's participation in the upcoming district meeting Oct. 10 in Canton.

BPW members are asked to contact Miss Olive Williamson, mutual service chairman, for dinner reservations no later than Monday.

Khrushchev Back Home Following Hospital Tests

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was hospitalized for tests last month but is now back at his country dacha in good health, his daughter said today.

Rada Adzhubei, Khrushchev's daughter and wife of former Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, told a reporter, "He feels well."

She said Khrushchev was in a hospital last month for tests normal for a man 71 years old. She declined to elaborate further.

Reliable Communist sources said Khrushchev had been treated for circulatory trouble. The sources said Khrushchev had been under regular medical observation since he was deposed last October.

State Fair's Attendance To Top 1964

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Galloping attendance figures at the 1965 Ohio State Fair were expected to top last year's total mark today, with the big Labor Day weekend still ahead.

Fair officials said 72,635 persons passed through the gates Thursday, bringing this year's attendance up to 609,354. Total attendance last year was 645,073.

One of the biggest attractions Thursday was the appearance of Robert Manry at ceremonies honoring the Cleveland newsman for his 78-day solo voyage across the Atlantic Ocean in a 13½-foot boat.

Gov. James A. Rhodes described Manry as "one of Ohio's real heroes" and "a man who performed a miracle."

Manry, accompanied by Rhodes, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, Cleveland Mayor Ralph Locher and other officials, toured the fairgrounds and attended dedication ceremonies for the new $720,000 Frank J. Lausche Youth Exhibits Building.

Rhodes, long an admirer of Lausche, told the fair crowd: "No other governor of Ohio gave such attention and devotion to the fair as Frank J. Lausche."

Also dedicated by Rhodes Thursday were the Herbert F. Christian Youth Camp, the Myers Y. Cooper Judging Arena and the Ohio Highway Patrol Academy building.

The youth camp, named for a World War II Congressional Medal of Honor winner, provides on-the-job training for boys from Fairfield School for Boys, Juvenile Diagnostic Center and Central Ohio Training Institute.

Mortgages Jump In August Report

LISBON — Mortgages recorded for August, and the consideration involved, increased in comparison with July statistics.

There were 297 mortgages last month, with a consideration of $3,161,532, according to figures released by John P. Wargo, recorder. The July figures showed 256 mortgages with a consideration of $3,053,231.

However, the number of deeds recorded in August showed a considerable drop in comparison with July. Wargo reported last month, with a consideration of $1,615,374, compared with July's 294 and $1,720,209.

The lone plat recorded in August was Burton W. Kerr's First Addition to Imperial Park in Liverpool Township.

Other figures for August showed 233 mortgage cancellations, 28 mortgage releases, 36 leases, 29 certified copies of service discharges, 158 insurance company licenses, 397 financing statements and 107 terminations of financing statements.

There also were three mechanics liens, six powers-of-attorney, six unemployment compensation liens, one personal tax release, 21 federal tax liens and 11 federal tax releases.

First Said Son Shot Him

Woman Changes Story, Charged In Boy's Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Mariann Colby sat in Cuyahoga County Jail and said, "It was a horrible accident."

"Why should I want to hurt him? He and my son got along well."

Mrs. Colby, a 40-year-old Shaker Heights housewife, was charged with first degree murder Thursday in the fatal shooting of 8-year-old John Cremer Young Jr., a neighbor boy who often played with her 9-year-old son, Dane. She pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Colby signed a statement Thursday that she accidentally fired the shot that killed the boy Aug. 24, County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber and Shaker Heights Police Chief Carl Longstreet said.

Mrs. Colby has signed two conflicting versions of the shooting, one on Wednesday, Gerber said.

On Wednesday she said Dane accidentally fired the shot, Gerber said. Police said it was impossible for the boy to exert enough pressure to pull the trigger of the .32-caliber revolver. Mrs. Colby then changed her story and said she fired the shot, Gerber said.

Mrs. Colby was arraigned in Shaker Heights Municipal Court and was refused bond, despite the objection of her attorney, Gerald Gold, who said authorities had "no proof whatsoever" to substantiate a first degree murder charge. No bond is allowed in a first degree murder charge.

Authorities have not disclosed the basis for the charge, which indicates evidence of premeditation.

Judge John A. Corlett set a preliminary hearing for Sept. 7.

Authorities said specific details of Mrs. Colby's statement Thursday were these:

She said she had picked up the weapon and was carrying it, along with a pile of laundry. She dropped the laundry and when she stooped to pick it up, the gun fired.

The weapon was recovered after the first statement. She told police they would find the old, pearl-handled revolver wrapped into a package of ground meat in her refrigerator. Detectives said Mrs. Colby told them her husband Robert did not know about the gun.

The intensive questioning of Mrs. Colby began nine days after the body was discovered in a wooded area of Gates Mills.

Detectives said Mrs. Colby told them she wrapped the boy's body in a car coat and a plastic bag, put it in her station wagon and left it where it was found.

Mother, Burned Severely In July, Takes First Step

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A few trembling, hesitant steps — the first in months of agony—have been taken by a young Mexican mother suffering from burns over 70 per cent of her body.

Mrs. Ramona Franco de Portela, 20, smiled Thursday as she apprehensively inched one foot ahead of the other at White Memorial Medical Center, where she has been under treatment since July 4.

Doctors say her recovery thus far is remarkable, especially since she waited, unattended, for two months in her humble Mexican home before help arrived.

She was discovered in Tesapaco, Sonora, Mex., by members of a charity group composed of flying doctors, called Liga International, who brought her to Los Angeles for treatment. They also flew members of her family here for company.

Mrs. De Porteia was burned last May 5 when a stove in her tiny hut exploded. She was found unconscious by her husband, Umberto, and for two months thereafter had only aspirin for medication, doctors said.

Ohio Marine Dies In Viet Without Seeing Daughter

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)— A young Hamilton Marine died in South Viet Nam this week without having ever seen his young daughter.

Pfc. Nelson E. Wilson, 19, was killed Wednesday while on patrol, according to a telegram from Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene to Mrs. Dieretta Wilson.

Although shocked by the news of her husband's death, Mrs. Wilson said, "I would not have felt as bad if he had had a chance to see the baby, but he didn't get a chance."

Wilson enlisted in the Marine Corps last Oct. 2. He was last home on leave in January and was sent to Viet Nam in June.

The Wilsons' baby, Schericia Jeannene, was born three months ago.

Lawrence Given Post At New Jersey Bank

Frederick P. Lawrence, former mayor of East Liverpool, has been elected a director of the Princeton Bank and Trust Co. of Princeton, N. J.

Lawrence and his family moved to Princeton in 1961.

He was the first to be named under a 1964 amendment to New Jersey banking laws allowing the addition of up to two directors to a bank's board between stockholder meetings.

Lawrence, a native of Newell, still continues his varied interests in East Liverpool and the area.

Large-Scale Building Plan Held Key To Racial Problem

CINCINNATI (AP) — Local, state and federal authorities should get together and sponsor a large-scale building program to help provide jobs for Negroes, a Cincinnati labor leader says.

"A massive building program is the only way to solve it (unemployment among Negroes)," Al Bilik, president of the Cincinnati AFL-CIO Labor Council, told the Ohio Civil Rights Commission Thursday.

Bilik said the different government agencies should get together on planning the building program and determine the number of workers needed.

Testimony before the commission—which will try to mediate the dispute—included Negores' accounts of vain attempts to get union cards and statements by labor leaders and contractors that they have policies against racial discrimination.

The commission scheduled its two-day hearing during a series of sit-in demonstrations that have resulted in more than 60 arrests since July 26. There have been no sit-ins for more than a week.

Twenty-two witnesses testified Thursday and Robert J. Coates, deputy director of the commission, said the two hearings resulted in valuable insights into the situation.

Spokesmen for two leading contractors declared Thursday they have policies against racial discrimination, but a Negro labor leader said one firm now employs fewer Negroes than it did in 1955.

Pennsylvania Teacher Dies In 2-Car Crash

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — A Somerset County elementary school teacher was killed Thursday when his car collided with another auto on Route 53 near New Centerville, about eight miles west of Somerset.

Henry Moore, 24, Somerset R.D. 1, driving his car north, collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Ann Marie Barbera, of R.D. 4, Somerset. Moore's wife, Karen, was admitted to Somerset Community Hospital in critical condition.

Mrs. Barbera was hospitalized in fair condition.

Panel Discussion Set On Dropouts

The East Liverpool Business and Professional Women's Club will tackle the first of its programmed civic participation projects of the year on Wednesday evening when it will hear a panel discussion on "School Dropouts — A Civic Problem?".

Karole Kapp, chairman of the club's Civic Participation Committee in charge of the event, pointed out that "our BPW Club members are sincerely concerned with problems of today's young people, especially those which have resulted in a growing number of high school dropouts. These are actually personal problems for those in BPW who are mothers, sisters, teachers, neighbors, or employers of young persons. In our work, we are the first to see the end results of this nationwide trend which is producing an increasing number of idle, unemployable boys and girls. Their lack of employable skills finds them unprepared to take their places now, or our places later. That is why, this year, our BPW Club is emphasizing a three-point 'Plan for Progress' in youth, education and service in our community."

PARTICIPANTS in the program, which will follow the club's 6:30 p.m. dinner at the Travelers Hotel, include five widely - known area speakers, each of whom will approach the school dropout theme from varying aspects.

Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of girls at East Liverpool High School, will discuss underlying causes and trends as revealed in research studies of the National Education Association and the Ford Foundation. Mrs. Connor attended Muskingum College and received her bachelor's degree at Geneva, her master's at the University of Pittsburgh and pursued graduate study in guidance at Northwestern. In the dean's post, she also serves as guidance counselor.

Mrs. Thomas Graham, principal of Taft and Lincoln elementary schools in East Liverpool, is equally qualified to speak on local aspects, having taught "Special Education" classes here for five years prior to her appointment as principal. Mrs. Graham also received her master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh, her bachelor's at Seton Hill College. In her panel presentation, she will approach the problem at an elementary age level, revealing how dropout tendencies are disclosed in these early years.

Dr. Alexander S. Fisher, pediatrician, will discuss physical attributes and parental attitudes and how these influence a child's school attendance or desire for education. Dr. Fisher needs no introduction to BPW members, since he has given his professional services as medical director of the club's "Child Health Clinic" since its inception in 1947.

STILL ANOTHER approach to the topic will be given by James Moss, for eight years a member of the East Liverpool Board of Education and long prominent in area trades and labor activity. Employed at the Hall China Co. as a caster, Moss will present the viewpoint of a father of two sons, both of whom attended local schools.

The fifth panel member, the Rev. James Sanko, pastor of the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church the last five years, will advance his interpretations of the "functions of education" in combatting the dropout trend. It is probable that he, too, will discuss parental attitudes to the problem, since he has two sons and a daughter. From Ford City, Pa., Rev. Sanko was educated at Grove City College and Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Speakers will be introduced by Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, a past president of the BPW Club, who also will serve as moderator during the question - and - answer period which will follow the panel's presentation.

Mrs. Dunlop has served as a member of the Board of Education the last four years, currently as vice president, and is a candidate for re-election in November. Since June, she has been working as the BPW contact chairman for the Job Opportunity Corps and for two prior years was chairman of the study committee on school dropouts.

Assisting Miss Kapp with program arrangements are Miss Gloria Naughton, co - chairman, Mrs. Edward C. Edgar, Mrs. Louise Lawton, Mrs. William Pusey and Mrs. John M. Thompson.

A special guest will be Mrs. Katherine James of Uhrichsville, director of District 8 of the Ohio BPW Federation, making her official annual visit and hearing reports from the local club's standing committees during the business meeting which will follow the program event. Mrs. James also will discuss the group's participation in the upcoming district meeting Oct. 10 in Canton.

BPW members are asked to contact Miss Olive Williamson, mutual service chairman, for dinner reservations no later than Monday.

Khrushchev Back Home Following Hospital Tests

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was hospitalized for tests last month but is now back at his country dacha in good health, his daughter said today.

Rada Adzhubei, Khrushchev's daughter and wife of former Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, told a reporter, "He feels well."

She said Khrushchev was in a hospital last month for tests normal for a man 71 years old. She declined to elaborate further.

Reliable Communist sources said Khrushchev had been treated for circulatory trouble. The sources said Khrushchev had been under regular medical observation since he was deposed last October.

State Fair's Attendance To Top 1964

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Galloping attendance figures at the 1965 Ohio State Fair were expected to top last year's total mark today, with the big Labor Day weekend still ahead.

Fair officials said 72,635 persons passed through the gates Thursday, bringing this year's attendance up to 609,354. Total attendance last year was 645,073.

One of the biggest attractions Thursday was the appearance of Robert Manry at ceremonies honoring the Cleveland newsman for his 78-day solo voyage across the Atlantic Ocean in a 13½-foot boat.

Mortgages Jump In August Report

LISBON — Mortgages recorded for August, and the consideration involved, increased in comparison with July statistics.

There were 297 mortgages last month, with a consideration of $3,161,532, according to figures released by John P. Wargo, recorder. The July figures showed 256 mortgages with a consideration of $3,053,231.

However, the number of deeds recorded in August showed a considerable drop in comparison with July. Wargo reported last month, with a consideration of $1,615,374, compared with July's 294 and $1,720,209.

The lone plat recorded in August was Burton W. Kerr's First Addition to Imperial Park in Liverpool Township.

Other figures for August showed 233 mortgage cancellations, 28 mortgage releases, 36 leases, 29 certified copies of service discharges, 158 insurance company licenses, 397 financing statements and 107 terminations of financing statements.

There also were three mechanics liens, six powers-of-attorney, six unemployment compensation liens, one personal tax release, 21 federal tax liens and 11 federal tax releases.

Reds Reject Visit Of Musical

U.S. Sees Soviet Cooling About Cultural Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials voiced concern today over what they termed Soviet harassment of a program designed to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

The program is the U.S.-Soviet Cultural Exchange — launched seven years ago in the post-Stalin thaw as "a significant first step in the improvement of mutual understanding between the peoples of the United States and the Soviet Union."

Now something like a Communist cold war campaign has set in against one visit under the program: A U.S. exhibition on architecture. And Thursday Moscow rejected without explanation a U.S.-proposed visit of the musical "Hello, Dolly."

Washington sources said today the Soviet exchange for "Hello, Dolly" — the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra — will be allowed to perform in New York next month as scheduled.

Instead of "Hello, Dolly," which had been slated for a five-week simultaneous showing in Moscow and Leningrad, U.S. negotiators were seeking another U.S. performing group which might get Kremlin approval.

U.S. authorities said the Soviets had not been bound to accept "Hello, Dolly" because they had never signed a contract for it. The musical play was one of five such U.S. appearances in the Soviet Union proposed under this year's exchange program, they said.

Washington has been anxious to keep any frictions with the Soviets on a low key while the United States concentrates on the war in Viet Nam. But U.S.-Soviet relations have cooled considerably.

Last week Soviet plainclothesmen manhandled one of the Russian-speaking U.S. exhibition guides, accused him of having been a World War II Nazi agent who killed Soviet partisans, and expelled him.

Autopsy Due In River Case

BEAVER — An autopsy was to be performed this afternoon at the Beaver County Home and Hospital in the death of 71-year-old Mrs. Della Marie Bloom of Raccoon Township, whose body was found floating in the Ohio River Thursday afternoon just north of the Montgomery Dam.

Deputy Coroner Merle Bozzett set the time of death at 7 p.m. Tuesday, estimating that Mrs. Bloom had been in the water about 42 hours.

John Lang of Monaca spotted the body floating near the south shore of the river, where he was target shooting. Lang said he first saw the corpse through the telescope of his rifle.

Mrs. Bloom was last seen about 11 Tuesday morning in the proximity of her home and was reported missing to state police that evening by her son, Ralph Bloom, with whom she resided on Anderson St., R.D. 2 Aliquippa.

Upon spotting the body, Lang drove immediately to the dam to notify Charles Boughner, lockmaster, who dispatched Engineer Lester A. Riley and Assistant Engineer Fred McCullough to the scene.

Bloom tentatively identified his mother Thursday evening through a description given him by state police over the phone.

Later, Bloom made positive identification through a ring, watch and some keys pinned to her dress. Bozzett said the autopsy probably will rule out any foul play, pointing out it could be a case of suicide.

Born in West Aliquippa to the late Grant and Viola McCullough Johnson, Mrs. Bloom was the widow of the late Ralph Bloom who died in 1940. She attended the Mt. Pleasant United Presbyterian Church in Aliquippa.

Other than her son Ralph Bloom, she is survived by five brothers, Grant, Earl, Fred, Elmer and Harper Johnson, all of Raccoon Township.

The body will be removed to the C. E. Douds Funeral Home in Aliquippa.

The first wartime aerial combat in history took place in August 1914 during World War I when Allied and German pilots and observers began shooting at each other with pistols and rifles — with negligible results.

Priceless DeLong Ruby Due Back In Museum

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The priceless DeLong ruby, ransomed from the underworld for $25,000 in cash, will be going back soon to the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

The ruby was found Thursday night in a musty public telephone booth, climaxing weeks of deadends and fruitless tipoffs.

It was not wrapped and might have resembled a large crimson marble to someone who thought to look.

Millionaire John D. MacArthur, financier of the ransom, retrieved the ruby through a telephone tipoff from a free lance writer, Francis P. Antel, who simultaneously had a rendezvous with the ruby's holders.

MacArthur, 68, and his party were telephoned at a Palm Beach hotel late Thursday by Antel and given 30 minutes to drive to the parkway's Palm Beach Gardens service area, several miles distant.

As the party pulled up at the designated telephone booth, the telephone was ringing. It was Antel.

He told Bill Federici, New York Daily News reporter who helped engineer the recovery: "Turn around and face the door. Reach up and you'll feel the ruby."

Said Federici: "It felt like a pebble, as beautiful as anything I have seen in my life."

Quickly, the party sped back to town and to a hotel where a jeweler was waiting to be sure the gem was authentic.

The ruby was one of 24 jewels stolen by three Miami beach boys last Oct. 29 in what police called the most sensational jewel theft of the 20th century.

The sky-blue Star of India sapphire, another of those stolen, was recovered with eight other stones in a Miami bus terminal locker in January. Authorities feared the beautiful ruby, mined in Burma 30 years ago and considered irreplaceable, was forever lost.

It was not known who in the underworld held the ruby, or from where it was delivered to the telephone booth.

In Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N.Y., the three beach boys who lowered themselves into the museum from an outside window are serving three year sentences for theft.

Jack Murphy, a water show diver, Alan Kuhn, bachelor yachtsman and Roger Clark, swimming instructor, said they confessed to the crime to induce recovery of the jewels and obtain lighter sentences.

200 Feet Below Surface

Divers, Experts Adjusted To Sealab's Weird World

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Two hundred feet below the surface of the Pacific, Sealab 2 is already beginning to look as if it belongs there.

The 12-by-58-foot steel cylinder, white when lowered to the bottom a week ago, now is gray with silt and literally crawling with small octopi.

Inside, the divers and scientists who still have more than a week to go before they return to the surface have adapted to their weird world so well they can hardly understand visitors from above.

Their voices and ears have adjusted to the high pressure helium atmosphere in their underwater habitat and they can understand each other's squeaky words with ease. But they have trouble comprehending the speech of topsiders whose larynxes and sinuses are accustomed to oxygen-rich air.

This picture of the dark and silent domain of the depths came in an interview with Capt. George Bond, Sealab 2 medical director, who swam down to sign up a diver whose enlistment had run out.

"It was midday and there was sunlight down to 150 feet," Bond said.

"Below that was a perpetual twilight. I stopped about 20 feet away from the habitat and looked it over for changes. It had already acquired the color of the ocean floor and was caked with marine growth and sediment. Baby octopi were crawling all over it.

"All around were fish, from six inches to two feet long, many of them curious about the light coming from the portholes.

"It was cold — 49 degrees fahrenheit. I felt chilled, despite my rubber diving suit.

"The men were all glad to see me — they'd been down there since Saturday — but they could hardly understand me. My voice, of course, was not adapted to the helium they have to use because of the high toxicity of oxygen under pressure.

"It was good for a laugh, then we went on with the re-enlistment and I got out of there."

U.S. Envoy, Singapore Prime Minister Talk

SINGAPORE (AP)—U.S. Ambassador to Malaysia James D. Bell and Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew met for half an hour today amid the recent strain in relations between this newly independent nation and the United States.

Neither could comment on the closed-door talks.

They presumably discussed developments resulting from Lee's charges that the U.S. government had offered him a $3-million bribe to keep quiet about Central Intelligence Agency activities here in 1960

Lee said Bell had asked for the talks.

Reds Reject Visit Of Musical

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials voiced concern today over what they termed Soviet harassment of a program designed to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

The program is the U.S.-Soviet Cultural Exchange — launched seven years ago in the post-Stalin thaw as "a significant first step in the improvement of mutual understanding between the peoples of the United States and the Soviet Union."

Now something like a Communist cold war campaign has set in against one visit under the program: A U.S. exhibition on architecture. And Thursday Moscow rejected without explanation a U.S.-proposed visit of the musical "Hello, Dolly."

Washington sources said today the Soviet exchange for "Hello, Dolly" — the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra — will be allowed to perform in New York next month as scheduled.

Instead of "Hello, Dolly," which had been slated for a five-week simultaneous showing in Moscow and Leningrad, U.S. negotiators were seeking another U.S. performing group which might get Kremlin approval.

U.S. authorities said the Soviets had not been bound to accept "Hello, Dolly" because they had never signed a contract for it. The musical play was one of five such U.S. appearances in the Soviet Union proposed under this year's exchange program, they said.

Washington has been anxious to keep any frictions with the Soviets on a low key while the United States concentrates on the war in Viet Nam. But U.S.-Soviet relations have cooled considerably.

Last week Soviet plainclothesmen manhandled one of the Russian-speaking U.S. exhibition guides, accused him of having been a World War II Nazi agent who killed Soviet partisans, and expelled him.

Autopsy Due In River Case

BEAVER — An autopsy was to be performed this afternoon at the Beaver County Home and Hospital in the death of 71-year-old Mrs. Della Marie Bloom of Raccoon Township, whose body was found floating in the Ohio River Thursday afternoon just north of the Montgomery Dam.

Deputy Coroner Merle Bozzett set the time of death at 7 p.m. Tuesday, estimating that Mrs. Bloom had been in the water about 42 hours.

John Lang of Monaca spotted the body floating near the south shore of the river, where he was target shooting. Lang said he first saw the corpse through the telescope of his rifle.

Mrs. Bloom was last seen about 11 Tuesday morning in the proximity of her home and was reported missing to state police that evening by her son, Ralph Bloom, with whom she resided on Anderson St., R.D. 2 Aliquippa.

Upon spotting the body, Lang drove immediately to the dam to notify Charles Boughner, lockmaster, who dispatched Engineer Lester A. Riley and Assistant Engineer Fred McCullough to the scene.

Bloom tentatively identified his mother Thursday evening through a description given him by state police over the phone.

Later, Bloom made positive identification through a ring, watch and some keys pinned to her dress. Bozzett said the autopsy probably will rule out any foul play, pointing out it could be a case of suicide.

Born in West Aliquippa to the late Grant and Viola McCullough Johnson, Mrs. Bloom was the widow of the late Ralph Bloom who died in 1940. She attended the Mt. Pleasant United Presbyterian Church in Aliquippa.

Other than her son Ralph Bloom, she is survived by five brothers, Grant, Earl, Fred, Elmer and Harper Johnson, all of Raccoon Township.

The body will be removed to the C. E. Douds Funeral Home in Aliquippa.

The first wartime aerial combat in history took place in August 1914 during World War I when Allied and German pilots and observers began shooting at each other with pistols and rifles — with negligible results.

Priceless DeLong Ruby Due Back In Museum

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The priceless DeLong ruby, ransomed from the underworld for $25,000 in cash, will be going back soon to the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

The ruby was found Thursday night in a musty public telephone booth, climaxing weeks of deadends and fruitless tipoffs.

It was not wrapped and might have resembled a large crimson marble to someone who thought to look.

Millionaire John D. MacArthur, financier of the ransom, retrieved the ruby through a telephone tipoff from a free lance writer, Francis P. Antel, who simultaneously had a rendezvous with the ruby's holders.

MacArthur, 68, and his party were telephoned at a Palm Beach hotel late Thursday by Antel and given 30 minutes to drive to the parkway's Palm Beach Gardens service area, several miles distant.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was cleaning the closets yesterday and I ran across an unfamiliar box. I opened it and found an insurance policy on my husband's life. He had named his mother the beneficiary.

The policy was in an envelope which had been addressed to a man my husband works with. Apparently he had the policy sent to his friend's home because he didn't want me to know about it.

I believe it is admirable for a man to want to take care of his mother. If my husband had told me about the policy I would not have given it another thought. But I'm shocked and hurt that he would sneak around behind my back. Such actions make me lose respect for him.

Should I tell him I found the policy and that I wish he had told me about it or would it be best to leave well enough alone? —SALINAS QUANDARY.

Dear Quandary: — It is unhealthy to keep resentment buried under several layers of silence. Speak up and clear the air. He'll feel better about it, too.

Biggest Problem

Dear Ann: I have one of the biggest problems in the world—my sister. She's 8 years old and I'm 14. I kept hoping the problem would get better, but instead, it's getting worse.

Whenever I have a girl friend over my little sister hangs around, listening to every word we say. The minute my sister shows up the visit is ruined. When I ask her to leave she goes crying to my mother and says I'm being mean to her.

My mother brings her back and yells, "Is it so terrible to have your own sister in the same room with you? What could you be talking about that is so private?"

I know you are a very busy person but I'd certainly appreciate it if you'd fine time to help me. Thank you. — DONNA G.

Dear Donna: Your mother is not treating you fairly when she permits your little sister to invade your privacy. Moreover, she does your little sisger no favor when she allows her to hang around and make a pest of herself.

When I receive letters asking for reasons brothers and sisters grow up to dislike each other I say, "Put them all together and they spell Mother."

Born Loser

Dear Ann: I was fascinated by the long letter from the girl who was feeling sorry for herself because her fiance kept standing her up for dinners which she lovingly prepared in her apartment. She moaned over the burned steaks, wilted salads and fallen souffles.

Honestly, Ann, that dame must be awfully soft in the head and she must be a lousy cook, to boot. Who in her right mind would put steaks under a broiler or dressing on a salad before the boy friend shows up? If the gal shoves the souffle in the oven before she sees the whites of his eyeballs she deserves a fallen souffle.

Dear No Symp: The lady does sound a little out of her tree, now that you mention it. But I DO feel sorry for her because the gal is bound to be a loser, either way.

Confidentially

TO HEARTBROKEN AND WONDERING WHY: I would say it failed for two reasons. She was crazy about money and he didn't have any.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Stone Throwing Can Lead To Trouble

When children throw stones at a target in a safe place or skip flat pebbles on a smooth surface of water, they may derive some useful skills. But when they throw stones at other persons or at any creature or at things they can harm or destroy, they are engaging in dangerous or destructive amusement. If not well-guided, the tot, as young as four or five, may throw stones at a parked car or moving one. He may throw stones at pets or at other children just for fun. He may throw stones to destroy something deliberately.

Dr. Garry Myers

The first time you see your child doing so, turn him over your knee and spank him soundly. Try to be sure he can't repeat the offense without instant physical pain.

A MOTHER from Massachusetts writes: "We have told our son, six, not to throw rocks. He has broken two windows and the example set by him is being followed by his brother, four, and his sister, two.

"We told him he had to pay for the windows from his allowance and he has been confined to his own yard. No fishing with Dad and no special privileges. This punishment did not work, as he had a repeat performance only yesterday."

My reply in part:

The punishments you used were too indefinite. They were too far removed from the offense. Paying for damages out of allowance might work with a much older child but not with one so young.

One of you parents should be with this boy when he has an opportunity to throw stones, so that the moment he throws a stone you can turn him over your knee and paddle him soundly. The bare hand may not be good enough. It should hurt! The punishment should be immediate and without exception. Chances are he has not learned to respect your word in hundreds of other situations.

IT'S BETWEEN the ages of six and 12 that stone-throwing may prove most hazardous and harmful. If another child, wishing to show his throwing skill, throws a stone at a street sign, street lamp, or window of an empty house, your child with him may be tempted to do likewise and thus begins long practice in vandalism. Be vigilant. Deal seriously and effectively with the first offense you apprehend. See that your child is not with other children who engage in such destructive fun. Mere talk hardly will be enough.

Often two boys together will toss clods or stones at each other in mere fun. This fun may develop into fighting with stones. The one who throws the first stone may be in danger, too, as another stone is likely to be returned. The hazards to their eyes then is immeasurable.

Frequently a child who feels he is losing in play with other children may leave the group charging them with unfairness and calling them by ugly names. As he withdraws, he may, in his crying rage, throw stones at them. This cowardly way only makes it harder for him to get along with these and other children.

YOU DO want your child to defend himself, but not with stones. Make clear to him stone - throwing, even in self-defense, is out. Explain to him that, unless he can stand up to defend himself with his bare hands, to retreat is not half so cowardly as to fight with stones.

My bulletins "Love and Restraint," "To Spank or Not To Spank," "How To Teach Child Meaning of No," and "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

by Jim Fisher

CLEANLINESS

Good health is dependent on many things . . . Some simple . . . some a little more complex. However, every housewife everywhere knows the importance of sanitation and cleanliness. Since time began . . . insects have been looked upon as a sign of poor housekeeping methods . . . even slovenliness! Pity the poor housewife who opens her cupboard door in the presence of a guest and startles a bevy of roaches! Can't you imagine what is going on in the mind of her guest?

THE BATTLE

It would almost appear that the insect population of the United States is a well organized army with a brilliant general in command. The battle against insects is endless. The only real hope is Control, adequate, efficient control. The money spent with a reputable, qualified pest control service is about the greatest bargain available to today's homeowner, this money often represents a saving over "do-it-yourself", time consuming, un-efficient methods. And, if one serious disease is averted, think how much this service could be worth to you!

NOT EXPENSIVE

Pest Control Services are neither dangerous nor expensive. That is why we always invite you to call us and let us stop by your home for a free analysis of your insect problems. We'll be glad to sit down with you and explain just what your home needs to be free of all filthy pests . . . rats, roaches, ants, silverfish and anything else you can name. If birds are creating a nuisance around your place, we'll tell you how to combat this problem, too. Give us a call tomorrow at FU 5-5720. Fisher Pest Control.

The punishments you used were too indefinite. They were too far removed from the offense. Paying for damages out of allowance might work with a much older child but not with one so young.

One of you parents should be with this boy when he has an opportunity to throw stones, so that the moment he throws a stone you can turn him over your knee and paddle him soundly. The bare hand may not be good enough. It should hurt! The punishment should be immediate and without exception. Chances are he has not learned to respect your word in hundreds of other situations.

IT'S BETWEEN the ages of six and 12 that stone-throwing may prove most hazardous and harmful. If another child, wishing to show his throwing skill, throws a stone at a street sign, street lamp, or window of an empty house, your child with him may be tempted to do likewise and thus begins long practice in vandalism. Be vigilant. Deal seriously and effectively with the first offense you apprehend. See that your child is not with other children who engage in such destructive fun. Mere talk hardly will be enough. Often two boys together will toss clods or stones at each other in mere fun. This fun may develop into fighting with stones. The one who throws the first stone may be in danger, too, as another stone is likely to be returned. The hazards to their eyes then is immeasurable.

Frequently a child who feels he is losing in play with other children may leave the group charging them with unfairness and calling them by ugly names. As he withdraws, he may, in his crying rage, throw stones at them. This cowardly way only makes it harder for him to get along with these and other children.

YOU DO want your child to defend himself, but not with stones. Make clear to him stone - throwing, even in self-defense, is out. Explain to him that, unless he can stand up to defend himself with his bare hands, to retreat is not half so cowardly as to fight with stones.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

CLEANLINESS

Good health is dependent on many things . . . Some simple . . . some a little more complex. However, every housewife everywhere knows the importance of sanitation and cleanliness. Since time began . . . insects have been looked upon as a sign of poor housekeeping methods . . . even slovenliness! Pity the poor housewife who opens her cupboard door in the presence of a guest and startles a bevy of roaches! Can't you imagine what is going on in the mind of her guest?

THE BATTLE

It would almost appear that the insect population of the United States is a well organized army with a brilliant general in command. The battle against insects is endless. The only real hope is Control, adequate, efficient control. The money spent with a reputable, qualified pest control service is about the greatest bargain available to today's homeowner, this money often represents a saving over "do-it-yourself", time consuming, un-efficient methods. And, if one serious disease is averted, think how much this service could be worth to you!

NOT EXPENSIVE

Pest Control Services are neither dangerous nor expensive. That is why we always invite you to call us and let us stop by your home for a free analysis of your insect problems. We'll be glad to sit down with you and explain just what your home needs to be free of all filthy pests . . . rats, roaches, ants, silverfish and anything else you can name. If birds are creating a nuisance around your place, we'll tell you how to combat this problem, too. Give us a call tomorrow at FU 5-5720. Fisher Pest Control.

Hearings Due Sept. 14 For 19 City Tax Cases

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set hearings Sept. 14 at 9 a. m. for 19 persons accused of violating the city income tax ordinance.

Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson filed affidavits Thursday about 4 p. m., charging each of the 19 with failure to file a final return on 1964 income before the deadline last April 15.

Summonses will be served on the defendants by Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor. Following its usual practice, the court will release the names of the defendants after the notices have been served.

Deadly Sewer Gas Claims Three Lives

CLEVELAND (AP) — Deadly sewer gas claimed the lives of three State Highway Department workers Thursday. Two of the men died in rescue attempts.

Dead are Kenneth J. Novitch Sr., 32, of Parma, Dale A. Pirol, 25, of Cleveland and John D. Hanley, 21, of Lakewood.

The three were part of a four-man survey team trying to get water samples from a storm sewer near the Interstate 71 project on Cleveland's southwest side.

Novitch entered the manhole first and went down 15 to 20 feet when the other two heard a splash and saw him collapse in the water. Hanley then entered to save Novitch and Pirol followed when Hanley also collapsed.

The fourth crewman, Gary Marsh, 21, of Garfield Heights, ran to get a rope. An ironworker on a job nearby, Sam Subers, 42, of Strongsville, ran to the scene. He entered the sewer but was also felled by the gas.

Within moments two storm sewer construction workers rushed to the manhole. Jarvis Evans, 34, of Cleveland, grabbed a respirator-dust filter and climbed down the ladder. He carried Subers up the ladder and Dorsey Bridges, 34, of Cleveland, applied artificial respiration. Subers responded to the treatment.

Jarvis also brought out Pirol and Hanley. Firemen recovered Novitch's body. Evans was reported in good condition and Subers in fair condition at Grace Hospital. Both suffered from gas inhalation.

Howard C. Reeve, head of Highway Department survey crews here, said sewer gas is often formed by an accumulation of acids in sewer water. He said that although samplings of sewer gases can be made, it is nearly impossible to determine their sources.

Falls Injure 2 Area Youths; 12 More Treated At Hospital

A youth hurt in a fall from a pony and a boy injured in a fall from a tree were in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where 12 other area residents were treated Thursday after separate mishaps.

John Robert Saxton, 6, son of Robert Saxton of Ashland Pl., received internal injuries in a fall from a tree and was admitted yesterday afternoon.

Charles Pethtel, 11, son of Carl Pethtel of Lisbon St. Ext., suffered a possible concussion in a fall from a pony yesterday afternoon.

Melvin Clutter, son of Clifford Clutter of 423 McKee Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the right leg when bitten by a dog.

Curtis Jackson, 6, son of Ralph Jackson of 299 McKee Ave., received a wound on the left leg when nipped by a neighbor's dog.

Ronda Landis of Jacksonville, N. C., was treated for abrasions of the nose and upper lip after being bitten by a dog while visiting her grandfather, Richard Hamilton of Ohio Ave.

Stephen Davis, son of Norman Davis of Fisher Ave., received bruises of the arm against the handlebars of a bike.

In a fall down 11 steps to a concrete floor, Broda David McCoy, son of Broda McCoy of 103½ Railroad St., Chester, suffered abrasions of the forehead.

Raymond Lee Chapman, son of Donald Chapman of 337 Ogden St., fell while running, receiving abrasions of the elbow and cuts and abrasions of the knee.

Timothy Ray Shields, infant son of Mrs. Mike Shields of 531 Wells Hollow Rd., was treated for scalp bruises when his head struck the floor after his mother fell while carrying him.

Walter Corbin of Salineville R.D. 1 suffered cuts on the cheek and chin and a wound of the eyelid when struck by particles of a hammer which broke while he was using the tool.

In a fall on concrete at home, Joyce Ann Coleman, daughter of Joseph Coleman of 802 Riverview St., received bruises of the scalp.

Magna Carta Slated For Display In U.S.

LONDON (AP) — The 1225 Magna Carta leaves this country today for display in the United States.

Measuring 12 by 22 inches, Magna Carta will go first to Washington. There, in the National Archives, it will be displayed next to the Declaration of Independence during the World Conference on World Peace Through Law, Sept. 12-18.

From Washington, Magna Carta will be taken to Atlanta during the October meeting of the National Council of the English Speaking Union of America meeting. It will be returned to the Public Record Office here early in November.

He Has Grown In The Presidency

Johnson's Watchword—Restraint

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Kansas student, unhappy about President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam, slashed his own wrist and smeared blood on a campus bulletin board.

The student, Charles Hook of Glen Head, N.Y., said this rather startling action last March was "purely spontaneous and an individual gesture." But less dramatic displays of displeasure with Johnson's decisions have become quite commonplace, though apparently reflecting only minority opinion.

THIS HAS been a year for strikes, all reflecting various degrees of opposition to various presidential policies.

Johnson's public reaction generally has been restrained, but his sensitivity to almost any criticism is marked and, in private, often stormy.

Publicly, Johnson insists he welcomes democratic debate and abhors blind conformity. On those occasions when he has uttered stronger statements, he usually has criticized the press which often brings him first news of dissent and, in his view, promotes conflict by publicizing his critics.

A year ago, Johnson seemed to enjoy miraculous immunity to the barbs that all presidents encounter, usually sooner than later. When harsh words were heard, they normally fell into the category of partisan campaign utterances or dealt with such side issues as the President's automobile driving and his dog-handling practices.

HOWEVER, this year has seen development of an often noisy undercurrent of minority criticism embracing such major issues as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic — plus civil rights, American representation at the Churchill funeral, Johnson's shelving of Washington visits by the leaders of India and Pakistan, and his relations with news media.

With all this, though, the polls show Johnson's standing with American voters has remained exceptionally high on all significant questions — including Viet Nam.

Criticism began soon after Johnson was inaugurated as President in his own right. First he offended an important, if unmeasureable, portion of the populace by sending Chief Justice Earl Warren — rather than Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — to represent the United States at the London funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

Since then, restraint has been his watchword. He waited nearly six hours for example, to authorize the removal from the White House of 12 young people who staged a sit-in critical of his civil rights policies. More recently, two days elapsed before opponents of the war in Viet Nam were hauled away in paddy wagons after blocking White House entrances in a sit-down demonstration.

ABOUT TWO months ago, Johnson put his public reaction into words in a statement that referred indirectly to teach-ins and other displays of opposition to administration policy in Viet Nam:

"How rare is the land and extraordinary the people who freely allow, and really encourage, as I have on many occasions, the citizens of our nation to discuss and to debate their nation's policies in time of danger.

"We welcome and we ask for new ideas from serious and concerned men and women, from universities and journals and public platforms all across the land. We are constantly searching for views and proposals which might strengthen and unite and help our government."

Then he added a word about what has become his greatest concern about vocal dissidents:

Banker Airs Bee Benefits

The behavior of bees and their benefit to mankind were described by Frank Richmond of Chester at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Richmond, vice president of the First National Bank and a nature enthusiast, described the patterns of life of the honey bee and bumble bee and the various roles the types of bee serve.

Queen bees which continue the species, worker bees which supply nectar from flowers, scout bees which obtain new nectar sources, fanning bees which use their wings to keep hives at the proper temperature — all were discussed by Richmond.

The vital role of bees in pollination of flowers was emphasized by the speaker who pointed out that the growth of fruits and vegetables depends upon the fertilization of flowers through the traffic of the nectar-seeking insects.

He said some 160,000 bees are required to provide one pound of honey.

Richmond pointed out some of the many phrases which bees have placed in the English vocabulary — "spelling bee," "whole ball of wax," "bee lines" and others.

He said apart from the bees' constant work, they set an admirable example of social behavior, industry, engineering and chemical talent and other habits for humans to emulate.

Richmond was introduced by James Reaney.

Finals arrangements were made for the club's public hole-in-one contest to be held Saturday at Pugh's Driving Range in Calcutta.

City Population Up Slightly, But Still Below '60 Figures

East Liverpool has shown an increase in estimated population over a year ago, according to the Ohio Department of Development, but remains below the official U. S. Census population report of 1960.

Based on January surveys of the Economic Research Division of the department, the city has an estimated population of 21,861 — up from the estimated 21,026 of a year ago, but still below the 22,306 of the 1960 census.

The census of five years ago indicated the city had declined in population since the previous head count for the first time.

The Ohio surveys also showed Columbiana County with an estimated population of 109,120, up from the official 106,951 of five years ago.

The state report put Wellsville's population at 6,761, compared with 6,723 in 1960, Salem's at 14,056, up from 13,797 five years ago, and East Palestine's at 6,017, an increase over the 5,669 of the U.S. census.

The surveys indicated there were sizable increases in population in the East Liverpool suburbs and other areas near county cities. Individual townships, however, are not listed in the report.

Groups Finish Plans For Teachers' Event

Plans are complete for the traditional "coffee hour" that will precede a general meeting of East Liverpool teachers Tuesday at Westgate School in preparation for the opening of the 1965-66 school term on Wednesday.

The public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the East Liverpool Teachers Association, will serve coffee and rolls to the instructors in the school cafeteria. The coffee hour will begin at 8:30, with the meeting set for 9:30. C. V. Hughes heads the Chamber committee.

Combined Trash Collection Slated By City Tuesday

The usual Monday and Tuesday trash collection routes will be combined next week because of the Labor Day holiday and routes normally serviced on the two days both will be covered Tuesday, Incinerator Supt. John Melvin advised householders today.

The rest of next week's schedule will be unchanged. The combined route Tuesday will cover these streets:

Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St., St. Clair Ave.

Fairview St., Division St., Hague Ave., Shadyside Ave., Church St., Denver St., Edwards Ave., Park Pl., Jethro, W. 8th St., Ridgeway Ave., Fenton St., Moore St., Claiborne St., May St., Florence St., John St., Burford St., Alton St. and California Hollow.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) —James C. Dwyer, 50, of Cincinnati, Ohio, died Thursday night of injuries suffered in a five-car smashup Monday on the Connecticut Turnpike.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal during the period from Saturday morning to Thursday morning. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 77-55, Columbus 80-57, Cincinanati 83-61. Warm Saturday through Monday, turning cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall will average about three-tenths of an inch as widely scattered showers and thundershowers Sunday and Monday and more numerous on Tuesday.

He Has Grown In The Presidency

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Kansas student, unhappy about President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam, slashed his own wrist and smeared blood on a campus bulletin board.

The student, Charles Hook of Glen Head, N.Y., said this rather startling action last March was "purely spontaneous and an individual gesture." But less dramatic displays of displeasure with Johnson's decisions have become quite commonplace, though apparently reflecting only minority opinion.

THIS HAS been a year for strikes, all reflecting various degrees of opposition to various presidential policies.

Johnson's public reaction generally has been restrained, but his sensitivity to almost any criticism is marked and, in private, often stormy.

Publicly, Johnson insists he welcomes democratic debate and abhors blind conformity. On those occasions when he has uttered stronger statements, he usually has criticized the press which often brings him first news of dissent and, in his view, promotes conflict by publicizing his critics.

A year ago, Johnson seemed to enjoy miraculous immunity to the barbs that all presidents encounter, usually sooner than later. When harsh words were heard, they normally fell into the category of partisan campaign utterances or dealt with such side issues as the President's automobile driving and his dog-handling practices.

HOWEVER, this year has seen development of an often noisy undercurrent of minority criticism embracing such major issues as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic — plus civil rights, American representation at the Churchill funeral, Johnson's shelving of Washington visits by the leaders of India and Pakistan, and his relations with news media.

With all this, though, the polls show Johnson's standing with American voters has remained exceptionally high on all significant questions — including Viet Nam.

Criticism began soon after Johnson was inaugurated as President in his own right. First he offended an important, if unmeasureable, portion of the populace by sending Chief Justice Earl Warren — rather than Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — to represent the United States at the London funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

Since then, restraint has been his watchword. He waited nearly six hours for example, to authorize the removal from the White House of 12 young people who staged a sit-in critical of his civil rights policies. More recently, two days elapsed before opponents of the war in Viet Nam were hauled away in paddy wagons after blocking White House entrances in a sit-down demonstration.

ABOUT TWO months ago, Johnson put his public reaction into words in a statement that referred indirectly to teach-ins and other displays of opposition to administration policy in Viet Nam:

"How rare is the land and extraordinary the people who freely allow, and really encourage, as I have on many occasions, the citizens of our nation to discuss and to debate their nation's policies in time of danger.

"We welcome and we ask for new ideas from serious and concerned men and women, from universities and journals and public platforms all across the land. We are constantly searching for views and proposals which might strengthen and unite and help our government."

Then he added a word about what has become his greatest concern about vocal dissidents:

Banker Airs Bee Benefits

The behavior of bees and their benefit to mankind were described by Frank Richmond of Chester at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Richmond, vice president of the First National Bank and a nature enthusiast, described the patterns of life of the honey bee and bumble bee and the various roles the types of bee serve.

Queen bees which continue the species, worker bees which supply nectar from flowers, scout bees which obtain new nectar sources, fanning bees which use their wings to keep hives at the proper temperature — all were discussed by Richmond.

The vital role of bees in pollination of flowers was emphasized by the speaker who pointed out that the growth of fruits and vegetables depends upon the fertilization of flowers through the traffic of the nectar-seeking insects.

He said some 160,000 bees are required to provide one pound of honey.

Richmond pointed out some of the many phrases which bees have placed in the English vocabulary — "spelling bee," "whole ball of wax," "bee lines" and others.

He said apart from the bees' constant work, they set an admirable example of social behavior, industry, engineering and chemical talent and other habits for humans to emulate.

Richmond was introduced by James Reaney.

Finals arrangements were made for the club's public hole-in-one contest to be held Saturday at Pugh's Driving Range in Calcutta.

East Liverpool has shown an increase in estimated population over a year ago, according to the Ohio Department of Development, but remains below the official U. S. Census population report of 1960.

Based on January surveys of the Economic Research Division of the department, the city has an estimated population of 21,861 — up from the estimated 21,026 of a year ago, but still below the 22,306 of the 1960 census.

The census of five years ago indicated the city had declined in population since the previous head count for the first time.

The Ohio surveys also showed Columbiana County with an estimated population of 109,120, up from the official 106,951 of five years ago.

The state report put Wellsville's population at 6,761, compared with 6,723 in 1960, Salem's at 14,056, up from 13,797 five years ago, and East Palestine's at 6,017, an increase over the 5,669 of the U.S. census.

The surveys indicated there were sizable increases in population in the East Liverpool suburbs and other areas near county cities. Individual townships, however, are not listed in the report.

Groups Finish Plans For Teachers' Event

Plans are complete for the traditional "coffee hour" that will precede a general meeting of East Liverpool teachers Tuesday at Westgate School in preparation for the opening of the 1965-66 school term on Wednesday.

The public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the East Liverpool Teachers Association, will serve coffee and rolls to the instructors in the school cafeteria. The coffee hour will begin at 8:30, with the meeting set for 9:30. C. V. Hughes heads the Chamber committee.

Combined Trash Collection Slated By City Tuesday

The usual Monday and Tuesday trash collection routes will be combined next week because of the Labor Day holiday and routes normally serviced on the two days both will be covered Tuesday, Incinerator Supt. John Melvin advised householders today.

The rest of next week's schedule will be unchanged. The combined route Tuesday will cover these streets:

Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St., St. Clair Ave.

Fairview St., Division St., Hague Ave., Shadyside Ave., Church St., Denver St., Edwards Ave., Park Pl., Jethro, W. 8th St., Ridgeway Ave., Fenton St., Moore St., Claiborne St., May St., Florence St., John St., Burford St., Alton St. and California Hollow.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) —James C. Dwyer, 50, of Cincinnati, Ohio, died Thursday night of injuries suffered in a five-car smashup Monday on the Connecticut Turnpike.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal during the period from Saturday morning to Thursday morning. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 77-55, Columbus 80-57, Cincinanati 83-61. Warm Saturday through Monday, turning cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Rainfall will average about three-tenths of an inch as widely scattered showers and thundershowers Sunday and Monday and more numerous on Tuesday.

The Sports Bench

A Look At Potter Foes . . .

Coach Bob NcNea will take the wraps off his 1965 Potters next Saturday night and the chances that the local eleven will come up with another winning season look good.

McNea guided the Blue and White to a 7-2-1 mark last season, but since the final game of 1964 the Potters have lost 23 seniors who lettered through graduation.

And this season's opposition appears to be on the upswing.

Beaver Local will be the first foe on Sept. 11. The Beavers are much better off in quantity this season, with 44 boys on the squad, compared to about 20 at this time a year ago. They were young last season and although they may not come of age in early games could come up with a fair season.

Midland, which will play at Patterson Field Sept. 17, was in last year's battle right until the final gun. The Leopards will show an experienced backfield and a good-sized line. The one big loss was Norm Vanlier, the fine triple threat quarterback. He left some big shoes to be filled.

Oak Glen, a new opponent, appears stronger, especially in the backfield. The Golden Bears' weak points could be lack of size and experienced linemen.

Steubenville Central will visit the local gridiron Oct. 2 and Potter followers will remember only too well what the final outcome was last season.

The Crusaders won't have any Buster Yannon in the backfield, but we can't remember when Steubenville Central ever fielded a poor football team.

Newton Falls is a new opponent and was placed on the schedule at the last moment after the series with Wellsville was called off.

Newton Falls probably turned in its top performance last season against Girard, but overall doesn't play too impressive a schedule.

The Potters must visit Martins Ferry on Oct. 15, with the Purple Riders who are under a new coach. Last year's game was a see-saw affair.

Big Red Has Soph Star . . .

Big Red fielded a young club last season and down Steubenville way they're already shouting the talents of sophomore back named Don Osby, a 6-1, 170-pounder. According to reports, Osby is ahead of Nebraska star Harry Wilson at this stage. Wilson was the back of the year in Ohio in 1962.

Weirton, down somewhat from former years, is building again and probably will field one of the biggest teams to face the Potters.

Salem is under a new coach. The Potters had trouble stopping the Quaker offense last year and Salem might be one of the surprises in Columbiana County.

The finale again is with Alliance. This game brings fond memories to Potter followers who saw East Liverpool almost upset the Aviators last November before losing 8-0.

It has been eight years since East Liverpool has defeated Alliance. The Aviators boast eight lettermen, but Coach Mel Knowlton always comes up with minor miracles in preparing a team that faces such opponents as Canton McKinley, Massillon and Warren.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE PRO football doubleheader Saturday in Cleveland will be witnessed by the Midland High football squad and coaching staff.

The 1965 Football Camp committee is sponsoring the trip and the team would like to thank this group for the opportunity to see four pro football's top clubs.

The camp committee is headed by Mayor Eli Corak. He is being assisted by Rudy Presutti, Rocco Cincone, Steve Chumura, Steve Trbovich, Frank Deramo and Ed Celli.

The group plans to leave Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

THE TUSCARAWAS Valley High School team coached by Jack Bair and Larry Foltz, former assistants at East Liverpool, will scrimmage Southern Local Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Southern Local field.

THE TRI-STATE Transit Co. may solve some traffic and parking problems when East Liverpool plays Oak Glen at Newell Sept. 24.

The company will run a shuttle bus service from East Liverpool to Newell, with the round trip 40 cents. The bus will load at Dairyland with the first trip at 6 p. m. and as many buses as needed will be put into service.

Buses will load outside the field for the return trip immediately following the game.

KEN MILLER of East Liverpool, who captained the 1964-65 Toledo U. Basketball squad, has been named field underwriter for the Mutual Insurance Co. of New York.

In his new position, Miller will act as sales representative for the company, primarily in the Greater Toledo area.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Miller of 927 St. George St., Ken was president of the Senior Class and also was named Senior Athlete of the Year by the Toledo Alumni Association.

A CRIPPLED right hand didn't prove to be a handicap for Lester Hall of Thompson Ave. who captured the Class AA club golfing championship Thursday at the East Palestine Country Club.

He defeated Bob Wolfe in the finals, 1 up, on the 36th hole to win the club trophy for the second successive year.

His previous trophies include the president's cup in 1953 and 1958.

Hall will undergo surgery on his right hand this month at Presbyterian University Hospital in Pittsburgh. This will be his third operation for an injury suffered last October at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. where he is employed.

IL's Playoff Series Gets Started Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A pair of pitchers who have losing records against their opponents will be the starting hurlers tonight as the pennant-winning Columbus Jets and fourth-place Syracuse begin their best-of-7 International League playoff series.

Steve Blass, 13-11 over-all but 1-2 against Syracuse, will pitch for Columbus. Syracuse's Bruce Brubaker, who has lost three of four decisions to Columbus this season, will oppose Blass.

Weirton Madonna To Oppose Bears

Weirton Madonna will bring a veteran team to Newell tonight to face Oak Glen in the 1965 district high school football battle. Kickoff at Newell Memorial Field will be at 8 p.m.

Madonna, under Coach Joe Krivak who is starting his fifth season, shows experienced gridders at almost every position but the Blue Dons were hit by a major injury last week in a scrimmage when regular fullback Bill Vrtar, 180-pound sophomore, was injured and will be out for the remainder of the season.

WITHOUT Vrtar the Blue Dons have 12 lettermen returning from the 1964 team which showed two victories and eight setbacks.

Leading the array of veterans is quarterback Paul Paolisso, a 6-1, 170 pounder, who is regarded as one of the top signal callers in the Ohio Valley.

THE OTHER letter winners are tackle George Kosut (185), halfback Larry Presley (165), end Clyde DiAngelo (170) tackle Tom McDonald (195), and end Tom Runkel (165).

Coach Bob Starkey will be counting heavily on the arm of Tom Thayer, a senior quarterback, who displayed his ability to toss the football last season.

Wellsville Season Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets for Wellsville's four home games can be ordered by calling Don Lowe at LE 2-1372 or LE 2-2076. Season tickets are $3.40. The Tigers open the 1965 campaign Sept. 10 at home against Oak Glen.

The right end job is a toss-up between John Zelinsky, 130-pound junior and Dave Murray, a 135-pound junior.

Marichal Beaten As Giants Split

Braves Edge Reds In 11; Dodgers Sink Bucs, Go Back On Top

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A Dominican. A Cuban. And Frenchy.

Juan Marichal, Mike de la Hoz and Jim Lefebvre —the headliners Thursday as the National League pennant race got another day older and remained just as deep in confusion with the three top teams going through another 1-2-3 shuffle.

The main focus was at Philadelphia, where Marichal made his first start for San Francisco since his suspension and was both booed and belted as he dropped a 4-3 decision to the Phillies before the Giants came back to take the nightcap of the doubleheader 5-2

De la Hoz got the key blow for Milwaukee, lofting a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning that drove in Eddie Mathews with the winning run as the Braves edged Cincinnati 4-3 and dropped the Reds from first to third place.

Lefebvre supplied the big bat for Los Angeles, driving in four runs with two singles and a double as the Dodgers whipped Pittsburgh 7-1, ended a three-game losing streak and regained the top spot

The Dodgers now are one game in front of the Giants, while the Reds are one game off the pace and one percentage point behind San Francisco. The fourth-place Braves are two behind and the fifth-place Pirates 3½ out.

While the leaders were scrambling, Ernie Banks hit the 400th homer of his career in the Chicago Cubs' 5-3 victory over St. Louis and Houston downed the New York Mets 4-3.

Marichal attributed his defeat to the long layoff — "I have to work every four days to keep sharp." He surrendered seven hits in seven innings, including a homer by light-hitting Bobby Wine, and was charged with all four runs and his 10th loss against 19 victories.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning of the nightcap as Ken Henderson walked, reached second when Richie Allen threw wild on Frank Linzy's bunt and scored as Matty Alou swung and missed a wild pitch third strike fired by Jack Baldschun. Jack Hiatt's single and Jim Hart's sacrifice fly brought in two more runs.

The Reds had pulled into a tie in the seventh on Frank Robinson's homer off Hank Fisher, who had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning. The Braves won it in the 11th when Mathews singled, moved to third as pitcher Ted Davidson threw wild on Frank Bolling's bunt and scored when de la Hoz, batting for Fisher, hit his sacrifice fly.

Lefebvre singled in two runs in the third inning, singled home another in the fifth and drove across a fourth run with a seventh inning double. Dodger starter Claude Osteen carried a four- hit shutout into the eighth but needed Ron Perranoski's relief help to get his 12th victory against 13 losses.

Banks' homer capped a four-run third inning uprising that proved enough for the Cubs. He became only the 11th player ever to reach the 400-homer plateau.

Rusty Staub collected a homer, double and single, driving in two runs and scored a pair as the Astros defeated the Mets.

Fight Results

LOS ANGELES — Dwight Hawkins, 126¾, Los Angeles, knocked out Dinamita Rojas, 130¼, Stockton, Calif., 2.

Chicago, Minnesota Clash

Chisox Gain Some Ground, Cut Twins Margin To 6½

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Try having one of his top sluggers strike out five times.

Sam Mele was a captive audience for both those spectacles Thursday night as his American League-leading Minnesota Twins bowed to Detroit 5-4. The setback, combined with Chicago's doubleheader sweep at Baltimore, trimmed the Twins' lead to 6½ games with the White Sox opening a three-game series in Minnesota tonight.

One hit would have been enough Thursday night. Allison was one of Minnesota's chief offenders, leaving five men stranded, as the Twins repeatedly surrounded Tiger starter Joe Sparma and two successors with base runners who never made it home.

Minnesota had the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth when Terry Fox finally retired Joe Nossek on a fly ball, ending the game.

Don Wert drove in four Tiger runs with a single and a homer as the Twins failed to take advantage of four Detroit errors and eight walks from Sparma.

George Thomas, who had four hits for the Tigers, didn't think the setback would hurt Minnesota's pennant express. "I think the Twins will win the pennant," he said. "I don't think Chicago has the momentum to catch them."

Thomas would have a rough time convincing Chicago skipper Al Lopez that his White Sox are out of it. The 5-3, 9-3 sweep of the Orioles gave Lopez' club 17 victories in the last 23 starts and a clear shot if it can beat the Twins this weekend.

J. C. Martin's two-out double in the ninth inning drove in the winning runs in the opener while home runs by Pete Ward, Floyd Robinson and Ken Berry did the job in the nightcap.

Ward, who had three hits and drove in three runs in the second game, snapped out of a 1-for-34 slump. Robinson also drove in three runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, Washington edged Boston 5-4, Cleveland battered Kansas City 10-6 and New York ripped the Los Angeles Angels 8-1.

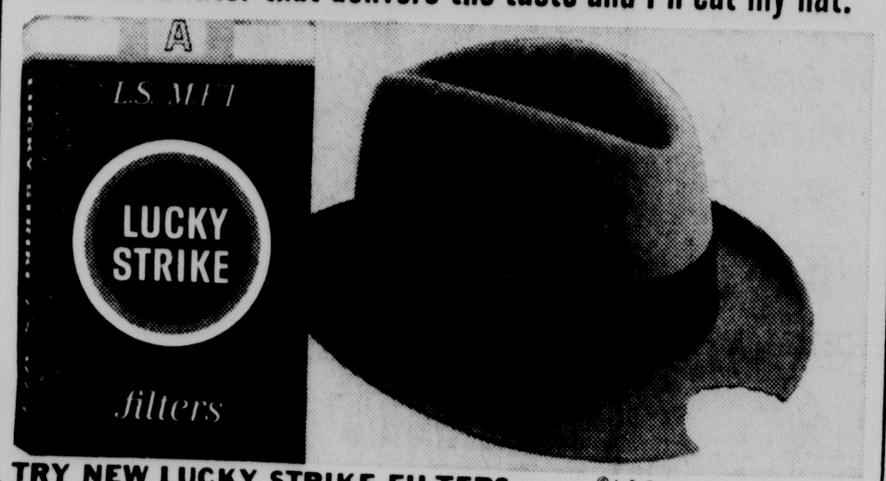

Bob Chance's pinch single in the eighth inning delivered the tying and winning runs for the Senators. Don Lock homered for Washington while Tony Conigliaro belted his 26th for the Red Sox.

Mickey Mantle drove in four runs and Whitey Ford beat Los Angeles for the ninth straight time as the Yankees romped.

A Look At Potter Foes . . .

Coach Bob NcNea will take the wraps off his 1965 Potters next Saturday night and the chances that the local eleven will come up with another winning season look good.

McNea guided the Blue and White to a 7-2-1 mark last season, but since the final game of 1964 the Potters have lost 23 seniors who lettered through graduation.

Beaver Local will be the first foe on Sept. 11. The Beavers are much better off in quantity this season, with 44 boys on the squad, compared to about 20 at this time a year ago. They were young last season and although they may not come of age in early games could come up with a fair season.

Midland, which will play at Patterson Field Sept. 17, was in last year's battle right until the final gun. The Leopards will show an experienced backfield and a good-sized line. The one big loss was Norm Vanlier, the fine triple threat quarterback. He left some big shoes to be filled.

Oak Glen, a new opponent, appears stronger, especially in the backfield. The Golden Bears' weak points could be lack of size and experienced linemen.

Steubenville Central will visit the local gridiron Oct. 2 and Potter followers will remember only too well what the final outcome was last season.

The Crusaders won't have any Buster Yannon in the backfield, but we can't remember when Steubenville Central ever fielded a poor football team.

Newton Falls is a new opponent and was placed on the schedule at the last moment after the series with Wellsville was called off.

Newton Falls probably turned in its top performance last season against Girard, but overall doesn't play too impressive a schedule.

The Potters must visit Martins Ferry on Oct. 15, with the Purple Riders who are under a new coach. Last year's game was a see-saw affair.

Big Red Has Soph Star . . .

Big Red fielded a young club last season and down Steubenville way they're already shouting the talents of sophomore back named Don Osby, a 6-1, 170-pounder. According to reports, Osby is ahead of Nebraska star Harry Wilson at this stage. Wilson was the back of the year in Ohio in 1962.

Weirton, down somewhat from former years, is building again and probably will field one of the biggest teams to face the Potters.

Salem is under a new coach. The Potters had trouble stopping the Quaker offense last year and Salem might be one of the surprises in Columbiana County.

The finale again is with Alliance. This game brings fond memories to Potter followers who saw East Liverpool almost upset the Aviators last November before losing 8-0.

It has been eight years since East Liverpool has defeated Alliance. The Aviators boast eight lettermen, but Coach Mel Knowlton always comes up with minor miracles in preparing a team that faces such opponents as Canton McKinley, Massillon and Warren.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE PRO football doubleheader Saturday in Cleveland will be witnessed by the Midland High football squad and coaching staff.

The 1965 Football Camp committee is sponsoring the trip and the team would like to thank this group for the opportunity to see four pro football's top clubs.

The camp committee is headed by Mayor Eli Corak. He is being assisted by Rudy Presutti, Rocco Cincone, Steve Chumura, Steve Trbovich, Frank Deramo and Ed Celli.

The group plans to leave Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

THE TUSCARAWAS Valley High School team coached by Jack Bair and Larry Foltz, former assistants at East Liverpool, will scrimmage Southern Local Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Southern Local field.

THE TRI-STATE Transit Co. may solve some traffic and parking problems when East Liverpool plays Oak Glen at Newell Sept. 24.

The company will run a shuttle bus service from East Liverpool to Newell, with the round trip 40 cents. The bus will load at Dairyland with the first trip at 6 p. m. and as many buses as needed will be put into service.

Buses will load outside the field for the return trip immediately following the game.

KEN MILLER of East Liverpool, who captained the 1964-65 Toledo U. Basketball squad, has been named field underwriter for the Mutual Insurance Co. of New York.

In his new position, Miller will act as sales representative for the company, primarily in the Greater Toledo area.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Miller of 927 St. George St., Ken was president of the Senior Class and also was named Senior Athlete of the Year by the Toledo Alumni Association.

A CRIPPLED right hand didn't prove to be a handicap for Lester Hall of Thompson Ave. who captured the Class AA club golfing championship Thursday at the East Palestine Country Club.

He defeated Bob Wolfe in the finals, 1 up, on the 36th hole to win the club trophy for the second successive year.

His previous trophies include the president's cup in 1953 and 1958.

Hall will undergo surgery on his right hand this month at Presbyterian University Hospital in Pittsburgh. This will be his third operation for an injury suffered last October at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. where he is employed.

IL's Playoff Series Gets Started Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A pair of pitchers who have losing records against their opponents will be the starting hurlers tonight as the pennant-winning Columbus Jets and fourth-place Syracuse begin their best-of-7 International League playoff series.

Steve Blass, 13-11 over-all but 1-2 against Syracuse, will pitch for Columbus. Syracuse's Bruce Brubaker, who has lost three of four decisions to Columbus this season, will oppose Blass.

Weirton Madonna will bring a veteran team to Newell tonight to face Oak Glen in the 1965 district high school football battle. Kickoff at Newell Memorial Field will be at 8 p.m.

Madonna, under Coach Joe Krivak who is starting his fifth season, shows experienced gridders at almost every position but the Blue Dons were hit by a major injury last week in a scrimmage when regular fullback Bill Vrtar, 180-pound sophomore, was injured and will be out for the remainder of the season.

WITHOUT Vrtar the Blue Dons have 12 lettermen returning from the 1964 team which showed two victories and eight setbacks.

Leading the array of veterans is quarterback Paul Paolisso, a 6-1, 170 pounder, who is regarded as one of the top signal callers in the Ohio Valley.

THE OTHER letter winners are tackle George Kosut (185), halfback Larry Presley (165), end Clyde DiAngelo (170) tackle Tom McDonald (195), and end Tom Runkel (165).

Coach Bob Starkey will be counting heavily on the arm of Tom Thayer, a senior quarterback, who displayed his ability to toss the football last season.

Wellsville Season Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets for Wellsville's four home games can be ordered by calling Don Lowe at LE 2-1372 or LE 2-2076. Season tickets are $3.40. The Tigers open the 1965 campaign Sept. 10 at home against Oak Glen.

The right end job is a toss-up between John Zelinsky, 130-pound junior and Dave Murray, a 135-pound junior.

Marichal Beaten As Giants Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A Dominican. A Cuban. And Frenchy.

Juan Marichal, Mike de la Hoz and Jim Lefebvre —the headliners Thursday as the National League pennant race got another day older and remained just as deep in confusion with the three top teams going through another 1-2-3 shuffle.

The main focus was at Philadelphia, where Marichal made his first start for San Francisco since his suspension and was both booed and belted as he dropped a 4-3 decision to the Phillies before the Giants came back to take the nightcap of the doubleheader 5-2

De la Hoz got the key blow for Milwaukee, lofting a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning that drove in Eddie Mathews with the winning run as the Braves edged Cincinnati 4-3 and dropped the Reds from first to third place.

Lefebvre supplied the big bat for Los Angeles, driving in four runs with two singles and a double as the Dodgers whipped Pittsburgh 7-1, ended a three-game losing streak and regained the top spot

The Dodgers now are one game in front of the Giants, while the Reds are one game off the pace and one percentage point behind San Francisco. The fourth-place Braves are two behind and the fifth-place Pirates 3½ out.

While the leaders were scrambling, Ernie Banks hit the 400th homer of his career in the Chicago Cubs' 5-3 victory over St. Louis and Houston downed the New York Mets 4-3.

Marichal attributed his defeat to the long layoff — "I have to work every four days to keep sharp." He surrendered seven hits in seven innings, including a homer by light-hitting Bobby Wine, and was charged with all four runs and his 10th loss against 19 victories.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning of the nightcap as Ken Henderson walked, reached second when Richie Allen threw wild on Frank Linzy's bunt and scored as Matty Alou swung and missed a wild pitch third strike fired by Jack Baldschun. Jack Hiatt's single and Jim Hart's sacrifice fly brought in two more runs.

The Reds had pulled into a tie in the seventh on Frank Robinson's homer off Hank Fisher, who had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning. The Braves won it in the 11th when Mathews singled, moved to third as pitcher Ted Davidson threw wild on Frank Bolling's bunt and scored when de la Hoz, batting for Fisher, hit his sacrifice fly.

Lefebvre singled in two runs in the third inning, singled home another in the fifth and drove across a fourth run with a seventh inning double. Dodger starter Claude Osteen carried a four- hit shutout into the eighth but needed Ron Perranoski's relief help to get his 12th victory against 13 losses.

Banks' homer capped a four-run third inning uprising that proved enough for the Cubs. He became only the 11th player ever to reach the 400-homer plateau.

Rusty Staub collected a homer, double and single, driving in two runs and scored a pair as the Astros defeated the Mets.

Chicago, Minnesota Clash

Chisox Gain Some Ground, Cut Twins Margin To 6½

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Try having one of his top sluggers strike out five times.

Sam Mele was a captive audience for both those spectacles Thursday night as his American League-leading Minnesota Twins bowed to Detroit 5-4. The setback, combined with Chicago's doubleheader sweep at Baltimore, trimmed the Twins' lead to 6½ games with the White Sox opening a three-game series in Minnesota tonight.

One hit would have been enough Thursday night. Allison was one of Minnesota's chief offenders, leaving five men stranded, as the Twins repeatedly surrounded Tiger starter Joe Sparma and two successors with base runners who never made it home.

Minnesota had the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth when Terry Fox finally retired Joe Nossek on a fly ball, ending the game.

Don Wert drove in four Tiger runs with a single and a homer as the Twins failed to take advantage of four Detroit errors and eight walks from Sparma.

George Thomas, who had four hits for the Tigers, didn't think the setback would hurt Minnesota's pennant express. "I think the Twins will win the pennant," he said. "I don't think Chicago has the momentum to catch them."

Thomas would have a rough time convincing Chicago skipper Al Lopez that his White Sox are out of it. The 5-3, 9-3 sweep of the Orioles gave Lopez' club 17 victories in the last 23 starts and a clear shot if it can beat the Twins this weekend.

J. C. Martin's two-out double in the ninth inning drove in the winning runs in the opener while home runs by Pete Ward, Floyd Robinson and Ken Berry did the job in the nightcap.

Ward, who had three hits and drove in three runs in the second game, snapped out of a 1-for-34 slump. Robinson also drove in three runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, Washington edged Boston 5-4, Cleveland battered Kansas City 10-6 and New York ripped the Los Angeles Angels 8-1.

Taliaferro Seen Starting QB

Namath Off Target Again In Jets Exhibition Loss

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets' great experiment has ended its laboratory phase with no conclusive results and one frightening possibility...the Jets may have a $400,000 telephone operator on their hands.

Joe Namath, the penthouse-priced rookie quarterback, foundered again Thursday night as the Jets dropped a 31-10 decision to Buffalo's American Football League champions in the final preseason tuneup for both clubs.

With Namath unable to make connections throughout the exhibition campaign — 22 completions in 74 attempts for five games — and the Sept. 12 season opener at Houston imminent, it appears certain Coach Weeb Ewbank will nominate Mike Taliaferro, odd man in the Jets' quarterback derby, as the No. 1 signal-caller.

That would leave the telephone from the Jets bench to the pressbox strategists in Namath's care — at least for the time being.

Taliaferro and Namath each worked one half against the rugged Bills — with John ($200,000) Huarte getting a brief shot near the finish. Taliaferro completed eight of 17 tosses for 162 yards. Namath missed on 13 of 17 pitches — including 11 straight in one stretch — but fired a 35-yard strike to Don Maynard, in the final period for New York's only touchdown.

The game was the prelude to a full weekend of activity in both the American and National Leagues.

The AFL winds up its exhibition schedule Saturday night with three games — San Diego vs. Houston at Little Rock, Ark., Boston at Kansas City and Denver vs. Oakland at Sacramento, Calif.

All 14 NFL clubs are in action, with Saturday night's SRO doubleheader at Cleveland topping the card. The twin bill matches the league champion Browns against powerful Green Bay and the Detroit Lions against the New York Giants.

Minnesota and Dallas collide at Birmingham, Ala., while St. Louis is at Chicago in tonight's NFL games. Other pairings are Pittsburgh-San Francisco at Providence, R.I., Saturday afternoon, Baltimore-Washington at Norfolk, Va., Saturday night, and Philadelphia at Los Angeles Sunday.

Bo Wininger One In Front At Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bo Wininger, the surprise leader after the first round of the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament, says he didn't have any choice when he carded a three-under-par 69 to take a one-shot advantage.

"When you start out like I did," Wininger said, "and you're playing with someone who's shooting like Bobby Nichols was, you know it's time to get started.

"You're always playing the course primarily," he added, "but Nichols was playing alongside me and he was four under after nine holes. If you want to stay in the thing, you just have to get to work when someone is shooting that way."

Browns Plan To End Season Ticket Sales

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will close season ticket sales Tuesday, Sept. 7 at 6 p. m., owner Art Modell has announced.

He said sales had passed the 41,000 mark for a club record, and a 30 per cent increase over 1964.

Tickets for the home opener on Sept. 26 will go on sale next Wednesday morning at the ticket office at Cleveland Stadium as well as Richman Bros., 736 Euclid Ave., and Burrows, 419 Euclid Ave.

Indiana Coach Lauds Two Ohio Gridders

Pont said he was pleased with the early spring training performances of quarterback hopeful Frank Stavroff of Columbus and third string halfback Ray Terry of Steubenville.

9 Teams Are Entered In Mixed Amateur Play

A field of nine teams will tee off in the mixed amateur-amateur contest Monday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The best ball of four event will begin at 12:30 p. m. with men receiving half of their handicap and ladies 70 per cent of their handicap.

Following are the foursomes with handicap strokes: Team 1—Ron Kinsey (6), R. B. Bernstorf (18), Mrs. William R. Kelly (15) and Mrs. Norman Ankrim (21). Team 2 — J. S. Probst (5), Norm Ankrim (8), Mrs. W. B. Laughlin (17) and Mrs. J. E. Laughlin (23). Team 3 — J. E. Laughlin (3), Okey Ludwig (13), Mrs. J. S. Probst (20) and Mrs. D. E. Beatty (22).

Team 4—J. T. Hall (6), Dr. W. L. McCutcheon (7), Mrs. J. N. Porter (21) and Mrs. H. F. Banfield (31). Team 5 — W. L. Smith (7), J. N. Porter (10), Mrs. Norman Nicely (20) and Mrs. J. M. Koos (23). Team 6—Bill Pickin Jr. (5), Gordon Weese (7), Mrs. Robert Patterson (11) and Mrs. R. B. Bernstorf (35).

Team 7 — Dave Six (3), Phil Snyder (8), Mrs. W. L. Smith (13) and Mrs. W. L. McCutcheon (34). Team 8—W. B. Laughlin (4), Bob Kelly (9), Mrs. William Pickin (11) and Sally Hall (35). Team 9—Dr. H. F. Banfield (6), Norm Nicely (9), Mrs. G. A. Weese (15) and Mrs. Okey Ludwig.

In the caddy tournament, Jack Hargreaves fired 43-43-86 to win the first division with Charles Claypool second with 45-45-90.

The second divison ended in a two-way tie between Frank Galeoti and Bob Claypool with 95 each. Andy Petrick was next with 96.

Caddies will be given refreshments Saturday at 11:30 a. m.

Toledo's Mud Hens Fire Manager Verdi

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Toledo Mud Hens of the International League released manager Frank Verdi Thursday.

In making the announcement, General Manager Ray Johnston noted that the club finished in seventh place, 17 games back of the league champion Columbus Jets, with a 68-78 record.

Haddix Joins Retired List

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harvey Haddix, who pitched 12 perfect innings in a 1959 game, has retired from baseball rather than be less than best for a pennant-contending club.

The veteran left-hander was dealt to the Milwaukee Braves earlier in the week by the Baltimore Orioles. But even the possibility of a World Series cut wasn't enough to keep Haddix away from retirement to his farm.

"It would have been easy for me to try and pitch for Milwaukee," Haddix said from his home in South Vienna, Ohio. "But if I lost a game or two, it might cost the pennant, and that I wouldn't like. If I thought I could help, I'd be with them."

"It wasn't a quick decision and it wasn't an easy decision to make," said the slender southpaw who will be 40 in two weeks. "But I felt if I couldn't pitch for Baltimore, I couldn't pitch for Milwaukee. It's that simple."

Taliaferro Seen Starting QB

Namath Off Target Again In Jets Exhibition Loss

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets' great experiment has ended its laboratory phase with no conclusive results and one frightening possibility...the Jets may have a $400,000 telephone operator on their hands.

Joe Namath, the penthouse-priced rookie quarterback, foundered again Thursday night as the Jets dropped a 31-10 decision to Buffalo's American Football League champions in the final preseason tuneup for both clubs.

With Namath unable to make connections throughout the exhibition campaign — 22 completions in 74 attempts for five games — and the Sept. 12 season opener at Houston imminent, it appears certain Coach Weeb Ewbank will nominate Mike Taliaferro, odd man in the Jets' quarterback derby, as the No. 1 signal-caller.

That would leave the telephone from the Jets bench to the pressbox strategists in Namath's care — at least for the time being.

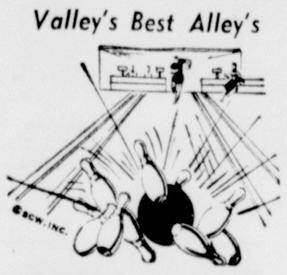

Taliaferro and Namath each worked one half against the rugged Bills — with John ($200,000) Huarte getting a brief shot near the finish. Taliaferro completed eight of 17 tosses for 162 yards. Namath missed on 13 of 17 pitches — including 11 straight in one stretch — but fired a 35-yard strike to Don Maynard, in the final period for New York's only touchdown.

The game was the prelude to a full weekend of activity in both the American and National Leagues.

The AFL winds up its exhibition schedule Saturday night with three games — San Diego vs. Houston at Little Rock, Ark., Boston at Kansas City and Denver vs. Oakland at Sacramento, Calif.

All 14 NFL clubs are in action, with Saturday night's SRO doubleheader at Cleveland topping the card. The twin bill matches the league champion Browns against powerful Green Bay and the Detroit Lions against the New York Giants.

Minnesota and Dallas collide at Birmingham, Ala., while St. Louis is at Chicago in tonight's NFL games. Other pairings are Pittsburgh-San Francisco at Providence, R.I., Saturday afternoon, Baltimore-Washington at Norfolk, Va., Saturday night, and Philadelphia at Los Angeles Sunday.

Bo Wininger One In Front At Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Bo Wininger, the surprise leader after the first round of the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament, says he didn't have any choice when he carded a three-under-par 69 to take a one-shot advantage.

"When you start out like I did," Wininger said, "and you're playing with someone who's shooting like Bobby Nichols was, you know it's time to get started.

"You're always playing the course primarily," he added, "but Nichols was playing alongside me and he was four under after nine holes. If you want to stay in the thing, you just have to get to work when someone is shooting that way."

That's just what Wininger did Thursday. While Nichols was blazing away and defending champion Arnold Palmer was drawing lots of attention, the 42-year-old Las Vegas, Nev., pro overcame a shaky start to go ahead.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV's Woods Are Full Of Talent

The woods are still full of funny men filled with frustration over their failure to be taken seriously as actors. In the woods around Lake Tahoe last week I found Phil Harris and Don Rickles rocking their audiences with laughter, a talent both gladly would forego for any opportunity in TV or movies to prove that they are Thespians at heart. "I would walk from Palm Springs to Hollywood for a good bit part," said Harris after one of his highly entertaining performances in Harrah's big gaming club at Tahoe.

Hal Humphrey

SUCH A STATEMENT blows the myth which Harris' friends (and enemies) have circulated about him in the years since he gave up his radio show and moved with wife Alice Faye to their Palm Springs pad.

"He's rich and lazy and is just sitting down there watching the world go by," said these ill wishers to anyone inquiring about Harris' availability.

"Sure," he confirmed, "I turned down a lot of things, because I was looking for the good things. At this point I shouldn't have to prove to anyone that I know how to get on and off stage."

Harris will be a guest with Bing Crosby when the latter hosts one of ABC's Hollywood Palace shows Sept. 25, and next Jan. 15 he is hosting one himself. He also comes up soon on one of the season's new Andy Williams shows for NBC. But these are the kind of turns he can do blindfolded.

WHAT HARRIS would walk those 120 miles between Palm Springs and Hollywood for is another part like the bumbling vacationer he did in 1954 in the movie "The High and the Mighty," John Wayne's commercial airline pilot thriller, which Harris hoped would get him an Oscar.

Except for occasional guest shots on NBC's "Tonight Show" and a movie part now and then like one with his hero the late Clark Gable in "Run Silent, Run Deep," Rickles has had to follow the night club trail for a livelihood.

A PILOT TV FILM which had him cast as a New York fireman was scheduled for CBS a year ago but didn't sell. This season so far he has been cast as an Indian in one episode of the new ABC comedy, "F Troop," and in a more dramatic role with Bob Hope in one of his upcoming specials.

Rickles made his first foray into the Tahoe area when he opened last week at the new Sahara hotel there and was warned that he might find the audience too corn-fed for his brand of ribald and racially cutting humor. At the performance I witnessed, he proved that if there are any genuine yokels left in this land they don't come to gambling and drinking spas. This audience dug him with no problems.

Occasionally, I'm told, a TV program producer ventures away from his desk to visit watering holes like Tahoe to catch talent not generally considered indigenous to the home screen.

HE WILL LAUGH and then say to himself or friends, "But you can't use a guy like this on TV."

Such an obtuse observation only proves what many observers of the TV screen have known for a long time—that the men running it are generally inept, isolated and insecure.

More viewers who find themselves vacationing and sampling the more adult types of entertainment are going to become less and less enchanted by the shallowness of that picture on their TV tube at home.

When enough of them do, then the TV producers will have to start beating the woods for talent that's been there all the time.

Student Pilot Killed In Ohio Plane Crash

LOUSONVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A student pilot with 100 hours flying time was killed when his single-engine Beechcraft crashed into Pleasant Hill Reservoir Thursday about five miles west of here.

A witness said the plane was flying over the beach when its engine cut out, and the craft dived straight down into the water.

Camera Club Plans Its Future Activities

Plans for a trip during the fall and an outing at Thompson Park were discussed when the Tri-State Camera Club met Thursday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Annex.

The date and program for the trip still are incomplete. The outing will be held at Thompson Park on Sept. 18, beginning at 6 p.m.

Comedienne Files Suit For Divorce

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Comedienne Phyllis Diller, 48, whose comedy routines lifted her from a housewife to a television and nightclub star, filed suit for divorce Thursday.

She alleged general indignities against Sherwood Diller, 52, her husband of 25 years. He filed an answer denying the charges, but Mrs. Diller's attorney, Rex Caruthers, said Diller would not contest the divorce.

She and the couple's four children remaining at home — a fifth is married—plan to move to Los Angeles.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV's Woods Are Full Of Talent

The woods are still full of funny men filled with frustration over their failure to be taken seriously as actors. In the woods around Lake Tahoe last week I found Phil Harris and Don Rickles rocking their audiences with laughter, a talent both gladly would forego for any opportunity in TV or movies to prove that they are Thespians at heart. "I would walk from Palm Springs to Hollywood for a good bit part," said Harris after one of his highly entertaining performances in Harrah's big gaming club at Tahoe.

SUCH A STATEMENT blows the myth which Harris' friends (and enemies) have circulated about him in the years since he gave up his radio show and moved with wife Alice Faye to their Palm Springs pad.

"He's rich and lazy and is just sitting down there watching the world go by," said these ill wishers to anyone inquiring about Harris' availability.

"Sure," he confirmed, "I turned down a lot of things, because I was looking for the good things. At this point I shouldn't have to prove to anyone that I know how to get on and off stage."

Harris will be a guest with Bing Crosby when the latter hosts one of ABC's Hollywood Palace shows Sept. 25, and next Jan. 15 he is hosting one himself. He also comes up soon on one of the season's new Andy Williams shows for NBC. But these are the kind of turns he can do blindfolded.

WHAT HARRIS would walk those 120 miles between Palm Springs and Hollywood for is another part like the bumbling vacationer he did in 1954 in the movie "The High and the Mighty," John Wayne's commercial airline pilot thriller, which Harris hoped would get him an Oscar.

The raucous Don Rickles whose night club comedy is based on insulting everybody and everything was enrolled for two years at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts with such now-illustrious graduates as Jason Robards.

Except for occasional guest shots on NBC's "Tonight Show" and a movie part now and then like one with his hero the late Clark Gable in "Run Silent, Run Deep," Rickles has had to follow the night club trail for a livelihood.

A PILOT TV FILM which had him cast as a New York fireman was scheduled for CBS a year ago but didn't sell. This season so far he has been cast as an Indian in one episode of the new ABC comedy, "F Troop," and in a more dramatic role with Bob Hope in one of his upcoming specials.

Rickles made his first foray into the Tahoe area when he opened last week at the new Sahara hotel there and was warned that he might find the audience too corn-fed for his brand of ribald and racially cutting humor. At the performance I witnessed, he proved that if there are any genuine yokels left in this land they don't come to gambling and drinking spas. This audience dug him with no problems.

Occasionally, I'm told, a TV program producer ventures away from his desk to visit watering holes like Tahoe to catch talent not generally considered indigenous to the home screen.

HE WILL LAUGH and then say to himself or friends, "But you can't use a guy like this on TV."

Such an obtuse observation only proves what many observers of the TV screen have known for a long time—that the men running it are generally inept, isolated and insecure.

More viewers who find themselves vacationing and sampling the more adult types of entertainment are going to become less and less enchanted by the shallowness of that picture on their TV tube at home.

When enough of them do, then the TV producers will have to start beating the woods for talent that's been there all the time.

Hancock Welfare Office Hours Set

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock County Welfare Department has listed office schedules for persons wishing to apply for financial assistance or discuss other welfare matters at the office here.

The hours and workers are:

Wednesdays, 8:30 a.m. until noon — Mrs. Dorothy Knabb and Mrs. Verna Robinson, Child Welfare; Wednesdays, 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. — Mrs. Madaliene Pietranton, Family Service, for Chester, Newell, Pughtown and New Cumberland areas; Thursdays, 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. — Mrs. M. Edith Evans, Family Service, for Weirton area.

Miss Adda R. Hindman, Hancock County welfare director, requested visits be limited to the appropriate times whenever possible.

Jap Paper Critical As U.S. Ship Arrives

TOKYO (AP)—The arrival of the U.S. carrier Bon Homme Richard, which has been active in the Viet Nam war, prompted critical comments in a Japanese newspaper today.

The carrier accompanied by three destroyer escorts, sailed into Sasebo port in southern Japan Thursday for a four-day stay.

Singapore Spy Case

Administration Officials Hope To Put It To Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials hope the five-year-old Singapore spy case can finally be put to rest without stirring further Asian animosity toward the United States.

There are two main reasons for this: Washingtons own handling of the incident and determination in some Asian quarters, not all of them Communist, to fan any flame that might burn Uncle Sam's hands.

Those hands, some Asian leaders maintain, have too long been busy in Asian affairs. And the Central Intelligence Agency, which operates generally with a velvet glove, does have a hand in Asia — as the Singapore incident showed the world to Washington's despair.

Curiously perhaps, Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew's decision to bring to life what officials hoped was a dead issue is not believed here to have been based on any new complaint against the CIA.

Rather, it is because he is trying to weaken Singapore's ties with the United States and strengthen those his new island nation has with Indonesia, Communist China and Russia that he set out to belittle Washington, according to the general view here.

Five years ago officials feared that if the incident became public it would damage seriously U.S. efforts to build friendly relations with Asian countries not already in the Communist camp.

That fear evidentaly lingers and now that Lee has blown the cover off what had been a highly private affair, officials are trying to hush things up as rapidly as possible.

The CIA has refused all comment on Lee's charges and therefore a haze still lingers over the incident. But, responsible accounts of what happens indicate:

A CIA group based in Bangkok, Thailand, developed the operation without checking with State Department or other non-CIA officials.

CIA men went to Singapore and tried to buy information from intelligence officials. They are said to have been interested particularly in Red Chinese labor activities.

While Lee has claimed a CIA man was caught red-handed trying to buy information from a Singapore official, it is understood at least two American agents were seized by Singapore police. One was released immediately. The other, it is understood, was held a few months.

Washington's first concern was to get the agent out of jail, then to avert an anti-American bombshell.

Britain, whose ties with Singapore remain strong to this day, is reported to have persuaded Lee to drop his threat to make the incident public.

When Lee changed his mind four days ago, and tossed in a charge he had been offered a $3 million bribe to remain quiet, the State Department checked with the CIA and issued a denial.

Lee angrily countered this Wednesday by releasing a 1961 letter of apology from Secretary of State Dean Rusk. And the State Department acknowledged the substantial accuracy of Lee's allegation.

There has been no acknowledgement of a bribe and officials cannot recall any evidence that one was offered Lee.

While the affair began toward the end of the Eisenhower administration, it was settled at the outset of the Kennedy administration.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you ever have a bad day? I would love to know just ONE other person who does. It would sure make me feel better.

NORTH SIDE.

Welcome to the club: You probably won't believe this, but here are the bad things that happened yesterday:

Daughter had a filling fall out of her front tooth. Can't get an appointment as the dentist is booked for months. She is on "cancellation appointment" because he has all her X-rays, etc.

Some sweet woman wrote a letter about a popcorn cake (with a popcorn ball recipe attached), and I got in the testing mood. I hadn't made popcorn balls for quite a spell. Also, she mentioned divinity candy! I haven't made that in 10 years!

Mother told me NEVER to make divinity when it was raining, as it wouldn't "set," but the sun was shining and it was a beautiful day.

I made some divinity. The recipe said "until the syrup is cracked," but nothing in the book defined "cracked." So I did what I thought should be done. I cooked the syrup until it was a "hard ball stage, and made the divinity, but it refused to thicken.

I COOKED more syrup for a longer period of time and added it to the divinity. The beater finally gave up its umph (I knew that the motor was pulling); tried to beat the candy by hand — no more energy!

Finally poured it in a platter. We ate it with spoons.

About the popcorn balls — now laugh at this! After all, we do print letters of laughter sometimes!

After making the syrup for the popcorn ball recipe (to test this woman's cake), I started to pop some popcorn, and the girls (neighbors) roared with laughter because the popcorn wouldn't pop, and the kernels burned! They said I probably had some old popcorn.

Oh, I forgot to tell you that I didn't have any corn syrup (which both recipes called for), and had borrowed a bottle from one of the gals — which made it worse when BOTH recipes flopped, and my whole three hours was wasted!

BESIDES THAT, the syrup popped out on the clean stove, which I had just spent an hour really deep cleaning (I didn't know that syrup would do this!) and I had to soak the grates again!

Yeah, I have days that flop, days that are wasted. These are the days when I want to give up! So I just laugh about it and keep on going.

I just warmed over some cold roast beef, made hot beef sandwiches, and came back to reading letters like yours.

Tomorrow the sun will rise again, and God will give us breath and renewed life.

So . . . don't give up, you doll. I didn't.

Bless you for asking. It makes me feel good to know that someone cares for me.

Love and understanding,
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This idea is for the Little Miss and her doll clothes:

My little girl uses two hooks at the back of a doll dresser for bulky things, like coats and robes.

B. M. P.

DEAR HELOISE: Last night I used nylon net to clean fresh mushrooms, and it worked wonders.

I simply held the mushroom caps under running water and rubbed with the nylon net.

It beats trying to peel them, and they were nice and clean when I finished.

GEORGIA ROBINSON.

Reunion Planned Saturday At Park

A reunion of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. McConnell will be held Saturday afternoon at Raccoon State Park.

The first family reunion since 1926, the gathering will reunite a sister, Mrs. C. Guy (Mary Kathryn) Meanor of Grants Pass, Ore., with those she has not seen for 37 years. Another sister, Mrs. J. H. (Iola) Sammons, also of Grants Pass, has not visited here since 1943.

Other sisters who will attend are Mrs. Fred (Thelma) Tustin of Burgettstown and Mrs. Fred (Pearl) Cain of Clinton. A sister-in-law, Mrs. James (Mildred) McConnell of Parker, Pa. also will attend.

Guests are to bring a covered-dish, with a buffet picnic lunch to be served at 4 p.m.

Ohio Tax Collections Take $8 Million Jump

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert says Ohio tax collections during the first two months of this fiscal year totaled more than $195 million, an increase of $8 million over last year.

Largest gains were in sales and use taxes, up $1.3 million, and gasoline taxes, up nearly $2 million.

Four Ex-Nazi Figures Given Life Sentences

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Four former Nazi functionaries at the Treblinka extermination camp were sentenced today to maximum terms of life imprisonment.

Five others were sentenced to terms ranging from 3 to 12 years. A 10th defendant was acquitted.

Rhodes OKs Bill Aimed At Luring Brewery To Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Thursday a measure aimed at attracting a $50 million brewery into central Ohio.

The measure permits on premises sale of beer and liquor, a feature requested by Anheuser - Busch Brewing Co. which has taken option on a tract of land in suburban Worthington.

Also signed by the governor was a $278 million capital improvements bill including funds for construction and expansion of state buildings and properties and education.

Another bill signed by the governor made technical corrections in an earlier measure reorganizing the state's welfare program.

The governor said he had not completed study of an omnibus municipal court bill. It creates new municipal courts in Fremont, Mason, Vermilion and Bowling Green and expands jurisdiction of several others.

Ohioan, Niece Drown In Lake In Michigan

KINGSTON, Mich. (AP) — Robert T. Kinney, 61, and his niece, Nell Stokes, 51, both of Cleveland, Ohio, drowned Thursday in a channel off nearby Shay Lake.

Tuscola County sheriff's officers said Miss Stokes had slipped off a bank as she tried to fill a bucket with water and Kinney jumped into the water to try to help her.

Monthly Report Given For Court

LISBON — Forty - three cases were disposed of in August by Common Pleas Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond S. Buzzard, according to a monthly judicial report.

The 43 cases included 16 in domestic relations and 27 in other civil matters. There were no criminal cases involved.

There were 87 cases filed during August — 38 in domestic relations, 42 other civil actions and seven criminal actions.

July figures showed 59 cases of all kinds disposed of, with 77 cases filed during that period.

Of the 43 August cases, 21 were settled or dismissed, 15 were tried by court and seven resulted in cognovit and default judgments. There were none tried by jury.

The figures were submitted by D. Kay Rudloff, deputy clerk.

1 Killed, 3 Injured In Head-On Collision

Patriotic Steeplejack Wanted In Ravenna

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Wanted: A patriotic steeplejack.

But Old Glory will come down next week. Officials will award a contract to have the 100-foot flagpole painted — and unstick the pulley at the same time.

Car Kills Girl, 10

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Jeanne Marie England, 10, of suburban Grove City, was killed near her home Thursday night when she stepped into the path of a car. The driver was not held.

Singapore Spy Case

Administration Officials Hope To Put It To Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials hope the five-year-old Singapore spy case can finally be put to rest without stirring further Asian animosity toward the United States.

But the hope rests on a shaky foundation.

There are two main reasons for this: Washingtons own handling of the incident and determination in some Asian quarters, not all of them Communist, to fan any flame that might burn Uncle Sam's hands.

Those hands, some Asian leaders maintain, have too long been busy in Asian affairs. And the Central Intelligence Agency, which operates generally with a velvet glove, does have a hand in Asia — as the Singapore incident showed the world to Washington's despair.

Curiously perhaps, Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew's decision to bring to life what officials hoped was a dead issue is not believed here to have been based on any new complaint against the CIA.

Rather, it is because he is trying to weaken Singapore's ties with the United States and strengthen those his new island nation has with Indonesia, Communist China and Russia that he set out to belittle Washington, according to the general view here.

Five years ago officials feared that if the incident became public it would damage seriously U.S. efforts to build friendly relations with Asian countries not already in the Communist camp.

That fear evidentaly lingers and now that Lee has blown the cover off what had been a highly private affair, officials are trying to hush things up as rapidly as possible.

The CIA has refused all comment on Lee's charges and therefore a haze still lingers over the incident. But, responsible accounts of what happens indicate:

A CIA group based in Bangkok, Thailand, developed the operation without checking with State Department or other non-CIA officials.

CIA men went to Singapore and tried to buy information from intelligence officials. They are said to have been interested particularly in Red Chinese labor activities.

While Lee has claimed a CIA man was caught red-handed trying to buy information from a Singapore official, it is understood at least two American agents were seized by Singapore police. One was released immediately. The other, it is understood, was held a few months.

Washington's first concern was to get the agent out of jail, then to avert an anti-American bombshell.

Britain, whose ties with Singapore remain strong to this day, is reported to have persuaded Lee to drop his threat to make the incident public.

When Lee changed his mind four days ago, and tossed in a charge he had been offered a $3 million bribe to remain quiet, the State Department checked with the CIA and issued a denial.

Lee angrily countered this Wednesday by releasing a 1961 letter of apology from Secretary of State Dean Rusk. And the State Department acknowledged the substantial accuracy of Lee's allegation.

There has been no acknowledgement of a bribe and officials cannot recall any evidence that one was offered Lee.

While the affair began toward the end of the Eisenhower administration, it was settled at the outset of the Kennedy administration.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you ever have a bad day? I would love to know just ONE other person who does. It would sure make me feel better.

NORTH SIDE.

Welcome to the club: You probably won't believe this, but here are the bad things that happened yesterday:

Daughter had a filling fall out of her front tooth. Can't get an appointment as the dentist is booked for months. She is on "cancellation appointment" because he has all her X-rays, etc.

Some sweet woman wrote a letter about a popcorn cake (with a popcorn ball recipe attached), and I got in the testing mood. I hadn't made popcorn balls for quite a spell. Also, she mentioned divinity candy! I haven't made that in 10 years!

Mother told me NEVER to make divinity when it was raining, as it wouldn't "set," but the sun was shining and it was a beautiful day.

I made some divinity. The recipe said "until the syrup is cracked," but nothing in the book defined "cracked." So I did what I thought should be done. I cooked the syrup until it was a "hard ball stage, and made the divinity, but it refused to thicken.

I COOKED more syrup for a longer period of time and added it to the divinity. The beater finally gave up its umph (I knew that the motor was pulling); tried to beat the candy by hand — no more energy!

Finally poured it in a platter. We ate it with spoons.

About the popcorn balls — now laugh at this! After all, we do print letters of laughter sometimes!

After making the syrup for the popcorn ball recipe (to test this woman's cake), I started to pop some popcorn, and the girls (neighbors) roared with laughter because the popcorn wouldn't pop, and the kernels burned! They said I probably had some old popcorn.

Oh, I forgot to tell you that I didn't have any corn syrup (which both recipes called for), and had borrowed a bottle from one of the gals — which made it worse when BOTH recipes flopped, and my whole three hours was wasted!

BESIDES THAT, the syrup popped out on the clean stove, which I had just spent an hour really deep cleaning (I didn't know that syrup would do this!) and I had to soak the grates again!

Yeah, I have days that flop, days that are wasted. These are the days when I want to give up! So I just laugh about it and keep on going.

I just warmed over some cold roast beef, made hot beef sandwiches, and came back to reading letters like yours.

Tomorrow the sun will rise again, and God will give us breath and renewed life.

So . . . don't give up, you doll. I didn't.

Bless you for asking. It makes me feel good to know that someone cares for me.

Love and understanding,

DEAR HELOISE: This idea is for the Little Miss and her doll clothes:

My little girl uses two hooks at the back of a doll dresser for bulky things, like coats and robes.

B. M. P.

DEAR HELOISE: Last night I used nylon net to clean fresh mushrooms, and it worked wonders.

I simply held the mushroom caps under running water and rubbed with the nylon net.

It beats trying to peel them, and they were nice and clean when I finished.

GEORGIA ROBINSON.

Reunion Planned Saturday At Park

A reunion of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. McConnell will be held Saturday afternoon at Raccoon State Park.

The first family reunion since 1926, the gathering will reunite a sister, Mrs. C. Guy (Mary Kathryn) Meanor of Grants Pass, Ore., with those she has not seen for 37 years. Another sister, Mrs. J. H. (Iola) Sammons, also of Grants Pass, has not visited here since 1943.

Other sisters who will attend are Mrs. Fred (Thelma) Tustin of Burgettstown and Mrs. Fred (Pearl) Cain of Clinton. A sister-in-law, Mrs. James (Mildred) McConnell of Parker, Pa. also will attend.

Guests are to bring a covered dish, with a buffet picnic lunch to be served at 4 p.m.

Ohio Tax Collections Take $8 Million Jump

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert says Ohio tax collections during the first two months of this fiscal year totaled more than $195 million, an increase of $8 million over last year.

Largest gains were in sales and use taxes, up $1.3 million, and gasoline taxes, up nearly $2 million.

Four Ex-Nazi Figures Given Life Sentences

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—Four former Nazi functionaries at the Treblinka extermination camp were sentenced today to maximum terms of life imprisonment.

Five others were sentenced to terms ranging from 3 to 12 years. A 10th defendant was acquitted.

Rhodes OKs Bill Aimed At Luring Brewery To Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Thursday a measure aimed at attracting a $50 million brewery into central Ohio.

The measure permits on premises sale of beer and liquor, a feature requested by Anheuser - Busch Brewing Co. which has taken option on a tract of land in suburban Worthington.

Also signed by the governor was a $278 million capital improvements bill including funds for construction and expansion of state buildings and properties and education.

Another bill signed by the governor made technical corrections in an earlier measure reorganizing the state's welfare program.

The governor said he had not completed study of an omnibus municipal court bill. It creates new municipal courts in Fremont, Mason, Vermilion and Bowling Green and expands jurisdiction of several others.

Ohioan, Niece Drown In Lake In Michigan

KINGSTON, Mich. (AP) — Robert T. Kinney, 61, and his niece, Nell Stokes, 51, both of Cleveland, Ohio, drowned Thursday in a channel off nearby Shay Lake.

Tuscola County sheriff's officers said Miss Stokes had slipped off a bank as she tried to fill a bucket with water and Kinney jumped into the water to try to help her.

Monthly Report Given For Court

LISBON — Forty - three cases were disposed of in August by Common Pleas Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond S. Buzzard, according to a monthly judicial report.

The 43 cases included 16 in domestic relations and 27 in other civil matters. There were no criminal cases involved.

There were 87 cases filed during August — 38 in domestic relations, 42 other civil actions and seven criminal actions.

July figures showed 59 cases of all kinds disposed of, with 77 cases filed during that period.

Of the 43 August cases, 21 were settled or dismissed, 15 were tried by court and seven resulted in cognovit and default judgments. There were none tried by jury.

The figures were submitted by D. Kay Rudloff, deputy clerk.

Patriotic Steeplejack Wanted In Ravenna

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Wanted: A patriotic steeplejack.

Somebody at the courthouse ran the flag up the pole two weeks ago and couldn't get it down at sunset because of a defective pulley.

27 GOOD THINGS TO EAT

27 GOOD THINGS TO EAT 27 GOOD THINGS TO EAT

NOW THERE IS A TOTALLY NEW WAY TO PURCHASE YOUR FAMILY'S FOOD

PUT A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR HOME

Town and Country Food Service lets you shop tomorrow's way today! Few would have dreamed, a few short years ago, that food retailing techniques could advance beyond the modern supermarket, with its speedy self - service and mass volume prices.

Yet Town and Country has made such an advance — by bringing the supermarket to your home. And economists predict that this is the wave of the future.

What Town and Country service means to you. Imagine having a freezer full of guaranteed quality meats, fruits, and vegetables always at your fingertips! Imagine treating your family to U.S. Choice steaks, chops, roasts, more often; serving favorite fruits and vegetables out of season; planning exciting meals each day . . . without setting foot outside your door!

That's the unique promise of the Town and Country Distributor Food Service in your community. Town and Country supplies food in bulk, at quantity savings, along with a deluxe family-size commercial grade freezes. Already have a freezer? We'll stock it for you — and you pay even less. You order only the foods you want, delivered three or four times a year in Lo-Temp trucks from strategically located warehouses.

Now you do months of marketing in minutes! No more wearying waits in long check-out lines. No more fighting weather, towing children, struggling with heavy bundles. Town and Country puts more hours in your day for family, friends, community work — and the hundreds of things you'd rather do than market.

Now you feed your family guaranteed quality foods. All meats are government inspected U.S. Choice (the very cuts you'd choose yourself) trimmed of waste, properly aged to the peak of tenderness, then flash-frozen to seal in natural juices. All fruits and vegetables are whisked to the freezer plant within two hours of picking to insure garden freshness. And Town and Country guarantees every morsel!

Now you are always meals ahead! Humdrum menus are out. With a vast variety of foods to choose from, you'll never again worry about "what to have for dinner" — even when unexpected guests drop in.

27 GOOD THINGS TO EAT

PUT A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR HOME

Town and Country Food Service lets you shop tomorrow's way today! Few would have dreamed, a few short years ago, that food retailing techniques could advance beyond the modern supermarket, with its speedy self - service and mass volume prices.

Yet Town and Country has made such an advance — by bringing the supermarket to your home. And economists predict that this is the wave of the future.

What Town and Country service means to you. Imagine having a freezer full of guaranteed quality meats, fruits, and vegetables always at your fingertips! Imagine treating your family to U.S. Choice steaks, chops, roasts, more often; serving favorite fruits and vegetables out of season; planning exciting meals each day . . . without setting foot outside your door!

That's the unique promise of the Town and Country Distributor Food Service in your community. Town and Country supplies food in bulk, at quantity savings, along with a deluxe family-size commercial grade freezes. Already have a freezer? We'll stock it for you — and you pay even less. You order only the foods you want, delivered three or four times a year in Lo-Temp trucks from strategically located warehouses.

Now you do months of marketing in minutes! No more wearying waits in long check-out lines. No more fighting weather, towing children, struggling with heavy bundles. Town and Country puts more hours in your day for family, friends, community work — and the hundreds of things you'd rather do than market.

Now you feed your family guaranteed quality foods. All meats are government inspected U.S. Choice (the very cuts you'd choose yourself) trimmed of waste, properly aged to the peak of tenderness, then flash-frozen to seal in natural juices. All fruits and vegetables are whisked to the freezer plant within two hours of picking to insure garden freshness. And Town and Country guarantees every morsel!

Now you are always meals ahead! Humdrum menus are out. With a vast variety of foods to choose from, you'll never again worry about "what to have for dinner" — even when unexpected guests drop in.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean white satin shoes?

A. — One of the handiest ways to do this is to rub the shoes with a soft art - gum eraser. If they're too soiled to respond to this, try rubbing them with a soft cloth dipped in vinegar, and then with a cloth dipped in carbon tetrachloride. Or, put a few drops of lemon juice in some uncolored alcohol, and apply with a cloth.

Q. — How can I improvise a solder for mending a leak in a sprinkling can or other such article?

A. — Yellow soap pressed firmly into a leak will usually prove a good temporary substitute solder.

Q. — How can I remove rust stains from white washablse?

A. — First cover the stains with cream of tartar, then gather up the ends of the article so that the powder stays on the spot as though it were in the bottom of a sack, and dip the whole thing into hot water for about five minutes. Ordinary laundering should complete the job.

Q. — How can I clean pearl handles on articles?

A. — By rubbing vigorously with salt. Then the luster will be restored by wiping with a chamois.

Q. — How can I mend broken chinaware?

A. — Try a cement made by mixing plaster - of - paris with the white of egg until it is creamy, applying this as you would any commercial cement.

Q. — How can I clean off smoked - up areas on a brick or stone fireplace?

A. — Cover with a paste made of concentrated ammonia and powdered pumice, letting this remain for about two hours, then scrubbing off with hot water and soap.

Junior Editors Quiz on JET STREAM

QUESTION: Does the jet stream hamper airplane pilots or help them?

ANSWER: Some winds blow in certain places and are called local. But other winds, called general, blow like great currents around the earth and are caused by the unequal heating of Earth's atmosphere by the sun and the fact of the earth's revolution. The jet stream is a remarkable general wind which circulates high above the ordinary wind and flows around the earth in a narraw band, in a general direction of from west to east. High in the air, the jet stream blows about 100 to 120 miles an hour, but at times may reach much higher speeds.

Little was known about this high, fast-moving river of air until the second world war. At that time, American airplanes flew high to bomb Japanese targets and found that sometimes they were almost standing still. They were bucking the jet stream, which came from the west. Soon the facts about this band of moving air were discovered and their importance realized. If an eastbound airliner can fly up to the stream — as when crossing from Japan to Hawaii or the west coast of America—so much added speed may be given to the plane that its flying time may be cut almost in half.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if your library or encyclopedia can aid you in finding out some more about the jet stream, especially what parts of the earth it flows over and how high up it is.

Lyle Benedict of Bremerton, Wash., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
